Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 21 [To the Editor of The Times:] All I know is just what I read in want ads. I see where they say Wall street is coming back. Yep, coming back for more. They figure people about had time to save up another little dab. That's one good thing about the rascals though, they always give you warning when they are coming. There ought to be some way figured out just what it takes to support that whole gang (in the manner in which they are accustomed) then charge everybody in the United States so much and deduct it from their salary. That would eliminate all speculation and everybody would know just where they stood.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Failure of Former Waiter for $56,000,000 Brings Chamber Crisis

Opposition Employs Scandal in Effort to Upset Government

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times

PARIS, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—With skill amounting to parliamentary genius, Premier Tardieu today extricated himself safely from by far the most difficult of those successive crises which have been planned for his undoing by the opposition. He succeeded in that most difficult operation which is known in France as drowning the fish.

Last night M. Tardieu was faced with a demand by the standing committee of the Chamber of Deputies for the appointment of a committee of inquiry into the intermixture of politics with finance as revealed by the collapse of the ex-waiter financier, Albert Oustric, with a loss of more than $56,000,000. His own party stood for the appointment of this committee, but his newly appointed Minister of Justice, Henry Cheron, was opposed to it. He had to find a way of satisfying the demand of the public and above all of the opposition for a full inquiry and at the same time avoiding interference by that inquiry with the normal legal procedure and investigation which is

VICE LORDS RULE CITY

New York Under Tribute

Industries of Metropolis Live by Paying Toll to Racketeers

Vigilantes Formed to Fight Robber Barons' Grasp by District Attorney

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (Exclusive) Racketeers controlling the railroad and steamship terminals in New York collect millions yearly in tribute by "shaking down" shippers at the rate of 3 cents on every 100 pounds of merchandise transported into or out of New York City.

This information has come into the hands of Dist.-Atty. Crain, who is forming a committee of public safety, to drive racketeering from the city, and he gave it out to the public this afternoon.

ONLY ONE RESISTS

Virtually every railroad and steamship company operating out of New York has been affected by the piracy of the racketeers, Mr. Crain said, but so far only one has been able to make progress in protecting its shippers. The names of the companies were not revealed.

The way in which the system works, as described by the District Attorney, is something like this:

The racketeers intimidate the truck drivers at the piers and railroad terminals where freighters, barges or freight cars are unloaded and the shippers must pay the tribute in order to have their freight handled.

Most of the merchants, according to Mr. Crain, have abandoned attempts to fight the system and now have entered into arrangements whereby the racketeers are paid their money through the drivers of the trucks handing the shipments.

This information has poured into Mr. Crain's office in letters, some signed and some anonymous, from merchants, shippers and others who have been victimized by the racketeers.

The laundry business, the cleaning and dyeing trades, the miniature-golf business, chauffeurs, florists, funeral directors, the milk and food dealers of all kinds, and virtually every form of small tradesman are paying toll to the racketeers, Mr. Crain said.

The letters which the District Attorney asserts he has received are astounding. The contents of some of them, he states, would be unbelievable if he lacked the evidence in black and white under his eyes. Business man after business man, writing upon their own letterheads, using their own names, offer case after case and instance after instance of blackmail.

LIKE MIDDLE AGES

They offer, says Judge Crain, a circumstantial story of how they have been mulcted under threat of sabotage or even death. There is scarcely a trade, vocation or industrial commercial activity in New York which has not been seized upon by the racketeers and placed under tribute. The tales told by the merchants, manufacturers and small tradesmen who have laid their troubles under the eye of the District Attorney would make the performances of the robber barons of the Middle Ages seem trivial.

An offer of Federal assistance in driving out the New York racketeers was made today to Dist.-Atty. Crain and the committee of public safety he is going to form. The offer came from Howard W. Ameli, United States Attorney for Eastern New York, which includes Brooklyn and Long Island.

FEDERAL AID SOUGHT IN RACKETEER WAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Congressional action against interState machinations of the lawless will be sought next month by Representative Woodruff of Michigan.

He intends to demand legislation specifically authorizing Federal agencies to concentrate against what he termed the alarming spread of "racketeering."

"When Al Capone can go from Chicago to California, as the papers have it, and threaten the life of a man who is selling grape juice, something must be done," he said.

HOOVER HITS DEBT PLAN

Funds Juggling Disapproved

President Issues Statement on Continuation of Tax Cut for Another Year

He Declares Law Changes on Retirement Would Not Be Sound Financing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—President Hoover does not approve of proposals to change the laws for retirement of the public debt to enable a continuation of the 1 per cent tax reduction for another year.

He made his position clear today in a statement saying "the administration is opposed to any encroachment upon the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

The President said, however, funds from foreign debt payments, and surpluses, amounting to more than $500,000,000 yearly over and above statutory provisions, have been allocated to debt retirement. These excess sums, he said, would be available for use without any change in the laws.

MAY BE DEFICIT

From the present outlook there will be a deficit instead of a surplus in government funds this year.

Senators Watson of Indiana, Smoot of Utah and Fess of Ohio, administration leaders, have not only said they are opposed to any change in sinking fund requirements, but in view of the prospective deficit are against any continuation of the tax reduction.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, has advocated a change in the sinking fund laws to allow the release of some of the money that is applied yearly on the debt. Payment to the sinking fund now amounts to more than $430,000,000 each year.

HOOVER STATEMENT

The President, however, maintained it is sound government policy to adhere to the sinking fund provisions.

The statement follows:

"The administration is opposed to any encroachment on the statutory provisions for retirement of the public debt. The sinking fund now amounts to something over $430,000,000 a year.

"Hitherto we have allocated various funds, such as surplus of foreign debt payments, to retirement over and above the statutory provisions, which excess sums would, of course, be available for current use without encroachment upon the statutory requirements. It is sound government finance to hold to the sinking fund provisions of the public debt."

AHEAD OF PROVISIONS

It has been pointed out the public debt, which at its peak was approximately $26,000,000,000, has been reduced to $16,000,000,000 since 1920 and the government was far ahead of the statutory sinking fund requirements.

The Treasury yesterday let it be known it will not suggest suspension of the sinking fund to Congress, believing that there is not sufficient cause for such action.

Mellon Takes Wife to Europe

TRAIN PASSENGERS DROWN

Locomotive and Two Cars of Paris Express Plunge Into River Loire and None Escape

NANTES (France) Nov. 21. (AP)—The locomotive and first two cars of the Paris-St. Nazaire Express were derailed tonight near Ancenis, falling into the River Loire and drowning most of the passengers in the cars. The engineer and fireman were trapped in their cabin and died along with the passengers in the two coaches. The other cars of the train were not damaged.

The exact number of victims is not easy to determine, but as far as can be learned no Americans were on the derailed coaches.

The accident was due to the sinking of the track following a heavy rain and the infiltrations of the river.

A switchman noticed the condition of the track and dashed forward to halt the train, waving his lantern frenziedly. He was crushed by the rushing locomotive, which left the rails and shot into the river.

The first two coaches turned over and then swept into the water.

Most of the passengers, surprised or injured in the crash, were unable to extricate themselves before the cars slipped entirely down the bank into the water and were soon submerged.

The tragedy occurred at 10:15 o'clock tonight. As soon as the word reached this city, twelve miles away, ambulances and taxicabs rushed to the scene.

NARCOTICS UNIT HEADS FOR COAST

Special Group Organized to Combat Smuggling on Western Boundaries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—A special squad of expert narcotic agents has been organized to combat smuggling on the Pacific Coast.

The Customs Bureau, announcing the plan today, said the squad is headed by Melvin L. Hanks, crack agent who carried on the successful Lau Lee opium case in Honolulu.

He will have headquarters in San Francisco with agents in Seattle, Portland, San Diego and Los Angeles.

Government agents have found much smuggling along the west coast and across the borders from Mexico and Canada, the narcotics being brought in by individuals and organized gangs.

World's Tallest Building Ends Flight to Sky

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Hidden in fog, steel workers toiled unseen all day atop the Empire State Building to put in place the last piece of a 200-foot mooring mast for dirigibles, 1284 feet above Fifth avenue. This is higher than workmen ever have reared a building before.

Tonight a flag floated at a height which would be 102 stories if translated into loft floors, and the steel work, including eighty-five office floors of the building, is finished. Machinery for mooring the dirigible will fill the upper twenty-five feet of the mast.

Kilauea Volcano Continues Flow

HILO (Hawaii) Nov. 21. (AP)—Howard Powers, member of the volcano observatory staff on Kilauea, reported today that activity in Halemaumau, the fire pit of the volcano, continues uninterrupted with a large fountain erupting in the center.

He estimated 5,500,000 tons of lava had erupted since Kilauea again became active last Wednesday.

Bashful Juror Quits in Face of Lurid Tale

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (Exclusive) Religious scruples caused a bashful juror to quit in the face of lurid testimony today when John A. Hoagland, wealthy middle-aged baking powder magnate, gave his version of a jaunt to Atlantic City with Miss Beulah G. Troy, 26-year-old ex-Vanities dancer. She asks $250,000 for a beating she charges he inflicted upon her in a taxicab there.

For a moment it seemed that the trial would be set back three days, but a conference of opposing counsel with Supreme Court Justice Cotillo produced an agreement to proceed with the remaining eleven shock-proof talesmen.

After Edwin S. Manheim, the objecting juror, had left the courtroom, Hoagland proceeded with his testimony denying the dancer's charges.

Wreck of Ship Lost Weeks Ago Believed Sighted

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Wreckage of the lumber schooner South Coast, which disappeared with a crew of nineteen officers and men September 16, last, after clearing from Crescent City for San Francisco, is believed to have been sighted by the American-Hawaiian freighter Columbian about fourteen miles south of Point Arena.

Capt. W. McAvery advised the Federal division hydrographic office by radio today that wreckage of a small schooner was sighted at that point about 8 o'clock last night.

The South Coast is the only missing and unaccounted vessel on Pacific Coast records at this time, tending to the belief the wreckage is of that ship.

FLYER HURT IN CRACK-UP AT PANAMA

Capt. Ammel's Plane Hits Water Hole and Breaks in Pieces on Field

PANAMA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Capt. Roy W. Ammel, broker and veteran flyer of Chicago, was injured today in an attempt to take off at Colon on a nonstop flight to the Illinois metropolis.

The accident occured when Capt. Ammel was attempting to lift the heavily loaded Blue Flash which recently carried him on a nonstop jump from New York to the Isthmus. He roared down the runway for 500 yards and then struck a water hole with the ship nosing into the ground and breaking into three parts.

Capt. Ammel was unconscious when first removed, but as he was lifted aboard an army transport ship for the trip to Gorgas Hospital, he asked for and smoked a cigarette, although in great pain.

The transport sped him to Paitilla airport here and he immediately was transferred to an ambulance for a rush trip to a hospital.

The flyer originally intended to start for his home city yesterday, but before final preparations were made discovered a leak in the gasoline line. A double crew of mechanics from France Field, the army post, worked until nearly 2 o'clock this morning to reassemble the plane after virtually taking it to pieces to find a four-inch break in a seam of the line.

The New York-Panama flight is believed to have been responsible for it.

Tax Refund to Andrew Mellon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—A refund of $72,735 to Secretary Mellon on overassessment in income tax in 1926 was announced today by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The announcement said the refund was due to duplication of income, shift of income and contributions.

The bureau allowed the Secretary an additional deduction of $525.26 for contributions made during the year to two associations.

ICY FURIES RAGE ANEW

Midwest Again in Chill Grip

Frigid Blasts Lash Chicago and Fresh Blizzard Hits Colorado and Dakotas

Traffic Halted, Wires Down and Rural Areas Isolated; Four Bodies Found

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive) Chilly waves from the blizzard and cold spell that has held western and northwestern States in icy grip for three days, swept into Chicago territory today.

The blizzard headed in this direction two days ago was diverted in the Dakotas and Colorado and turned back into Canada, where it seems to be gathering strength for a fresh onslaught. A fierce northwest gale prevailed over Saskatchewan and Manitoba today and still is in progress. It is accompanied by heavy snow. This has blocked all country roads and in the cities great drifts have piled up in the streets, crippling or stopping entirely all transportation service. The tempest is breaking down miles of telegraph and telephones poles and wires, and live stock is suffering severely.

HUNDREDS MAROONED

Colorado and the Dakotas have been digging themselves out of snow drifts for three days, but this evening heavy snow, accompanied by high winds, undid all the work. A marked drop in temperature added to the discomfort of hundreds of tourists marooned in the Rocky Mountain area. Train traffic was seriously impeded and abandoned in some instances. Trains that are continuing the battle are running several hours late. Rural and mining communities are isolated and thousands of cattle are buried in the snow. Near Hugo, Colo., snowdrifts covered the Union Pacific tracks to a depth of twenty feet. An eastbound train, carrying many tourists, last night was reported snowbound west of Sharon Springs, Kan. The passengers and the train crew managed to beat a path to a farm house and obtained a limited supply of food.

TRAINS DELAYED

Santa Fe trains have experienced great difficulty in the vicinity of Trinidad, Colo., where the snowfall was unusually heavy. Sleet and high winds tore down telegraph and telephone wires and the heavy, wet snow, which quickly froze, tied up the switching blocks.

The storm was sweeping eastward today and tonight. Special dispatches from Iowa points say scores of linemen are hastening through that State to South Dakota, where many towns are entirely isolated, except for radio communication. Communication and power lines were wrecked by Wednesday's storm. Miles of wire are down and the roadways are blocked by great snowdrifts. Eastern Iowa, Northeast Nebraska and Southwest Minnesota had heavy rainfall instead of snow, breaking a long drought. Indications tonight, however, are that snow will follow the high winds and lowering temperature.

Dispatches from various points account for several persons who perished in the storm and many others are missing, presumably lost or marooned in some remote place, shut off from all communication.

BODIES RECOVERED

The bodies of four victims have been recovered in Colorado and New Mexico. The body of a 50-year-old man sighted by a motorist near Lamar, Colo., and taken to a morgue by Sheriff's officers was identified as that of Howard Rhodes, owner of the King Reservoir Ranch, twelve miles north of Lamar. Rhodes was rounding up his cattle when the storm caught him late Wednesday. His saddled horse was frozen a mile from the body.

Buried under three feet of snow, the body of John Evans, 80, Black Forest rancher, was found by searchers a quarter of a mile from his house. The Black Forest is near Colorado Springs. In New Mexico, near Gallup, a searching party found the body of Moses Salsgrom, a Laguna Indian, who had frozen to death.

Rising temperatures melting away deep snows in New Mexico, revealed the body of Guy Miner, Des Moines

MRS. HOOVER LAUDS SCOUTS

First Lady at New York Dinner Makes Plea for More Leaders for Organization

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover tonight made a plea for more leaders for the project which is said to be nearest her heart—the Girl Scouts.

"It is such fun to work and play with them," she said in an address at a dinner given in her honor at the Hotel Biltmore to celebrate the federation of the Scouts of the five boroughs of New York City into one group.

"One of the finest things about Girl Scouts—and Boy Scouts, too—is that the organizations give girls and boys an opportunity to make friends with their elders. Young people often miss so much by not having friends among the older generation."

More than 300 men and women, many of them prominent in the social and civic life of New York, attended the dinner and a large group of Girl Scouts in uniforms sang choruses.

Wearing a plum-colored suit trimmed with gray fur, Mrs. Hoover arrived in New York early in the forenoon. She first paid a call on Suzanne Silvercrys, a sculptress, who in private life is Mrs. Henry W. Farnham.

After several conferences at the Colony Club and the Hotel Biltmore, Mrs. Hoover attended a buffet luncheon at Girl Scout headquarters. She then paid a visit to the Engineering Women's Club.

Mrs. Robert G. Mead, president of the New York Girl Scouts Federation, and Mrs. F. Louis Slade, State president of the League of Women Voters, were the principal speakers at the dinner tonight.

CIVIL AVIATION STRIDES CITED

Year's Progress in Nation Summarized by Young

Recital of Transport Lines' Gains Features Report

Manufacturers' Endeavors to Meet Demands Told.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—The year's progress in civil aeronautics has been marked particularly by continued development of scheduled air transportation of mail, passengers and express; according to the annual report of Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce for aeronautics, to the Secretary of Commerce made public today.

The passenger air transport lines are constantly attracting that large group of people who could travel by air, but for one reason or another have elected to remain with surface transportation, the report states.

"Those air lines that render a service clearly advantageous in time over other means of travel or which advantageously augment surface transportation are doing a substantial business and the tendency points to continued increase."

MANUFACTURING ADVANCE

Although progress in the manufacture and sale of aircraft for miscellaneous use did not continue as rapidly in the last six or eight months of the fiscal year ended June 30, last, as during the fore part of the year, this is not regarded as being necessarily discouraging.

"Manufacturers of aircraft," the report says, "who are just as skilled in the principles of business economics as they are in designing, constructing and flying aircraft, are paying strict attention to the needs and desires of an intelligent and discriminating aircraft market. They are making every effort to design and produce aircraft which their experiences and studies have indicated are what the public wants. At the same time they are projecting plans continually on new developments, new designs and new features in an effort to keep in the van of public desire."

Scheduled air transport operators flew 25,141,499 miles in the calendar year 1929, carried 173,405 passengers, 1,366,879 pounds of express and 7,772,104 pounds of mail. They received payments for transportation of air mail totaling $17,042,520.71.

DEPARTMENT SHOWING

Under its program of airways development the aeronautics branch during the last fiscal year lighted 3221 miles of airways, established and lighted fifty-six intermediate landing fields and installed and operated 218 standard revolving beacon lights for the guidance of airmen after dark, the report says. Five thousand six hundred and fifty miles of airways were equipped with automatic telegraph-typewriter circuits which collect and disseminate weather information along the airways and thirteen radio broadcast stations were placed in operation for the broadcast of this weather information to planes in flight at regular intervals both day and night. Two radio range beacons, which guide pilots along the airways by means of radio signals, also were placed in operation.

At the close of the fiscal year there were 13,500 miles of lighted airways in operation with 319 intermediate fields, 1477 airway beacons, 203 airway weather reporting stations, thirty-five airway radio communications stations and nine radio range beacons. Twenty-seven more radio range beacons were practically completed but were not in service operation. In addition, there were under contract with the work of installation in various stages of completion 1728 miles of airways on which are being established thirty-six intermediate fields and 233 airway beacon lights.

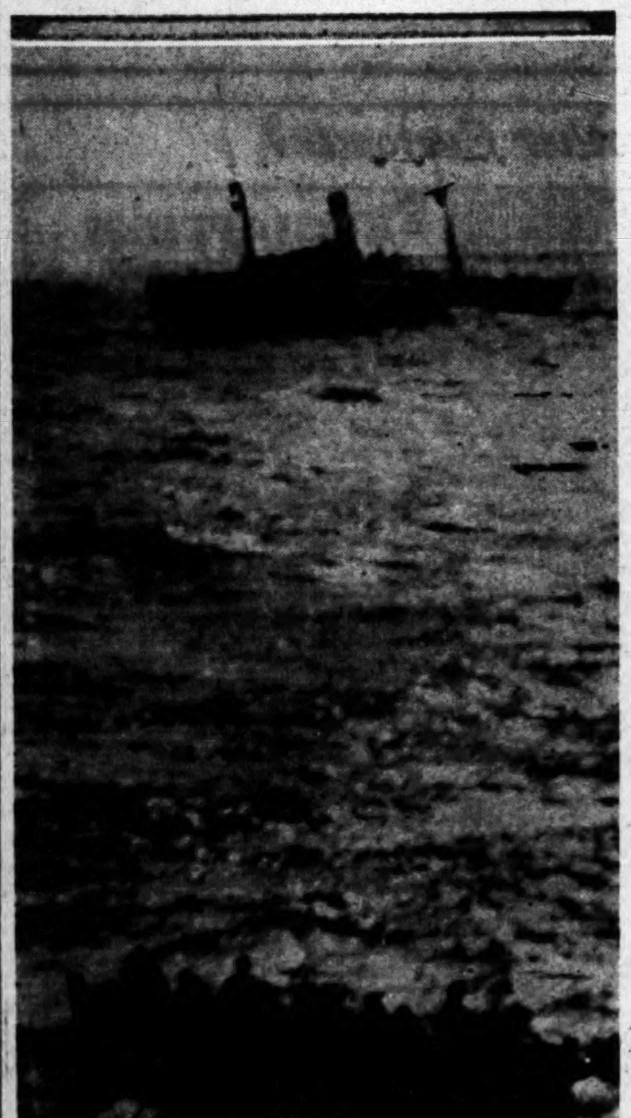
TWENTY-EIGHT CHEAT SEA DEATH

Captain, Wife, Cat and Crew All Saved



[A. P. telephoto]

How Liner Came to Rescue of Freighter

This view of the sinking freighter Ovidia and its crew leaving it in lifeboats was brought to New York yesterday by the Mauretania, which rescued the twenty-eight who were aboard the ship.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Back from the sea saved from a watery death today came Capt. Axel Carlsson, his wife and cat and his crew of twenty-six from the little Swedish freighter Ovidia.

Three hundred miles off Newfoundland Wednesday afternoon, Capt. Carlsson said good-by to the little ship awash with a hole in her bottom, which he had commanded two years, calmly rowed to the towering side of the Cunard liner Mauretania and climbed a rope ladder forty-five feet to her deck.

"His heart was broken," Capt. S. G. S. McNeil, skipper of the Mauretania, said today of Carlsson in describing the scene.

Full-bodied, six feet of man, Capt. Carlsson recounted in English broken only by a bit of Swedish accent the loss of the Ovidia.

Her cargo of pitch pine shifted Tuesday probably weakening her hull. That night a heavy sea hit her. She heeled over and sprang a leak. Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock Carlsson gave up the unequal fight and at 2:16 o'clock he was on the Mauretania's bridge looking upon his ship for the last time.

No heroics from Capt. Carlsson. He was sad, yet grateful, too. He asked the press to give his thanks to the Mauretania's captain, her officers and to the passengers who contributed $500 for himself and his men. He has been at sea too many of his forty-eight years to believe that cursing fate does any good.

plenary session just ended. Picturesque eastern potentates have declared no power on earth could sever their ties with their British King, and then within 100 feet of the throne where King George sits in state they have declared themselves republicans.

The despairing cry of India's "untouchables" has been raised; Indian womanhood has spoken and with a unanimity which has surprised and largely gratified the British delegation, India's appeal has been for a Federal government.

Just before Premier MacDonald spoke today, the last of thirty-two speakers in the plenary session, the Aga Khan, head of India's Moslems, summed up the case for his country and declared the one point of unanimity among all creeds and castes was on the plea for a full measure of self-government.

TESTIMONY AT END IN ARCHDUKE'S TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Testimony in the trial of Archduke Leopold of Austria, charged with having connived in an illegal sale of the Napoleon necklace, one of his family's heirlooms, ended today. The case will go to the jury Monday. As the State concluded its testimony Leopold's counsel asked dismissal of the indictments, which charged grand larceny, conspiracy and receiving stolen property. The court denied the motion.

KIDNAPERS CALL TWICE ON VICTIM

Bay City Man Forced to Pay $7000 Keeps Silent Till They Come for More

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—His lips sealed for four months by death threats, Paul Marion, a fruit packer, tonight told of being kidnaped, beaten and forced to pay $7000 tribute to his abductors.

The two men forced their way into his home July 8, the packer told police. They posed as prohibition agents, he said, and kidnaped him at the point of their guns. He was taken to Redwood City, beaten with black jacks and told he would be killed if he did not pay ransom to the gunmen.

The following day, Marion recounted, he was driven to the French Bank in San Francisco, where he had $11,000 in savings. With a gun pressed against his back, he said, he was forced to withdraw $7000 and turn it over to the robbers.

Fearing their threats of death, Marion kept the story to himself until they returned to his San Francisco home yesterday. Terror stricken, he fled from the house. Learning his fear, neighbors induced him to ask police aid.

He returned to his shabbily furnished home tonight murmuring, "They'll come back until they get all the money I have."

Guard Placed at Home of Fruit Industries Head

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Despite denials of activities of racketeers toward prospective nation-wide sale of grape-juice concentrate, a Fruit Industries, Ltd., product developed from the California grape surplus, it became known today the Hillsborough home of Donald D. Conn, managing director of Fruit Industries and California Vineyardists' Association, has been placed under police guard and a warning siren has been mounted on his home. Conn has admitted receiving anonymous threatening letters.

Both he and Chief of Police Hershey of Hillsborough, minimize the seriousness of the situation, but said they felt it best to take precautionary measures.

New Liner Will Meet Challenge

LONDON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Specifications for a 73,000-ton liner which will challenge the Germans for supremacy in North Atlantic traffic were revealed today by W. R. Smith, Parliamentary secretary of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Smith addressed the House of Commons in behalf of the Cunard insurance bill and told of the projected liner.

The vessel, he said, will be 1018 feet long and will cost approximately $22,500,000.

The insurance bill would grant the government power to underwrite about half the insurance on the ship, leaving the balance to Lloyds's group of insurance companies.

WILBUR POINTS PATH FOR CHILD

White House Parley Hears Secretary's Opinions

Scientific Training to Cope With Science Urged

Conference Declares Truce in Jurisdiction Fray

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur tonight counseled the delegates to the White House conference on child health and protection to help lead America's children along the ways of science that in the end they may be able to cope with science itself.

All rifts buried for the time being beneath a pyramiding succession of developments, the Secretary as chairman of the conference described the two aspects of the conference as:

"To make your facts and findings a true harvest of science and experience.

"To develop the means of putting all we have brought together to work for the good of children."

COMPOSITE PICTURE

"Since a child is growing or developing all the time, not just when he is at home or in the schoolroom," he said, "we must think in terms of playmates, radios, motion pictures, gangs, books and magazines, both good and bad, and all that the child sees in environment, as a part of his training process. We have a foul nest to clean out in our vulgar, degraded marginal magazines, and need to bring drama and comedy back to serve again in the uplift instead of the degradation of our civilization."

Secretary Wilbur spoke at the first general session of a day that had been spent by most of the delegates in open and round-table discussions of child education and training.

DISPUTE RENEWED

Another section, however, witnessed a renewal of the dispute which it had seen yesterday over a committee recommendation for the removal from the Children's Bureau to the Public Health Service of child-health activities.

Representatives of the American Federation of Labor joined in opposing the proposed transfer. Surgeon-General Cumming of the Public Health Service, presiding, received other protests, and as he announced no vote will be taken, a demand was made that controversial recommendations be withdrawn from the report since only those in which there exists no dispute can be voted on.

The whole conference gathered tonight to hear Secretary Wilbur and Martha Van Rensselaer, director of the college of home economics at Cornell University. She discussed adult education.

PURPOSES OUTLINED

Dr. Wilbur outlined the purposes of the conference as:

"The problem of how to steady our children against the high-power impact of new forces which have developed in our modern civilization.

"Of how to protect them physically and mentally to the utmost of our abilities and with the widest possible application of scientific knowledge.

"To extend and strengthen those community forces which stand to the child in the place of many of the earlier responsibilities of home and parents.

"To evaluate our school curricula in the light of rapid changes in our social scheme, expanding their functions at those points where the modern home is no longer equipped to train children.

OTHER AIMS LISTED

"At the other end of the line to find ways and means to strengthen the hands of parents through education, as rapidly as possible equipping them with new knowledge concerning children as it develops.

"To discover the machinery by which the benefits of preventive medicine and sanitation, of community social and cultural agencies can be extended to all children—in the country as well as the city—which too often now are enjoyed by the privileged few.

"And in the midst of our crowding eagerness to help lift our children to higher levels, to guard them against our own overzealous programing—to leave to them sufficiently wide margins of free time and free space for the great and joyous adventure of growing up as personalities operating under their own motive power."

DISPUTE BREAKS OUT

The children's bureau dispute broke out in another quarter late in the day when the section discussing the problems of handicapped children resolved unanimously to inform the central procedure committee it favors continuation of the health work by the children's bureau.

The section also adopted resolutions favoring re-enactment of the Sheppard-Towner Maternity Act, with administration by the children's bureau and the Federal Board of Maternity and Infant Hygiene.

Previously, the public health section and the procedure committee had been the principal divisions of the conference before which the controversy had been aired.

Bushwhacking Laid to Enemies of Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Charges that antiprohibitionists are conducting a "bushwhacking campaign" to impair enforcement, and that current sales of grape concentrates to be made into wine are "dangerous to prohibition," came today from the Methodist Board of Temperance.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, told newspaper men he believes the wine problem may demonstrate "the need of another amendment to the Volstead Act."

The assertions of "bushwhacking" and the "spending of hundreds of thousands of dollars for antiprohibition propaganda" were contained in an editorial in the board's weekly clip-sheet.

TARDIEU SKILL AVERTS CRISIS

being pushed forward by M. Cheron, who had accepted the office of Minister of Justice for just this purpose of extracting the whole truth about M. Oustric's manipulations.

SESSION VIOLENT

Yesterday the chamber was in a state of feverish excitement. Only M. Tardieu seemed really to be keeping his head, and today the results of his coolness were made apparent. During the discussion the session had to be suspended, so violent and prolonged was the din provoked as, for instance, when Edouard Daladier declared that in the past two weeks the names of thirty-two members of the House, including those of several members of the government, had been mentioned as having bnefited one way or another in M. Oustric's brief days of wealth and power.

Everybody wanted the truth and the whole truth. M. Cheron wanted it as Minister of Justice. The government's majority wanted it so as to prove the entire innocence of all members of the government. The opposition wanted it for quite other reasons.

Only M. Tardieu recalled that these parliamentary committees of inquiry had never in the past accomplished much and that Parliament had never paid any attention to what they had accomplished. But he was willing to accept the committee with certain terms. He welcomed it. It was to inquire into every one of the asserted scandals irrespective of party.

The opposition winced, for it knew well that this committee of thirty-three members would get lost very quickly in a terrible fog of irrelevances, but there was nothing to do but vote for it. By 585 to 10—that is to say, by the whole Chamber against the Communists — the appointment of the committee of inquiry was decided.

FRENCH TEAPOT DOME

The former waiter, M. Oustric, who had in ten years become one of the leading figures in Paris finance, appeared again today before Examining Magistrate Brack to answer two minor plaints against him. One of them was that as late as the 4th inst., he "purchased" 30,000 shares in the boot business of the Raoul Company, in which he had options, but neglected to pay for them and used them and 60,000 others which had been deposited in his bank as collateral in speculative adventures.

The Oustric scandal is rapidly developing into the worst France has ever seen, and has become a sort of French Teapot Dome, with bankers, Deputies, Senators and Ministers disclosed as accomplices in a graft organization which reached to huge proportions.

Oustric was an uneducated lad without any money or political pull, but he became the favorite in a little Toulouse cafe where he worked. The customers got to like Albert so well that they invited him to join their poker games, and pretty soon he did not have to work—just played poker.

WILD FINANCING

A local industrialist was impressed by the extraordinary results Albert could get with a deuce in the hole, and gave him a job in his factory. Soon he was being sent all around the country to fix up big deals; and in this way he got an insight into the workings of high finance.

He came to the conclusion that finance was merely poker clumsily played, and while still hardly more than a clerk he started organizing stock companies with no other capital than a vivid imagination and a fluent tongue.

Oustric was probably the first man in France to realize the possibilities of holding companies, and promptly organized a string of them. Through his sheer audacity he succeeded in boosting the shares of his companies and bought up the controlling interests in the Peugot automobile concern, the venerable Bank of Adam, and other companies.

He pyramided his profits until he was juggling resources totaling more than $100,000,000.

Finally the bubble broke. Oustric's chief holding company, Holfra, collapsed, dragging down the Bank of Adam and other stocks with it, ruining thousands of French investors.

Behind the bare record, however, there is a colorful story of intrigue, graft, extravagant banquets, costly women and wholesale corruption of justice which, when finally unfolded before the country, will make the play "Topaz" look like a Sunday-school sketch.

FOUNDATION PICKS GREGG

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Alan Gregg as director of medical sciences for the Rockefeller Foundation, was announced today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, Chicago health commissioner, and Mrs. Kegel today are on their second honeymoon following their remarriage here Monday. Dr. Kegel, it is understood, pressed his second courtship through the mails, for Mrs. Kegel left for California immediately after being secretly divorced from the city official recently.

Then by mutual consent the divorce was annulled September 25, last. But the couple decided to take no chances on the annulment, so they were married again.

KENTUCKIAN ARRESTED IN BANK ALARM

Accused of Circulating False Story Institution Had Closed Its Doors

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 21. (AP)—The first arrest under State law making it a felony wilfully to circulate false rumors about banks came today along with optimistic statements from State officials about Louisville banks.

The Stockyards Bank had Albert Ivison, 52 years of age, branch manager of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, arrested on a warrant charging the tea company had advised its local store managers late yesterday the bank had closed. Ivison, quickly released on $500 bond, expressed regret and said the company had been misinformed.

Officials of the Stockyards Bank, which was doing business as usual today, said it is in good shape and not affected by the bank situation.

ELEVEN MORE BANKS CLOSE THEIR DOORS

By the Associated Press

Eleven banks in five States of the South and lower Middle West failed to open for business today.

Banks in English, Leavenworth, Corydon and Corydon Junction, all small communities in Southern Indiana, were taken over by the State Banking Department on the heels of the closing yesterday of two banks at New Albany, Ind., across the Ohio River from Louisville.

Banks at Paris, Tenn., at Doniphan and Edina, Mo., at Crestwood, Louisville suburb, and Madisonville, Ky.; at Asheville, N. C., and a Negro bank in Nashville, Tenn., were the others to close.

Closing of the six Indiana banks was attributed to the recent failure of a group of Louisville banks.

Mother of Ten Not Guilty of Killing Rival

LA PLATA (Md.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Pleading the unwritten law and lack of intent to "hurt anybody," Mrs. Lulu Mae Gamble, the mother of ten children, was acquitted late today after a one-day trial for the murder of Mrs. Elsie Davis, 23 years of age.

Mrs. Gamble admitted firing the shots early last September 19 which caused the death four days later of Mrs. Davis. The younger woman was seated in an automobile at the time with Joseph Gamble, fisherman and bee-keeper, the defendant's husband.

The State asked the death penalty.

NORTHERN OVERLAND PHONE CIRCUITS SILENT

Latest reports on the status of telephone service to the East, received yesterday from M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, indicate that traffic is moving over the southern route, but all northern circuits are out. The circuits between Denver and Omaha also are silent.

Calls were being completed yesterday with half-hour delays, although in many cases they are going through faster.

Severe sleet storms, wind and snow in the vicinities of Helena, Mont., and Minneapolis, have caused heavy damage to the northern telephone route. It will be several days before all lines are repaired, according to the present outlook, Stannard says.

REPORTS ON STALIN SAID TO BE FALSE

Rumors of Assassination and Red Troops' Mutiny Denied by Red Agency

MOSCOW, Nov. 21. (AP)—The official Tass News Agency tonight declared all rumors of the assassination of Joseph Stalin were "malignant and absolutely unfounded inventions."

The news agency also charged all other rumors concerning mutinies of Red soldiers and the wholesale arrests of prominent leaders were in the same category, and were designed by antisoviet sources to divert public attention from the forthcoming trial of "Ramzin and other wreckers."

(This refers to the indictment of eight men who recently were charged with having planned for a military attack on Russia with the connivance of certain prominent men in England and France.)

USSIA FIGHTS TREATY DRAFT

Soviet Resents Supervision by League of Nations

Disarmament Commission Ponders Two Schemes

Delegates Disapprove Plan of Separate Budgeting

GENEVA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Russia today served notice on the Preparatory Disarmament Commission that any attempt to place supervision of the treaty in the hands of the League of Nations or any of its organs will be unacceptable to that country.

The pronouncement by Maxim [illegible], chief soviet delegate, followed upon submission of two proposals, one by the British and the other by the French, to place supervision of the treaty's execution in the hands of a permanent disarmament commission under league [illegible].

[illegible] also expressed dissatisfaction with the draft so far adopted, [illegible] he held inadequate.

SUBMITTED FOR STUDY

The commission finally placed the British and French proposals in the hands of a subcommittee for study. Under the British scheme the permanent supervisory commission would be composed of the current members of the League of Nations Council, who are parties to the treaty and the United States and Russia. The French would have the general disarmament conference to determine the commission's personnel.

The two proposals also differ in that the British would have experts on the commission independent of their governments and reporting directly to the League, while the French would have the members as representatives of their governments and under instructions from their governments.

SUBCOMMITTEE NAMED

The subcommittee to study the two plans consists of the representatives of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, China, Finland, France, Greece, Italy, Japan and Turkey.

The commission also placed its stamp of approval on the budgetary methods of limitation for all branches of the fighting forces.

Hugh S. Gibson, American representative, who has consistently announced the unwillingness of the United States to adopt the budget method for herself, voted against the proposal. In this he was joined by Japan, the only other opponent.

The proposal as adopted declares the parties agree "to limit and so far as possible reduce the total annual expenditure on land, sea and air forces." Immediately thereafter, however, the commission by a 7-to-8 vote declined to approve separate budgetary limitation for each service, respectively.

Storm's Fingerprints

Left—The tornado's cone forming in the clouds. Middle—The fully developed cone as it reached the earth. Right—The cone striking a farmhouse, which appears to explode.

GOTHENBURG (Neb.) Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Roy Homer, wife of a rancher near here, possesses a unique record of the growth and progress of a tornado which passed over this section recently.

While others in the vicinity were dashing for their cyclone cellars as the storm gathered Mrs. Homer, an amateur photographer as well as housewife, dashed for her camera. The result is a series of pictures showing the "funnel" of the tornado just forming, then as it struck the earth, and later as it swept over a farmhouse, causing what appeared from a distance to be an explosion. The farmhouse was left a heap of debris.

While others have obtained pictures of a single phase of a tornado, Mrs. Homer has been told that few other instances have been recorded of photographers getting a series of pictures of the same tornado.

VERDICT BY FIVE-SIXTHS VOTE URGED

Baumes Commissioners in New York Seek Change in Jury Decision System

ALBANY (N. Y.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Verdicts by five-sixths of a jury, except in capital cases, were urged today by a subcommission of the Baumes Crime Commission.

"While the unanimous verdict of a jury has attached to the jury system for many years," the report said, "it had more reasons for being when the jury system was created than at the present time. In olden days a jury was empanelled from among the neighboring people of the litigants. In modern times juries are chosen from more widely extended territory and because they do not know the parties or attorneys in the case rather than because they do. This change makes the determination of juries similar to those of bodies in the commercial and political world. Majority rule exists in boards of directors and trustees, in the election of public officials and in the decisions of our courts where more than one judge sits."

The subcommission also urged that a new crime—"involuntary homicide"—be defined by statute to cover the operation of a vehicle in a negligent manner resulting in death. It also urged abolition of all exemptions from jury duty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—San Francisco was given a new metropolitan area today comprising five counties. The new ranking fixed by the Federal Bureau of Census is designed to give eastern industrialists a more accurate picture of the potentialities of the bay area.

ONE KILLED IN SPANISH STRIKE RIOT

Four Workmen Injured as Police Charge Milling Mob of Disturbers

BARCELONA (Spain) Nov. 21. (AP) Rebel members of the union "Syndicato Unico," who have refused to obey their leaders' order to return to work after the general strike, continued rioting here today and one of their number was killed in a clash with police.

The encounter occurred in the factory town of Gava, six miles from here. Four workmen were wounded as police charged a milling mob of strikers and strike-breakers.

Meantime the rest of the city remained quiet and business was practically normal after the disorders of the past several days.

In a raid on a left-wing meeting-place today police found a quantity of revolutionary pamphlets inciting workers to rise against the government, but it is believed these were intended for distribution before the general strike was called off.

Reports from Madrid indicate the situation in other centers to which the disorders extended remains quiet.

Free Believes Mexican Quota Will Not Pass

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Representative Free, Republican, California, said today he believes Congress will not pass at the coming session a pending bill limiting Mexican immigration on a quota basis.

The majority member of the House Immigration Committee said that in the past year tightening of border patrol work has decreased the tremendous number of Mexican immigrants.

Since immigration has been reduced so much by more stringent application of existing laws, Free said he sees no need for additional legislation.

Million-Dollar Cargoes Seized by Coast Guard

BOSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Liquor valued at $1,000,000, one of the largest seizures in the history of prohibition enforcement, is in the hands of government agents today. The estimate of the value of cargoes of two liquor-laden barges was given at the office of the eastern division commander of the Coast Guard.

The barges, the Edith and the Eagle Hill, and the ocean-going tug Murrell of New York were captured by the Coast Guard patrol boat Jackson off the Maine coast Wednesday and brought to Boston last night. Nineteen men, the crews of the tug and barges, were taken into custody.

Miss Morris and her fiance first met in Tahiti several weeks ago where she was forced to await another vessel because of the sinking of the steamer Tahiti, on which she had engaged passage.

Maj. Ramsay-Hill was returning from a game hunt and fishing trip.

POWER QUIZ IN CONGRESS PREDICTED

Norris and Capper Also Believe Issue Will Face President Campaigners

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The power issue, government or private control, was advanced today by two Republican Senators, fresh from victory in the West, as one of the outstanding problems confronting Congress and the Presidential campaign of 1932.

Senators Norris of Nebraska, and Capper of Kansas, joined in this opinion and in demanding action by Congress at the short session on the controversy between the Senate and House over operation of the Muscle Shoals (Ala.) power and nitrate plant.

Senator Norris demanded votes upon three other measures at the short session as the price for avoiding an extra session of the new Congress in the spring. These are the constitutional amendment for elimination of short sessions of Congress, the measure to curb the power of courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes, and the Wagner unemployment bills as legislation upon which he will insist both the Senate and House vote.

Senator Norris asserts his belief the power issue will be the outstanding one in the 1932 campaign.

The Nebraskan said he is going to inquire into the primary-campaign expenditures of Senator-elect Davis of Pennsylvania.

Both Capper and Norris urged more time for a trial of the Farm Board before seeking to amend the law.

Norris accused the "power trust" and the administration of "disreputable, underhanded methods" in the campaign against him.

Tightened Law on Indians Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The American Indian has sufficiently advanced along the road to civilization, in the opinion of the United States Board of Indian Commissioners, to be made subject to the white man's law.

"The Indians under Federal supervision are largely free from the civil and criminal laws to which their white neighbors are subject,' the board said in its annual report, recommending that Congress and the Indian Bureau act "promptly and positively to bring about maintenance of law and order in every jurisdiction of the Indian Service."

BURGLAR INDICATES CONTEMPT OF COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Superior Judge Ward mounted the bench today wearing one white sock and one red-striped one. Also his necktie was not what a sedate jurist ordinarily would wear. A burglar last night took from the judge's apartment all of his socks except those he wore today, and most of his neckties. They overlooked valuable silverware.

SECOND COUSIN OF NURMI SHOT TO DEATH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Murder or suicide was the question today in the fatal shooting of Aarvi Nurmi, identified by the Washington Post as second cousin of the famed Finnish runner—Paavo Nurmi. The body of the 26-year-old census worker was found near his home in Takoma Park, Md., a suburb of the capital, after a party there Wednesday night. He was shot through the head.

SKY FIREBALLS OFFER HOT ACT

Leonids' Performance Goes Beyond Expectations

Astronomers Think It Will Be Finer Next Year

Meteors' Visit Will Continue to and Including 1935

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Brilliant showers of meteors within the next four years were forecast by astronomers at the University of Pennsylvania today upon their completion of the November meteor census.

The census was the count of Leonids, the advance guards of an innumerable host of meteors which is approaching earth again for the first time since about 1900. The counts were reported to the Flower Astronomical Observatory, the director of which, Dr. Charles P. Oliver, summarized the results.

"Reports from fifteen stations, extending as far as Cuba on the south and Iowa on the west, prove the Leonids furnished the richest shower since 1901 on the morning of the 17th inst.," he said.

Leonids were also observed on the nights of the 14th-15th inst. and 15th-16th inst., on which latter date the maximum was expected. The shower came, therefore, a day late. Large numbers were also seen on the night of the 17th-18th inst.

"While too soon to give mean hourly rates, reports to date indicate a richness at least three times as great as anticipated. There were also many splendid fireballs, some leaving long-enduring trains.

"This excellent return greatly encourages the hope for even finer ones in the next few years. Careful plans will be made each November from now to 1935, inclusive, and it is hoped all interested in meteors will co-operate. The whole period from November 13 to 18, inclusive, should be covered."

A detailed report on the results of all the observations reported here will be published in the official organ of the American Meteor Society. It will be several weeks before this can be done.

DIARY TELLS CAVELL STORY

Spanish Diplomat's Memoirs Show Part Played by Hugh Gibson in Effort to Save Nurse

BRUSSELS, Nov. 21. (AP)—How the Marquis De Villabora, Spanish Ambassador to Belgium, and Hugh S. Gibson, then first secretary to the American Legation, tried to prevent the execution of Nurse Edith Cavell by the Germans in 1915 is told in extracts published from the diary of Marquis De Villabora. The Marquis relates that at Gibson's request the two of them went to Baron Von der Lancken, then Director of Political Affairs in the occupied Belgian territory, and tried to get Miss Cavell reprieved on the eve of her execution.

The Marquis told Baron Lancken, "Miss Cavell may have sent hundreds of men to the front by means of her ambulance, but if you kill her she will send millions against you from her tomb."

Lancken told them he did not think Miss Cavell's execution would be immediate, but that Gen. Von Sauberweig, acting Governor, was resolved to execute her.

The former Emperor is pictured by the Marquis as having become very angry when he learned of the execution. He is said to have reprimanded those who permitted it to occur and to have ordered that in the future no women were to be executed.

The Marquis gives as his final verdict that Gen. Von Sauberweig alone was responsible for Miss Cavell's death.

Miss Cavell, head of an English nurses' training school in Brussels, was executed on the charge of assisting British, French and Belgian prisoners in the occupied territory to escape.

CITY'S HALL OF JUSTICE READY

New Municipal Structure at Pasadena Opens Today

Emergency Hospital Feature of $200,000 Building

Modern Jail Included; Also Police Radio System

PASADENA, Nov. 21.—Erected at a cost of more than $200,000, this city's new Hall of Justice, in which will be housed the police department, jail, local courts and emergency hospital, will be opened officially at 9 a.m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley.

The new three-story building, located on North Broadway opposite Memorial Park, takes the place of the 27-year-old quarters at Fair Oaks avenue and Union street. The old structure, formerly used jointly as City Hall and police station, will be razed and the property developed for automobile parking.

The Hall of Justice, according to Chief Kelley, is the finest and most modern structure of its type in Southern California.

One of the principal features is the new Pasadena Emergency Hospital which occupies the entire first-floor south wing. Five years ago the local facilities for first-aid treatment consisted of one doctor and a nurse, who had to be called by telephone. Under Chief Surgeon C. C. Troensegaard, a model hospital has been developed with a doctor, nurse, ambulance driver and first-aid man on duty twenty-four hours of the day. The three emergency hospital shifts require a personnel of fourteen. This city's first-aid facilities are now used by South Pasadena, Altadena, San Marino and other outlying cities, an average of forty cases a day being treated.

For many years the Los Angeles county grand jury has made it a habit to condemn the jail facilities here, but the new building contains a jail which is characterized as a de luxe bastile in every respect. The old jail, from which many escape attempts have been made, accommodated eighteen prisoners, while the new jail is equipped to safely confine sixty-five prisoners.

Outstanding success of the police radio broadcasting is recognized in the new building, which is equipped with sound-proof radio rooms.

The Pasadena Emergency Hospital is scheduled to occupy its new quarters tomorrow morning, but the police telephone connections will not be changed until 9 a.m. Saturday.

AUTO DOES "ONE-HOSS SHAY"

When Jose Lopez Hits Parked Car at Upland, His Own Vehicle Disentegrates; Wheels Keep Going, Fenders Fall Off and Engine Drops Out on Him

UPLAND, Nov. 21.—Jose Lopez didn't have a one-hoss shay, but he had an automobile that did exactly the same thing as the famous old shay did.

Lopez was driving his automobile slowly on Second avenue, and before he realized it the car had run into another automobile which was parked at the curbing. The parked car belonged to Mrs. Lucy Reese, who lives almost next to the Pacific Electric tracks.

From the Reese automobile Lopez's car headed into the curb, received a slight jolt and turned over on its side, then went upside down with Lopez pinned underneath, his head resting upon the Pacific Electric tracks.

Two wheels of the car rolled merrily down the highway. The engine fell out and rested on Lopez. The fenders and bumpers fell off and Lopez with his ear on the P. E. track heard a train coming.

Then he yelled lustily for help and employees of a garage rushed to his assistance and picked off the pieces of automobile and removed him from the railroad tracks.

The storage battery and the two tires that had rolled nearly a block away were the only accessories or parts of the automobile worth salvaging, the garage crew reported.

Lopez became involved with the law when he declared nothing would have happened to him or his automobile if the car at the curb hadn't backed out to run into him.

He was told the car had been parked there for hours while Mrs. Reese rode to Los Angeles on the P. E. that was returning to Upland when Lopez had his ear on the rail.

So Lopez was arrested on a reckless-driving charge, although he didn't have anything left to drive, and was released when he posted $50 bail to appear at a later date.

MIDNIGHT SHOT MYSTIFIES

Bullet Strikes Neck of Fred Clark, San Diego Worker, as He Waits for Wife to Make Him Coffee

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 21.—A mysterious shooting occurred in the 7000 block on Stafford street at the midnight hour and, as a result, Fred Clark, seated in his home, was wounded in the left side of the neck by a .32-caliber bullet. Who fired the shot, however, is what is baffling the local police.

Clark is employed at a local factory, working from 3 p.m. until 11 p.m. He returned home last night, and while waiting for Mrs. Clark to prepare a cup of coffee for him, he suddenly felt a sting in the left side of his neck. Blood began flowing. Neighbors were awakened by the screams of his wife, and police were called. They hastened Clark to the Mission Hospital. This morning the leaden missile was removed from Clark's neck. The bullet was flattened at least one-half of its length.

An outside stairway leads to the second story of the Clark apartment. Police state that some one might have been on the top of the stairway and fired the bullet.

Chief of Police Hultquist says that in his opinion, the bullet would not have been flattened to such an extent by passing only through a window glass and into the man's neck. He states that it is his opinion some one fired a gun on the street, that the bullet probably struck the paving or some other hard material, and then glanced through the window. Clark's condition is such that he has not been closely questioned by the officers, who are working on the case.

CHECK ON GAMING SOUGHT

Long Beach Passes Emergency Ordinance to Prevent Land Transportation to Gambling-Ship Taxis

LONG BEACH, Nov. 21.—An emergency ordinance designed to prevent free land transportation to docks where water taxies embark for gambling ships was passed on first and second reading by the City Council today. Checked in its attempt to legislate against water transportation to the gambling boats, by decisions holding such ordinances illegal, the city will attempt to outlaw a bus system now running to the dock. Advertising and soliciting for the gambling boats will also be prohibited by the new ordinance.

Stating the emergency on which the ordinance is based, the law declares that a large number of Long Beach residents are losing large sums of money and thereby depriving their families of the necessities of life, causing them in some instances to become public charges. In Municipal Court today Judge Wallace found two motorists guilty of violating a State code by displaying tire covers advertising one of the gambling boats.

Sentence will be imposed Monday, at which time it is expected that an appeal to the Superior Court will be taken.

WEIR DEDICATED NEAR REDLANDS

Tricounties Conservationist Group Climaxes Efforts

Twentieth Anniversary of Organization Observed

Santa Ana Canyon Project Cost $90,000 to Build

REDLANDS, Nov. 21.—The twentieth anniversary of the organization of the Tri-Counties Water Conservation Association was observed with a climax of dedication of the greatest water conservation program of the kind ever attempted in the West, the completion of the weir for water-spreading at the mouth of Santa Ana Canyon, east of here, today.

There were delegates and engineers, city officials and others from all parts of Southern California, especially the cities of Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino counties so vitally interested in the program.

The weir, conduits and spreading grounds have cost $90,000 and will conserve thousands and thousands of inches of water during the year.

Francis Cuttler, president of the association, presided at the meeting, and speakers were Paul Bailey, engineer, who told of the construction of the rubble weir, John Mitchell of the Board of Supervisors of Orange county, George Biggin of the Board of Supervisors of San Bernardino county, J. E. McGregor of the board of Riverside county, Lotus Lowden of the Anaheim Bulletin speaking for the press, Ralph Swing, State Senator; Frank F. Merriam, Lieutenant-Governor-elect, and others.

Merriam deposited in a receptacle records pertaining to the work of the association, also pictures of the automobile, radio, electric refrigerator, airplane and other modern inventions. These, with copies of the Los Angeles Times, are common things today but are expected to be valuable when the box is opened centuries later.

HIGHWAY CASE SPEEDED

Maricopa Road Injunction Suit Transferred From Supreme to District Appellate Court

VENTURA, Nov. 21.—The Maricopa road injunction case, brought by J. M. Sharp for the Ventura County Farm Bureau against Joint Highway District No. 6, which has been before the Supreme Court of the State for several years, following a decision in favor of the district in Superior Court here, has been transferred to a District Court of Appeal to speed a decision, it was learned today.

The transfer was argued before the District Court at San Francisco Monday by Edson Abel, for the farm bureau, and Earl Stanley Gardner and Robert Sheridan for the district. The court permitted the defendants to file a reply to the brief submitted by the appellants, which was filed but five days before the case was submitted for hearing. The defendants asserted that a shifting of position or attack had taken place, and the higher court granted a delay.

Several other joint highway districts, whose work has been held up pending a decision in this case, are awaiting the outcome before proceeding.

At present the work on the Maricopa highway is at a standstill, as all funds available have been used. A gap of some ten miles between Pine Mountain on the Maricopa side and the Sespe end has never been surveyed by any engineer, and until such a survey is made and an estimate of the costs of construction given, according to Charles Petit, county engineer, and also engineer for the joint highway district, additional funds will not be asked.

A change in the route which swings the road down to the Sespe has been responsible for part of the delay. The stretch between the Sespe and Wheeler's Hot Springs is to be finished with $55,000 soon to be available from the United States Forestry Bureau, the State road funds and the tricounty board funds. The work on this stretch can only be done from the Ventura end.

The next meeting of the tricounty board is set for December 1 in Santa Barbara, at which time a final agreement is to be made with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and construction by which the bureau will do the actual construction of the highway, beginning early next year.

The injunction suit, instituted here four or five years ago by the county farm bureau, sought to restrain the tricounty board from issuing bonds in accordance with the law governing the operation of joint highway districts. A prompt victory was won in the Superior Court but years of delay have resulted as the matter lay in the files of the Supreme Court.

AGED CHIEF RETURNS TO HIS AERIE

Cocupa, Centenarian Indian, Back Among Crags of Sierra

Old Aborigine's Mountain Cabin in San Pedro Martir Range

ENSENADA, Nov. 21.—After two unsuccessful attempts to breathe the civilized, lowland air of Ensenada, old Chief Cocupa, centenarian Indian, is back among his eagles and condors high up in San Pedro Martir Sierra, where he has renewed his Gargantuan life. Fewer than 300 miles by airline from Los Angeles, the unsurveyed peaks of this range upthrust their muzzles more than 10,000 feet into the azure —a royal domain.

Like another Paul Bunyan, Cocupa leaves his thrifty hut each morning to take his choice of eye-delighting peaks, afire with the morning sun and soon to wear a winter-long mantle of snow. Off there is "El Providencia," or "The Divinity," tallest of all, 10,126 feet, visible 100 miles at sea, landmark for an empire. Southwest is "La Corona," itself in excess of 10,000 feet, while north of "The Crown" is a peak not quite so high as the other two—a poor, insignificant third, not even named. Verily, it requires a tall giant of a mountain to earn identity in this land of noble pichachos, the inaccessibility of which makes Death Valley by comparison a high point of travel and civilization. Not a dozen white men a year penetrate even the lower benches of this Sierra.

WILD GAME PLENTIFUL

Lower California treeless, did you say? Old Cocupa grunts, and cools his eyes on spruce, cypress, tamarack, fir, incense cedar, yellow and sugar pine, pitch pine and pinon pine. About the streams he sees aspen and willow, ferns and flowers. He hunts scarcely any game less innately fierce or smaller in physical area than himself—eagles, condors, deer, wild cats, lions, coyotes, half-wild horses and cattle, mountain sheep. Cocupa even remembers a bear which in the early eighties took up his temporary abode on the mountain crest, doubtless enjoying himself hugely, for the native hunters fled in dismay before his tracks.

The most fascinating mystery of the Sierra is, of course, the identity of a fair-skinned woman who, in the old days, Pocahontas-like, saved Padre Link from death at the hands of a vast multitude of mountain Indians. This woman, although she accompanied the savages, was described as decently clothed, of regal bearing and keen understanding.

Whenever Cocupa, in his native haunt, hungers for sight of a human being, he need only let come to rest the gigantic California condor, largest bird aflight, ten feet from wing to wing, which with arms folded looks exactly like a very tall man. This condor disdains residence under 10,000 feet.

SCENERY VARIED

A manly world, Cocupa, and yet, possessed of subtleties and nuances. Away with your stark, ever-cold Himalayas and Alps—away with your oppression of spirit! For whenever the Indian finds his world chill beyond comfort, he need only step over, as it were, to the eastern extremity of the range, and gaze down into the furnace-like desert of the Lower California River; there is heat enow, contrast aplenty.

It is rumored that the view from the eastern wall of the Sierra over the desert thousands of feet below is one of the great spectacles of the world, but of this there is scant proof, due to the mere handful of civilized men who have ever beheld it. Questioned on this point, Cocupa is contempt itself, maintaining an icy silence. No sensitive white, who on the brink of the Grand Canyon writhes in agony as a talkative companion attempts to describe, actually gushes over, the indescribable, is more sensitive on the point of scenery than ill-schooled, savage Cocupa.

"What do you see when you look down on the desert?" you keep prodding at the chief, who at last replies. "White man's towns small. White man's lives small. Hard to breathe. When Cocupa looks down he sees—the world of the Great Spirit. When he looks down he breathes with heap big chest."

MISSION TUNNEL UNEARTHED

Workmen Digging Cellar Near San Juan Capistrano Historic Structure Discover Passageway

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Nov. 21.—An old tunnel was discovered here on the Strocheim ranch when workmen were digging a cellar on the premises, which are just east of the highway from the famous old San Juan Capistrano Mission. It is believed that the tunnel runs from some part of the mission to the San Juan River, a few miles distant.

The workmen traced the tunnel toward the river, but the sides had caved in and the exact terminus is not known. Old settlers say that the tunnel was constructed to serve as a means of escape in the event the mission was destroyed by unfriendly Indians, and in case of a seige the passageway would provide an avenue for water to be transported from the river to the mission. By persons familiar with the early history of the country, it is believed that the tunnel led to the chapel, and by others that it was connected with the living quarters of the padres.

Recent excavations by road crews unearthed the body of a man believed to be that of an Indian buried in the early California days. The steam shovel has brought up old trinkets and pieces of old tile used in the mission.

Mrs. Spencer's Estate Valued at Huge Sum

SANTA ANA, Nov. 21.—The report of the three appraisers appointed to make the inventory and appraisement of the estate of the late Mrs. Fanny Bixby Spencer, philanthropist and resident of Costa Mesa, was filed in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs today, showing a total value af $2,559,305.15. The estate is reported by county officials to be one of the largest that has ever appeared on the probate records of the county.

Value of the estate was increased in the inventory and appraisement report over the estimated figure given at the time the will was filed for probate on April 7, when this petition gave the value of the estate at $2,371,329. The report was made by Donald J. Dodge, justice of the peace of Newport Beach township; Willard Smith, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and John N. Anderson, former State Senator and now inheritance-tax appraiser.

The principal item of the estate is 5833 1-3 shares of stock in the Jotham Bixby Land Company, the value of which was set at $2,233,874.98.

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 21.—Asking a refund for a little used cafe license, C. C. Martin has been serving a jail sentence for a liquor violation at the cafe and the request for the refund was refused.

OUTLOOK FOR CITRUS PREDICTED

Large Yield but of Moderate Sizes in Sight, Exchange Official Says

FULLERTON, Nov. 21.—Predicing a large crop of moderate sizes for California's citrus production for the current year, Dana C. King, sales manager for the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, discussed the outlook of the industry before more than 170 growers, directors, and managers of Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange, at a meeting last night in McFarland's Cafe in this city.

King reviewed his observations on a recent tour of all great citrus-marketing centers of the United States and inspection of Florida and other citrus-growing areas which will be in competition with California for the coming crop.

Commenting upon the demand and excellent prices obtained this year, King pointed out that last year's crop, 1929, which was the largest in the history of the industry, had made it possible for more persons to obtain oranges and had thus created a desire. This, he said, was reflected in the growing demand of the past year with a light production and better prices.

During the past twenty years the California Fruit Growers' Exchange has spent $13,000,000 in advertising. King said this amounts to approximately $50 per acre for the time, "and I am sure we have received full value in return," he added. Half of the amount has been spent in the past six years and has brought benefits in proportion.

Dr. D. D. Weynick, soil expert, commented on the small size of fruit for the next season, declaring that the last week in October and the first two weeks in November were the hottest days on record for this section.

Floyd D. Young of Pomona, chief of the forecasting system established by the United States Weather Bureau for frost warning in the citrus section of Southern California, and his assistant, Harold Rathbone, in charge of the Orange county section, spoke briefly on the work being done. Dale R. King, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange, spoke briefly.

Girls Confer at Redlands

REDLANDS, Nov. 21.—Girls from the high schools of Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside, Whittier, Pomona, Chaffey, Corona, Covina, Chino and Sherman Institute, held a conference at the Y.W.C.A. in Redlands today.

The theme of the conference, which brought together about fifty of the leading girls of the schools, was "Friendship Lane," and after the opening ceremonial, conducted by Pomona and Chino, Miss Rhoda Foster, field secretary of the "Y," spoke on that subject.

Each city had charge of a part of the program. Whittier had charge of the singing and the program itself was conducted by Chaffey. San Bernardino had charge of the indoor games played instead of the treasure hunt.

Covina had charge of the seating at the luncheon and there were twelve tables. Each girl was seated at the table bearing the month of her birth.

The final ceremonial was the burying of a tablet which must be uncovered at the ceremonial next year.

TROUSERS RIFLED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 21.—George F. Manahan, occupying a room at the Mission Apartments, placed his trousers containing a check for $25 on a Los Angeles bank and also $25 in bills, over the back of a chair. Next morning when he went to look for the trousers, he discovered they had disappeared. They were found later in the basement of the building, the check and money having been stolen.

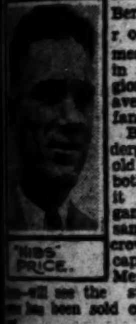
California, Stanford Clash in "Big Game" Today

Cardinals Heavy Favorites to Capture Classic

Victory for Berkeley Squad Would Be Miracle

BY PAUL LOWRY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—For the first time in years the "big game" between Stanford and California at Berkeley tomorrow doesn't mean a whoop in the hot regions to the average football fan.



"NIBS" PRICE.

But to the undergrads and the old grads at both universities it is the "big game" just the same. A wee crowd of 79,696—capacity for the Memorial Stadium—will see the struggle. The game has been sold out since August.

The mere fact that University of Southern California obliterated Stanford, 41 to 12, and California, 74 to 0, has been lost sight of on the eve of this traditional struggle.

LAST BEAR WIN IN 1923

California hasn't won from Stanford since 1923, when Don Nichols led his Golden Bears to a 9-to-0 victory. That's a long time between wins and the Berkeley boys want to beat the Stanford boys so bad they would eat nails to do it.

Victory is uppermost in the minds of California students, but it has been crowded closely by other matters following the terrible Trojan catastrophe.

Stanford has come back since the S.C. setback, but while the Berkeley boys have been trying to settle Editor Ariett's hash they have lost some of their football perspective.

Naturally, the team has suffered with all this commotion going on, and the athletes will have to play way over their heads to dump the Stanford apple cart.

In some quarters this is believed possible. But in the light of calm reason California, with a crippled backfield, a harrassed coach and a disgruntled student body opinion, hasn't the ghost of a chance.

It will be a real feat if California can hold the score close.

A victory for the Golden Bears would be a miracle. More, it would

ST. MARY'S DEFERS ACTION ON POST-SEASON GRID TILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—"Slip" Madigan, St. Mary's coach, reiterated today that action in the matter of a post-season game for the Saints will not take place until Sunday, when the board of athletic control meets.

It was entirely too full a day for the players and Coach today to give any consideration to the subject. Receptions, breakfast and luncheon engagements occupied all of the time. Madigan made it clear, once more, that his players would prefer a post-season game in Northern California, and it seems more than likely St. Mary's will arrange a game with Utah.

CLOUTING CELT HANDED ONE OF WORST DEFEATS

Crowd of 12,500 Sees Irish Fighter Outpointed in Terrific, Gory Battle in New York Ring

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Billy Petrolle, rugged, clouting veteran from the hills of North Dakota, turned in the ultimate in surprises for the fight faithful tonight by hammering Jimmy McLarnin, the clouting Celt, into one of the worst defeats of the Irishman's spectacular career.

A crowd of 12,500, banner throng in these days of unemployment, bounced around in their seats in vociferous amazement as Petrolle, granite-chinned and relentless as a maddened bull pup, smashed the class of the welterweights about the ring for ten full rounds, dumped him in the resin twice for counts of nine in the fourth session, and ran away fresh and eager with the unanimous decision at the end of the battle.

JIMMY McLARNIN

It was one of the most exciting and bloody battles the Garden ever has seen and McLarnin at the close was a fearful sight. Blood streamed from cuts below his eyes, in his lips, alongside his nose and there were lumps along both cheek bones that threatened to cut off his sight in the closing rounds.

The crimson stream covered his face and chest and the sight of the gory figure of the deadly Irishman, reeling through round after round and desperately fighting off the ever-threatening knockout just about furnished the customers the millennium in fistic spectacles.

New York faithful have become so accustomed to seeing McLarnin

BRONCOS FACE LOYOLA SQUAD

Santa Clara Favored to Win Coliseum Game

King Alphonso Shift Due to Entertain Fans

Three Sargeant Brothers on Lion Grid Team

BY BRAVEN DYER

The lion and the lamb have been known, so they tell me, to lie down together without undue commotion but what takes place when you substitute a Bronco for the eepshay will be demonstrated at the Coliseum this afternoon when Tom Lieb puts on his three-ring circus.

TOM LIEB

Mr. Lieb, who gained national notoriety coaching Notre Dame to an undefeated season last year, will shoot his Loyola Lions against the Broncos of Santa Clara. The entire show has a fine theatrical setting in that Lieb formerly played at Notre Dame, as did Clipper Smith, coach of the Broncos. Added to this Mr. Smith employs a form of offense which has been termed the "King Alphonso shift." What the King of Spain, or wherever it is Alphonso does his stuff, knows about football or shifting either for that matter is more than I know but use of the ruler's royal name just shows how far some guys will go in order to get a little publicity.

Loyola's shift isn't even named after a Duke, much less a real Kink, and, of course, the Lions won't be nearly as effective as the Broncos. But if the Broncs spend too much time trying to high-hat their foes it may be a sour afternoon for all the King's horses and all the King's men, as Lieb's youths are able-bodied players who probably don't give two hoots for the King's shift or the King himself.

Getting away from royalty down to the common people, Loyola has one of the most unique combinations in football, namely, one complete side of the line composed of brothers. These are the Sargent boys by name, Bill at left end, Ted at tackle, and George at guard. Sort of a brothers under the pigskin act, and a good one too, for the boys are capable of taking care of themselves in all types of company. Lieb has been quoted as saying that Ted, the tackle, could play on any team in the country.

There aren't enough Sargents grown to manhood to make up the Loyola backfield, so Lieb has to let somebody else carry the ball. And he has two outstanding performers in Bud Brubaker and "Eel" Euge. Brubaker has done some tremendous punting this year and Loyola supporters expect him to annoy the Broncos all afternoon with long boots.

Santa Clara, having won by a comfortable margin last year, is favored to cop today's battle,

SANTA ANA, Nov. 21.—Silencing reports that he was to be relieved of his command, Ernie Johnson, manager of the Seattle club, today accepted terms of Owner Bill Klepper to pilot the Indians again next season. At the same time Johnson confirmed reports that the Indians would not train at San Clemente next spring. Johnson said he would be glad to consider the Orange County Fairgrounds as the 1930 spring stamping ground of the Tribe. Woodland in Northern California is out to provide the Seattle camp and is anxious to obtain definite word within the next few days.

LOUGHRAN WINS OVER LEVINSKY

Ex-Fish Peddler Loses to Tommy in Ten-Round Bout in Chicago Ring

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Tommy Loughran, boxing wizard from Philadelphia, completely subdued the wild, heavy-swinging King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, in their ten-round bout in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN

Knocked to the floor for a count of nine in the second round, Loughran, former world's light-heavyweight champion, came back with all his amazing boxing skill to defeat Levinsky beyond all question of doubt.

Loughran won nine of the ten rounds, losing only the second, in which he was floored when the Kingfish hit him on the side of the head with a right-hand punch he started off his shoetops.

The verdict of the two judges and the referee, Dave Barry, was unanimous, and met with a roar of approval from the 13,420 spectators, who paid $38,750 to witness the battle.

While Loughran was steadily outscoring the Chicago fish

OXY, POMONA MEET IN BOWL

Old Rivals Mix in Annual Gridiron Contest

Southern Conference Foes Hook Up Today

Tigers Favored to Defeat Ancient Enemies

Although their annual engagement has no bearing whatsoever on the Southern Conference race, Occidental and Pomona colleges will draw a large crowd to the Rose Bowl this afternoon when the ancient rivals battle it out for whatever honors are attached to a traditional struggle. The contest will get under way at 2:15, with the frosh elevens meeting in a preliminary at 12:30.

COACH ED KIENHOLZ

Both teams have been kicked around a bit by their conference rivals. The Tigers have beaten Whittier and Redlands, and lost to San Diego and Caltech. Pomona won over Redlands, and lost to San Diego, Caltech and Whittier.

Occidental should win today, but, as in all of these traditional contests, all past scores can be tossed to the winds. Princeton, winner of only one game, held a good Yale team to a 10-7 victory last week. Pomona might even win today.

GOOD LINESMEN

The Tigers have plenty of good men on the line. But they have a disconcerting habit of letting the other forward wall charge first, which isn't conducive to good play. Both the San Diego and Caltech forwards outplayed their Tiger rivals consistently.

Pomona has a good line, and it charges aggressively. If Eugene Nixon's men can recover from their terrible exhibition against Whittier, when the Poets won, 31-6, they ought to play their foes on an even par today.

Eddie Kienholz has the advantage in backfield material. In Johnston, Myers, Reed and Glover, he has a better quartet than the Sagehens can offer in Putnam, Baynham, Hager and Murdy, despite the fact that the latter are veterans.

Glover, in his early season games, looked like one of the best backs in Southern California. He still is one of the best in the conference. He hasn't the shifty hip motion of

U.C.L.A. Machine Cracks Up Under Heavy Barrage

Crowd of 10,000 Sees Hughes Sparkle at Coliseum

BY FRANK ROCHE

If Bill Spaulding's U.C.L.A. bruins are going to go anywhere in "big-league" competition, they certainly need some gas. They did not have it last night at the Coliseum and that in a nutshell almost tells the story of the football game which the Oregon State Beavers won by a 19-to-0 score. Defensively, the Bruin machine functions all right. Offensively, it coughs, sneezes, wheezes and gives up the ball finally on downs to its opponent.

RALPH BUERKE.

For instance, the Bruins had a chance last night in the first five minutes of play to score a touchdown when the Beavers fumbled the ball on their own 8-yard line, and Eddie Solomon, captain of the U.C.L.A. outfit, recovered the ball. But in four tries from that point the Bruins were no closer to the goal than when they first started. If that shows any punch then a duck can't swim.

BRUIN GOOSE COOKED

Right there and then the Bruins' goose was cooked. Oregon State scored in the second quarter when Hal Moe caught Buerke's pass which traveled 36 yards. The ball went over the goal line and Solomon almost knocked it down, but Moe managed to retrieve it before it hit the ground and the Beavers had a touchdown. Thompson missed the goal kick and the score at the end of the half was 6 to 0 in favor of the visitors.

In the first half of the game the Oregon State team made 86 yards from scrimmage to the Bruins' 41. The Bruins al-

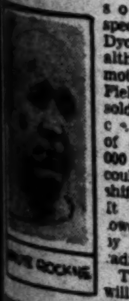
Northwestern, Notre Dame Battle in Spotlight of Nation's Gridiron Fandom Today

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—There is just one college football battle tomorrow, so far as the national championship situation is concerned and it will be fought out in suburban Chicago between Northwestern's Wildcats and Notre Dame's Rough Riders.

It brings together two of the leading unbeaten teams of the year. It will be watched only by some 49,000 spectators at Dyche Stadium, although mammoth Soldier Field could be sold out to its capacity of around 125,000 if the game could have been shifted there. It will be followed indirectly by millions of radio listeners. The outcome will be scanned with special interest on opposite sides of the continent, for West Point has a date with Notre Dame next Saturday at Soldier Field and Southern California has a reception committee waiting for the Rough Riders at the Los Angeles Coliseum, December 6.



KNUTE ROCKNE

Win, lose or draw, Notre Dame will play its final two games before close to 200,000 spectators in two of the biggest arenas of the entire country.

The ability of Rockne's raiders to get along without Joe Savoldi, as well as the winning streaks of both teams, will be at stake in the battle of Evanston.

Although they may arouse much less national frenzy, the two traditional "naturals" of the day Harvard-Yale at New Haven and Stanford-California at Berkeley, will be played before far bigger crowds. Around 90,000 probably will witness the Coast's "big game" between the two principal victims of Southern California's high-scoring juggernaut. Down east the ancient tussle of the Blue and Crimson will be witnessed by more than 75,000 spectators.

Both promise to be fairly close and hard-fought, although Stanford and Yale are conceded slight advantages on the season's records.

The Big Ten season in the Midwest comes to a close, with Michigan favored to whip Chicago at Ann Arbor and clinch the right of the Wolverines to share the conference championship with Northwestern.

Old rivalries are keen enough to

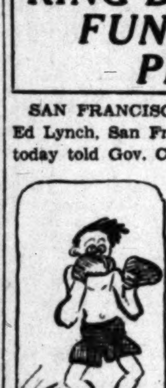
RING BOARD FAILS TO FUNCTION PROPERLY, PROMOTER DECLARES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Ed Lynch, San Francisco promoter, today told Gov. C. C. Young's special board investigating boxing conditions in the State that one of the reasons why the game is in a bad way is because the State Athletic Commission has failed to function properly.



Promoter Lynch said it was his opinion the commission was not operating as it should because of a lack of interest on the part of Commissioner William Hanlon, and the long illness of Commissioner James Woods.

"Commissioner Hanlon is simply a holdover and does not know how long his job is going to last," Lynch said. "He may be let out any time. And so he has lost interest in the thing. Commissioner Woods is sick and has signified his intention of resigning. So Commissioner Charles F. Traung is virtually the commission in himself. I do not know whether the system ought to be changed, but as it is now we haven't any system."

Mervyn Murphy, boxing inspector in this city, testified "about a hundred gamblers congregate in one corner of Dreamland Auditorium and National Hall at every fight." Murphy agreed to give names of several of these men.

Both Murphy and Lynch declared the commission grants managers' and fighters' licenses too readily.

Today's hearing was the last in this section by the special commission. The board will resume its inquiry in Los Angeles soon.

MRS. ROY GREEN FAVORED

California Star Meets Mrs. C. K. Bellew Today in Finals of Los Angeles City Tourney

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Mrs. Roy Green of California is favored to win her second consecutive Los Angeles city women's golf championship this morning when she meets Mrs. C. Kyrle Bellew of Rancho in the finals of the 1930 event over the Warren Harding memorial course at Griffith Park. They tee off at 10 o'clock.

Playing par-smashing golf, Mrs. Green eliminated Miss Bea Gottlieb of Rancho, 5 and 4, in the semi-finals yesterday morning. She was out in 37 to be 5 up at the turn and had the match well in hand from start to finish.

MRS. ROY GREEN

Mrs. Bellew furnished another upset in a tournament that has been chock full or surprises by defeating Mrs. Mark Steele of California, 3 and 2, in the lower bracket.

Mrs. Bellew played slowly and meticulously and, in the parlance of sports, got Mrs. Steele's goat.

Mrs. Steele was far off form, going out in 47 to be 1 down at the turn. The card:

Out—
Mrs. Bellew	555	645	465—45
Mrs. Steele	556	565	365—47
In—
Mrs. Bellew	553	754	4
Mrs. Steele	663	754	4

Miss Gottlieb was putting poorly yesterday, but at her best could hardly have defeated Mrs. Green, who played beautiful golf. She was playing against men's par all the way. The cards:

Out—
Mrs. Green	444	354	364—37
Miss Gottlieb	545	455	455—42
In—
Mrs. Green	563	54
Miss Gottlieb	562	64

Scotch foursomes were played yesterday afternoon, Miss Gottlieb and Mrs. R. C. Noble of Wilshire winning with an 89. Mrs. C. J. Woerner of Lakeside and Mrs. George Crook of Hacienda, 91-5—86, tied for low net with Mrs. Dorothy Fatt and Mrs. A. E. Welch, 105-19—86.

Mrs. Steele will play off this morning with Mrs. William Crawford for the low net trophy.

Following are the complete results:

Championship flight: Mrs. Roy Green defeated Miss Bea Gottlieb, 5 and 4; Mrs. C Kyrle Bellew defeated Mrs. Mark Steele, 3 and 2.

Defeated eight, championship flight: Mrs. C. K. Pancake defeated Mrs. Gus Dembling, 3 and 1; Mrs. Rex Taylor defeated Mrs. Dave Allen, 3 and 1.

First flight: Mrs. R. A. Speicher defeated Miss Minnie Peterson, 2 and 1; Mrs. Lenore Killian defeated Mrs. F. E. Truitt, 3 and 2.

Defeated eight, first flight: Mrs. J. C. Donnelly defeated Mrs. Tom Clark, 5 and 4; Mrs. Edith Carrere defeated Mrs. J. Kirk, 3 and 2.

TIGERS TROUNCE ROMANS, 12 TO 7

Tunney's Team Shows Early Season Form

Aprato Gallops 97 Yards for Touchdown

McClain Scores for L. A. High on 70-Yard Sprint

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Throwing the City League final standings into a three-way tie for the 1930 championship, the Lincoln Tigers exhibited all their early season form yesterday afternoon at Housh Field to turn in a 12-7 victory over the L. A. High Romans.

COACH HORACE BRESEE.

The triumph gave Jim Tunney's Tigers one-third of the title honors, Manual Arts and Fremont having the other two-thirds. The three elevens all rate equal mention, Manual Arts having defeated Fremont while the Pathfinders in turn have a victory over Lincoln, and the Tigers boast a win over the Toilers.

Lincoln's edge over L. A. High yesterday was very apparent, the Tigers chalking up fifteen first downs to the Romans' five.

Handicapped through the absence of Andy Lombardo, their star punter, and giving away 10 yards every time Felix Pennino kicked, the Tigers' defense was as impregnable as ever, stopping the Roman backs cold on line plays. Lombardo was on the side lines with a Charley horse.

Forced to use an aerial attack, Horace Bresee's charges completed six passes out of nineteen. One pass was intercepted, while all the others either fell short of the receiver or were knocked down by the ravaging Lincoln defensive players.

The game wasn't three minutes one before the Tigers tallied their irst touchdown. Lincoln kicked off and held the Romans for two plays, Chuck Cheshire kicking on third lown to Joe Aprato, who received he ball somewhere between the 1 and the 5-yard line. Little Joe fumbled, but recovered and proceeded to weave his way approximately 97 yards for the touchdown. Aprato zigzagged his way lown the left side of the field with Roman players diving all around him.

Santa Garbo missed the conversion place kick.

Things were quiet as far as the scoreboard was concerned until the fourth quarter, when Lincoln scored again and Max McClain returned a punt 70 yards for the Romans' lone touchdown.

The Tigers tallied early in the period, getting the ball on the 1-yard line after Pennino and Jackson had jointly blocked Cheshire's kick from he 15-yard line, the ball going into he end zone after the blocking.

Garbo packed the ball twice and seemed to be over each time, but Referee Motts Blair ruled otherwise and each time brought it back to the one-inch line, if there is any line one inch away from the goal line. Anyway, on third down Garbo plunged again and fumbled, with a Roman recovering. However, Blair again came to the front and ruled that Garbo had scored and six more points were marked up on the scoreboard for the North Broadway battlers. Garbo again missed the conversion kick.

With five minutes left to play McClain, Roman half, plucked Pennino's kick out from under four Lincoln men and evading everybody printed 70 yards criss-cross down he field for the L. A. High touchdown.

The Romans rallied and three minutes later Red Lowry intercepted Garbo's pass on the Lincoln 48-yard line and Melo Almada, left-handed Roman passer, started heaving passes of all shapes and sizes ll over the field. Of seven attempted only one was good, and the ame ended with Lowry missing a 0-yard heave.

McClain and Bob Hoeffer were the outstanding Roman backs, while Schutz, Pozzo, Emerson and Andrews shone on the line.

Jackson turned in a splendid game t end for the Tigers, with the rest f the line also functioning well. 'asquale Tunzi played the best ame of his career, while Garbo's ne plunging in the second half 'as exceptional.

TOILERS WRECK GARFIELD

Manual Arts Eleven Runs Wild to Chalk Up 61-0 Victory Over Bulldogs; Howard Stars

A powerful, bruising Manual Arts football team led by its one-man power-house, Bill Howard, swept aside the feeble challenge of the Garfield Bulldogs yesterday and battered its way to a 61-to-0 victory over the Garfield eleven in a rout staged on the Toilers' gridiron. The result set a new high scoring record for the league and also for individual brilliancy. Howard set the individual scoring record when he fought his way through the Bulldog ranks to pile up six touchdowns and five conversions for a total of 41 points. As a result of their victory the Toilers finished in a triple tie for first place in the City League with Fremont and Lincoln.

Manual received the kick-off and on the first play of the game Howard went 55 yards for a touchdown on a fake reverse. Two more touchdowns were added before the quarter ended. The Bulldogs came to life in the second period and held the Toilers to 6 points and a total of 20 for the first half. The third and fourth periods were disastrous for the visitors, however, Manual chalking up 27 digits in the third quarter and 14 more in the last period.

Although he made but one really long run during the fray, Howard averaged better than ten yards every time he took the ball. Cervantes, Dolan and Gerold showed to the best advantage on the visitors' team. Line-ups:

Passing and plunging constituted the main part of the home team's attack. Todd was the outstanding star of the game, scoring three touchdowns. The Lions are scheduled to meet Cathedral on Thanksgiving Day in a game which will decide the championship of the Northern California minor division.

Reed, Albers and Pearson starred in the backfield for El Monte, while Fullenwider and Botts shone in the line. Albers and Reed scored two touchdowns apiece while Pearson scored one and made a 60-yard run which put the ball on the 5-yard line from where Reed carried it over. JEFFERSON ENDS SEASON WITH 13-0 VICTORY

Scoring twice in the last two periods, Coach Harry Edelson's powerful Jefferson Democrats defeated a scrappy Belmont aggregation yesterday, 13 to 0, on the Jefferson turf. The visitors threatened throughout the game while Oliver and Nelson bore the brunt of the Jefferson attack.

Bertino ran the pigskin to his own 25-yard stripe, and the Belmont outfit, failing to gain, kicked to their own 45-yard marker. Nelson of Jefferson then carried the ball to the Hilltoppers' 23-yard line and then worked it to the visitors' 1-yard line, whence he carried it over on an off-tackle play. Oliver's drop kick was good for the extra point. In the final period a sustained drive by Edelson's charges accounted for another score. Recovering a fumble on Belmont's 43-yard line, Nelson again broke away for 25 yards. He scored on an end run but Oliver's kick was blocked.

A last-minute rally on the part of Witherow's men failed to tally for the Green and Black squad.

ROOSEVELT AND HOLLYWOOD TIE

Foothillers' Hopes of Title Blasted in 6-6 Game

BY BOB RAY

A 40-yard pass from the grimy right hand of Herman Watts that ended its flight in the anxious arms of Joe Ramona, who galloped 25 yards farther over the goal line, cost the Hollywood Foothillers a chance to wind up in a quadruple tie for the City League grid championship with Manual, Lincoln and Fremont.

The Foothillers did not lose, but that long pass enabled Clark De Groote's Roosevelt Rough Riders to tie Hollywood, 6 to 6, in yesterday's football thriller at Wrigley Field.

Vic Kelley's Movie City eleven wasn't even sure of a tie until the Foothillers started a wild drive down the field in the third period that culminated in Rudy Pacht plowing over for a touchdown on the first play in the final quarter.

Both sides failed to convert, the Rough Riders losing their extra point when Dave Galitzen's pass into the end zone just did elude Ramona's grasp, while the Foothiller attempt to convert missed fire when Frankie Phillips was stopped a foot away from the goal line after a dash around right end on a reverse.

The battle found the two elevens evenly matched, although Hollywood chalked up nine first downs to seven for Roosevelt.

The Foothillers threatened first in the second quarter when a pass, Verdugo to Austin, put the ball deep in Roosevelt territory. But the Rough Riders took the ball on downs and a few plays later scored on that sensational pass, Watts to Ramona.

Near the close of the third period the Foothillers started their touchdown drive when Ramona's punt went out of bounds on Roosevelt's 30-yard line. Campbell and Phillips cut loose with reverses to put the ball on Roosevelt's 6-yard stripe. An off-side penalty moved it to the 1-yard line, from where Pacht smashed over on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Both sides threw passes all over the lot in the closing minutes of the game, but were unable to connect.

Jack Davis scored both touchdowns for Cal-Prep, the first coming in the third quarter, while the second came in the last period. A 20-yard pass, Vogle to Ross, put the ball into scoring position on the 2-yard line for the initial tally, while Ross got away for a 60-yard gallop to score the second touchdown.

POMONA, COVINA TIE IN ANNUAL BATTLE

POMONA, Nov. 21.—Staging an unstoppable comeback after they were down, 13 to 0 at the end of the half, Pomona High School's eleven tied the score in the last half, held Covina High School's tough squad to a 13-to-13 tie on the local gridiron this afternoon, before a capacity grand stand of wildly cheering spectators.

Fischer, Covina's star quarterback, and much-touted threat, was stopped in his tracks by Coach Archie Nisbet's crew, the honors going to Timmons and Rauschenbach for the visitors, while the local stars were Tony Oliveras, who pounded Covina's line for huge gains, and the Pomona passing combination, Ades to Wade, which gained much ground for the locals.

The feature play of the game came in the fourth period when Oliveras broke through center for a run of 70 yards to a touchdown, after taking out three Covina players via the straight-arm.

FREMONT RUINS FAIRFAX ELEVEN

Clark Stars as Pathfinders Win, 51-to-0

Walter Clark, Fremont's candidate for All-City League quarterback honors, showed his gridiron abilities yesterday when he personally conducted a 51-to-0 rout of Coach Hugh Welch's Fairfax eleven. Clark scored six touchdowns, and figured on a number of passes that placed the ball in scoring position for others.

Clark started the massacre in the first quarter when he rambled twenty-five yards around his own right end for a touchdown. The first quarter ended 7 to 0, but the Pathfinders rang up three touchdowns for 19 points in the second period. Smith, a substitute halfback, rang up the longest run of the day when he went over center on a split buck for sixty yards and a touchdown in the third quarter. Smith also scored another touchdown. Caldwell, end, and Capt. Dennis, tackle, were outstanding on the Fremont line.

As a result of Fremont's victory over Fairfax, Coach George Dirck's Pathfinders are tied with Manual Arts and Lincoln high schools for first place in the City League.

POLYTECHNIC CONQUERS FRANKLIN ELEVEN, 9-0

Coach Voyle Brennan's Polytechnic grid juggernaut functioned for the first quarter yesterday afternoon, but from then on Franklin's gridders kept the Mechanics' machine in check. The Poly eleven scored a touchdown, a conversion and a safety in the initial period to make the final score 9 to 0.

Franklin got off to a bad start when they fumbled on their own 35-yard line, and Poly recovered. Lott snagged a forward pass to put the ball on the 10-yard line, and Bud Reis, star fullback, bucked the ball over. Reis converted. Soon after, Carter, sub half for the Kiteflyers, received a bad pass from center while trying to kick out of danger, and tried to run the ball out, but was caught by Lott, Poly end, in the end zone for a safety.

Bob Held, playing his last game at halfback for Franklin, was the outstanding player on the field, and got off on the longest run of the day—55 yards to the Poly 20-yard line, where he was caught by the Mechanic safety. Allaire, quarterback, and Kazinsky, tackle, also shone for Franklin, while Reis, Lott and McCullom played good games for the victors.

RECORD ENTRY IN ASCOT RACE

Ralph De Palma Heads List of 46 Pilots Signed Up

With a record number of cars entered and preparations being made for handling one of the largest crowds of the season, everything is in readiness for what is expected to be one of the biggest racing classics held in the West this year, when forty-six racing drivers face the starter in the 100-lap main event at the Legion Ascot Speedway tomorrow afternoon.

Names of prominent drivers from all over the country are among the forty-six who will attempt to qualify for the feature race of the day. Close followers of the racing game are of the opinion that several records will probably fall in the course of events. It is probable that the pilots will have to tour the track in less than 29 seconds in order to qualify for the 100-lap race. This is considered phenomenal speed and a thing which only the stiffest possible kind of competition will be able to accomplish.

Heading the list of the outstanding drivers is Ralph De Palma, for twenty-three years the "daddy" of American racing drivers. De Palma, according to Doc Loring of the Legion board, will not be present merely to be on exhibition, but will put forth an earnest effort to justify the faith held in him by race followers.

Incidentally the great Italian driver has named his mount the Padre Special, a thing which he has never been known to do before. His mounts have usually been identified according to their make.

Eager to cut in on a share of the prize money and glory will be a large number of prominent eastern drivers, all of whom are well known to the sporting public. Foremost among them are Lou Moore, Bill Cummings, Wilbur Shaw, Bill Winn, Babe Stapp, Hermann Schurch and Fred Frame. In addition to the foregoing there is also entered practically all of the local favorites, Francis Quinn, Walt May, Arvol Brunbier, Stubby Stubblefield, Mel McKee, Curley Grandel, Johnny Krieger, Shorty Cantlon and Ernie Triplitt.

The Billy Arnold Special is entered but as yet no driver has been named. Whether Arnold himself will drive it isn't known at present.

PETROLLE COPS M'LARNIN BOUT

clip his rivals on the chin and scarcely bother to see where they fell that they made him a three and four-to-one favorite to beat the hard-hitting westerner who long was believed to have seen the best of his fighting days. But Petrolle fooled McLarnin, and fooled the betting customers, too. He alternated with straight rights that made a mess of the other side of McLarnin's face, and in the clinches he always seemed to hold the upper hand.

McLarnin in defeat was a game and inspiring battler. In the very first round, Petrolle, fighting out of a crouch, plodding relentlessly forward with both fists flying, whipped a right to Jimmy's head that opened a cut under his left eye. In the second McLarnin managed to keep himself erect and even square the third round with a last-minute rally that set Petrolle back on his heels.

Then, when he seemed at last to have found himself, McLarnin ran into that same left hook, a numbing, twisting wallop that caught him full on the chin and floored him for a count of nine, less than a minute after the start of the fourth round.

Jimmy reeled to his feet, took everything the furious punching Petrolle had in his arsenal, and then crumpled again for nine under the barrage. But he came up, battered, absorbed one of the fiercest beatings he ever has been forced to take, and was still on his feet punching back sullenly but with gathering strength as the round ended.

From that point on, though, McLarnin rallied to carry the fifth and ninth rounds. It seemed only a question of how much punishment Jimmy could absorb and still keep on fighting. As the round wore on he took a terrible lacing, but at the end he was still popping with his left, wavering backward, waiting for the right-hand shot that landed occasionally, but never seemed to disturb Petrolle. In all Billy won seven rounds; McLarnin two and one was even.

The astonishing conquest, third in succession in which a highly rated favorite has gone down to defeat in the Garden ring, jumps Petrolle the Fargo Express, now steaming out of Duluth, into the commanding position among the lightweights. He whipped Tony Canzoneri decisively a few weeks before the Italian won the 135-pound title from Al Singer in a surprising knockout here last week. Earlier he dropped a hairline decision to Jackie (Kid) Berg, British whirlwind, in another spectacular duel.

Petrolle's victory rounds out the trio of underdogs in the betting who have finished out in front in the last three Garden fights. Kid Chocolate was 4-to-1 favorite when he lost to Fidel La Barba; Singer was a 4-to-1 choice over Canzoneri, and McLarnin was about anything one wanted to ask from 3-to-1 up. McLarnin had a slight weight advantage, scaling 141 pounds to Petrolle's 138.

BELL BASKETBALLERS BEAT BULLDOGS, 42-19

Coach Noble Waite's Bell High varsity basketball quintet trounced the Garfield casaba tossers, mentored by Fred Johnson, by a 42-to-19 score in a practice game played in the Bell gym yesterday afternoon. Frazier, Bell guard, with 15 points, Dyman, Bell center, with 14, and Johnson, Garfield forward, with 9 were the high scorers of the game. In the preliminary game, the Bell "Bees" beat Garfield, 27 to 15. The line-ups follow:

Bell (42)		Garfield (19)
Harmon (6)	F.	Johnson (9)
Rozier (7)	F.	Tipkin (2)
Lyman (14)	C.	McWilliams (6)
Frazier (15)	G.	Bell (2)

Oregon State Thumps Bruins in 19-to-0 Game

tempted eight passes and completed but one and that was for 11 yards almost in the middle of the field. The Beavers tossed ten passes and completed two of them. One of them incidentally was good for a touchdown.

The Bruins fought like the blazes in the third quarter and just did prevent the Beavers from scoring. So furious was the battling of the two teams that at one time the referee put Roberts of the Bruins and Root of Oregon State out of the game for being a bit too rough. Evidently these boys were giving a little too much when they collided.

SHERWOOD CARRIED OFF

The Beavers with Cecil Sherwood and Ralph Buerke carrying the ball advanced the pigskin on end runs intermixed with a few lateral-pass plays to the 19-yard line. The quarter ended with the ball at that point and the Bruins still had a chance to make themselves famous. The Beavers in the fourth quarter pushed the ball to the 15-yard line, where the Bruins held like a stone wall. Bob Decker broke through to toss Sherwood for a loss and the U.C.L.A. boys got the ball and the cheers of the crowd. Oregon State had advanced the ball 60 yards in fifteen plays when they lost it to the battling Bruins. Sherwood was the spark plug of the attack and he was tackled so hard by the hard-fighting Westwooders that he was carried off the field with a bady injured leg.

Then the Bruins punted up the field. On a lateral pass, Buerke to McKalip to Thompson, the Beavers put the ball on the Bruin 27-yard line. It was a 23-yard gain and a nice play. Little then plunged to the 14-yard line with the ball where he was spilled by Gordon Jones. Buerke then passed to McKalip a short one and the latter galloped 12 yards to score. Thompson converted but the Beavers were holding and the goal was not allowed.

The next score of the game came when Coquelle Thompson intercepted Solomon's pass and ran 51 yards for a touchdown. Thompson converted. There was some confusion about who made the touchdown as it was announced from the field that "Honolulu" Hughes had scored it. At any rate, it went to Oregon State and that is what counts on the scoreboard.

"Honolulu" Hughes and his teammates were presented later with special feather leis by his father and John F. Colburn III, who made a trip from Hawaii to see the boy perform last night. The Beavers leave this morning for Chicago, where they play West Virginia Thanksgiving Day.

RAH FOR DUNCAN

One boy who deserves more than passing mention is Norm Duncan of the Bruins, who was a real ball player last night. He made 41 yards in fourteen plays. The Bruins made a total of 76, so you can see how good the Norm was. Give the little boy a hand. If the Bruins had more like him, the outcome might have been different.

A crowd of 10,000 witnessed the game.

peddler, the latter's fighting tactics kept the crowd on edge. He tore around the ring swinging his dynamic right hand, which, if it had connected, might have knocked Loughran into the middle of next week. Instead, however, most of Levinsky's right-hand blasts lashed harmlessly into the atmosphere or around Loughran's neck.

The Chicago fish merchant, who had given promise of becoming a heavyweight diamond in the rough because of his achievement of flooring Leo Lomski twelve times, was always dangerous with his right-hand blasts, but he was a serious menace only in one round, the second, when Loughran was floored.

OJAN MENTOR SELECTS CARDS OVER CALIFORNIA

Coach Claims Notre Dame Strong for Northwestern; Eli Has Edge on Crimson

HOWARD JONES PREDICTS:

Today

vs. Stanford—Stanford should win.
vs. Montana—Slight edge to Idaho.
vs. Pomona—Occidental by shade.

Thanksgiving Day

California vs. Washington—Washington held Washing- a field goal, which is more than we did, so I look for hardest games.
Mary's vs. Oregon "U"—St. Mary's ought to win.
State vs. West Virginia at Chicago—Oregon State is al-
Tech vs. San Diego State—Edge to California Tech.

BY HOWARD JONES,
Football Coach, University of Southern California
1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

normally been referred to as one of the big games Coast, the Stanford-California affair, finds both this year, with neither having a chance for the as Washington State has already won that honor. lost to Washington State, Olympic Club, Washing- California, while Stanford was also defeated by team.

has made very the past two Stanford to win by a margin of at least two touchdowns. There isn't a great deal to choose between the linemen on the two teams, but I feel that Stanford has quite an edge in the matter of backfield strength.

Stanford won last year and although neither team is as strong as it was appears to have about as was the case then was 41 to 6. From standpoint much de- the condition of certain been laid up with in- the Bears are able to put strength on the field the be very close.

other Pacific Coast Conference game scheduled for today is that which features Idaho against Montana. Idaho ought to win this one, although not without a struggle.

In the Southern California Conference Occidental and Pomona meet in their annual historic game. Neither team has done very well this season but can close the season with a feeling of satisfaction by winning this particular contest. Occidental appears to have an offensive edge.

There are a number of important Thanksgiving Day games on the Pacific Coast. Washington comes to Los Angeles to face Southern California and I look for this to be one of the best games of the year. We lost to Washington State, 7 to 6, and Washington also lost to the same team, 3 to 0, which ought to indicate how close our game should be. Washington has a powerful line and a fine back in Hufford, who is only just beginning to hit his stride after a season interrupted by injuries.

St. Mary's and Oregon "U" play in San Francisco and St. Mary's, after defeating Fordham in New York City, ought to take the measure of the Oregonians. Slip Madigan did Pacific Coast football a very good turn when he invaded the East and won over hitherto undefeated Fordham.

Oregon State, which always comes rapidly at the close of the year, engages West Virginia in Chicago. Paul Schissler's teams have a habit of winding up each season with an intersectional victory and I rather believe the present eleven will maintain this record.

California Tech, the only unbeaten team in the Southern California Conference, plays San Diego State and ought to close the year with a perfect record, thus capturing the championship for the first time since 1923.

ZUPPKE FAVORS IRISH TO WIN

By Bob Zuppke
Illinois Football Coach
(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

URBANA (Ill.) Nov. 21.—The most important game this week-end brings together a Notre Dame team believed by many to be the best in the university's history and a Northwestern eleven which has won all its games and has gained a tie at least for the Big Ten championship.

One popular slant has been to ascribe the contest as a struggle between two well-known systems of offense, the shifting backfield of Notre Dame versus the double-wingback style used by Northwestern. The inference is that victory by Notre Dame will prove the superiority of the shift over all other systems, and victory by Northwestern the superiority of the double-wing back.

This is all bunk. The team that wins at Evanston will do so not because it uses one style of offense or another, but because it has the better personnel.

Notre Dame-Northwestern: Notre Dame. The Irish backs will probably turn the tide, though Northwestern has a good chance.
Illinois-Ohio State: Fesler's passing may decide this game. Ohio State on paper looks better, but Illinois has a chance.
Michigan-Chicago: Michigan. The Wolverines will win this game and a tie for the championship.
Wisconsin-Minnesota: Wisconsin. A close one in which anything may happen.
Purdue-Indiana: Purdue. Too much speed and strength for the Hoosiers.
Iowa-Nebraska: Nebraska. But probably little to choose between 'em.
Kansas-Missouri: Kansas. The Jayhawkers have the stuff if they can put it across.
Kansas Aggies-Centre: Kansas Aggies. Bo McMillen will want to show the home folk.
Oklahoma-Oklahoma Aggies: Oklahoma. A tight intra-State battle, with Oklahoma thinking about Missouri November 27.
Iowa State-Drake: Drake the Bulldogs looked well against Notre Dame last week.
Michigan State-Detroit: Michigan State. A close one.

ROPER SELECTS YALE TO SCORE

BY W. W. (BILL) ROPER
Princeton Football Coach
(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

PRINCETON (N. J.) Nov. 21. (AP) The leading game in the East this Saturday is Yale-Harvard at New Haven. No matter what the preliminary season of each team has been, when they meet the battle is sure to be bitterly contested.

I favor Yale because I believe they are the stronger all-around eleven and are much better equipped with reserve material. Good substitutes are very important factors. Yale has a second team nearly equal to its first.

Harvard has a good first team provided the regulars have gotten over their injuries, but their reserve material is much weaker. Harvard has a first-class passer in Barry Wood. Booth of Yale is in fine condition, and is eager to play one of his great games.

EAST

Yale-Harvard: Yale.
Army-Ursinus: Army.
Brown-New Hampshire: Brown.
Bucknell-Fordham: Fordham.
Haverford-Delaware: Haverford.
Lafayette-Lehigh: Close.
Navy-Maryland: Navy.
New York University-Rutgers: New York University.
Swarthmore-Dickinson: Swarthmore.
Temple-Carnegie Tech: Temple.
Villanova-Georgetown: Georgetown.

SOUTH

South Carolina-North Carolina: South Carolina.
Southwestern-Sewanee: Sewanee.
Rice-Southern Methodist: Southern Methodist.
Vanderbilt-Alabama Poly: Vanderbilt.
West Virginia-Washington and Jefferson: West Virginia.

Kalili Joins Swim Forces at Hollywood

Maiola Kalili, the Hawaiian swimmer, who put the famous Pacific Ocean islands back on the aquatic map last summer by winning the national 440-yard championship, will compete for the Hollywood A. C. This announcement came yesterday from Clyde Swenson, Film City swimming coach. Manuela Kalili, a younger brother, will also swim for the H.A.C., Swenson stated. The Kalilis arrive here Thursday from the Hawaiian Islands. Swenson claims he will have the strongest swimming team in the country when the 1932 Olympics roll around.

GOLDEN BEARS HOPE FOR BEST

be the crowning upset of the year, east or west.

However, California supporters take great heart in what a downtrodden Princeton team almost did to Yale a week ago. Yale was a 4-to-1 favorite, and barely won, 10 to 7, with the gun halting Princeton on the Yale two-yard line.

Anything can happen in football these days, and California men are praying something will happen to gladden their hearts tomorrow.

Since the 1923 victory California has scraped out a couple of ties—20 to 20 in 1924, and 13 to 13 in 1928—but there's nothing else to cheer about.

If the boys coached by Nibs Price could win tomorrow all would be forgiven, and Nibs would be sure of his job until his contract expires, at least. If the Bears lose tomorrow, the howl is certain to go up for a new coach.

CALIFORNIA CRIPPLED

California has to start the game without two of its best performers, Hank Schaldach, the triple threat artist, and Valianos, who starred in the Trojan game until injured.

Rusty Gill, fullback, also is still nursing injuries from the S.C. debacle, but in a measure offsetting this is the return to the line-up of Ed Kirwan, quarterback.

He is the best safety man the Bears have. He was not used in the game at Los Angeles, having been injured in the St. Mary's contest.

Ray East will take Schaldach's place at half. He is tremendously fast and will go places if the Bears can shoot him into the open.

The Bears have a good line, and if the wings and secondary, which broke down against Southern California, can hold up tomorrow the score may not be so bad.

Beckett is a tower of strength at guard, and if the other boys follow his cue all will be well with the forward positions.

CARDS IMPROVED

Stanford has come strong since the S.C. beating and enters the game with the Bears at full strength.

The Cards will start practically the same line-up that opened against the Trojans with the exception of Hulen for Heiser at left guard.

Moffatt, Rothert, Hillman and Caglieri have been named as Stanford's opening backfield. California's quartet will be Kirwan, Griffiths, East and Garrity.

The probable line-ups:

California		Stanford
Stone	L.E.	Neill
Timmerman	L.T.	Bogue
Beckett	L.G.	Hulen
Eickmeyer	C.	Taylor
Handy (C.)	R.G.	Bardin
Cahn	R.T.	Tandy (C.)
Thornton	R.E.	Doub
Kirwan	Q.B.	Hillman
Griffiths	L.H.	Moffatt
East	R.H.	Caglieri
Garrity	F.B.	Rothert

Officials—Referee, Herb Dana, Nebraska; umpire, Thomas Louttit, Oregon State; field judge, William Mulligan, Gonzaga; head linesman, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Utah.

LAWLESS WINNER IN TOWNSEND BOUT

DETROIT, Nov. 21. (AP)—Bucky Lawless, clever Syracuse welterweight, easily outpointed Billy Townsend of Vancouver, B. C., in a ten-round bout here tonight. Lawless weighed 147, Townsend, 144 3-4.

YANK ARMY FOUR LOSES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Eighth Corps Area polo team of the United States Army lost the initial contest of a three-game series here today when a picked Mexican team of soldiers and civilians, taking in the leading players of the republic, romped to a 12-to-4 victory.

JACKSON, WALKER SIGN FOR FIGHT AT OLYMPIC

Sammy Jackson and Paulie Walker were booked late yesterday by the Olympic to box ten rounds on December 2. The match had been in the making for several days.

The fighters will make 148 pounds at 2 o'clock the day of the fight. Jackson's management had held out for a big share of the percentage until yesterday.

Both boys were to have been featured here in gigantics—Jackson with Tommy Freeman, welterweight champion, and Walker with Young Corbett. The matches fell by the wayside when Corbett became ill with an infected tooth and Freeman had an attack of influenza. Cecil Payne and Eddie Mack go to the post Tuesday night. Most of the boxing experts are tabbing Payne to whip the Denver collegian.

The two boxers will finish training tomorrow. Both are under 135 pounds, the weight at which they are signed.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday announced the complete supporting card for Tuesday. Several new faces will appear on the bill.

The line-up is: Louie Avery vs. Teddy Palacios, six rounds; Wallie Hunt vs. Steve Hayden, six rounds; Eddie Neal vs. Young Al Calone, four rounds, and Richie Franklin vs. Mickey Smith.

Avery hails from Tulsa, Okla. He recently fought Tommy Grogan in Omaha and holds wins over Harry Blitman of Philadelphia and Harry Dublinsky of Chicago. Hunt is a 200-pounder from Bakersfield with eleven straight wins.

NORTHWESTERN BATTLES IRISH

make interesting such other conference games as Ohio State-Illinois, Purdue-Indiana, Minnesota-Wisconsin. Iowa takes on Nebraska in the renewal of another neighborly rivalry.

Southern gridirons have a breathing spell so far as the conference championship race is concerned, with Alabama and Tulane setting the pace. These two will be tied with perfect conference records if they dispose of Georgia and Louisiana State, respectively, Thanksgiving Day.

The Big Six features the classic between Kansas and Missouri. It will be none the less hard fought because of the early season debate over the eligibility of certain Jayhawker players, including Jim Bausch, and the ouster move against Kansas.

Bo McMillan's Kansas Aggies play Centre in a game that revives memories of the days when Bo led the "Praying Colonels" of Kentucky to nation-wide gridiron fame. It might be a better match if McMillan could play for his old team again.

The Southwest Conference race is still undecided despite the sensational rush of the University of Texas. The rampaging Longhorns do not play tomorrow, but Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, the 1929 champion, hope to keep in the running by beating Baylor and Rice, respectively.

Utah in the Rocky Mountain Conference and Washington State in the Pacific Coast Conference already have clinched their sectional titles, the former for the third straight year.

The eastern field still presents a scrambled situation with Colgate, Fordham, Yale, Army and Dartmouth among the strongest. The Elis, if they beat Harvard, will have a claim for sectional honors. Fordham must beat Bucknell tomorrow to stay in the running. Colgate has engagements to keep with Brown and New York University, the latter a benefit game. Army meets Notre Dame and then its old rival, the Navy. Dartmouth closes its campaign by going west to play Stanford next Saturday.

but Lieb and his Lions have resolved there will be no comfortable margin this time. In fact, there are optimistic rooters, who, after scanning what Lieb has already done this year, feel that he may be able to spring an upset this afternoon.

Storm and Mettler, two very good backs, are looked upon as the main Bronco threats. Chris Machado, another speedy ball carrier who generally stars for the Santa Clara eleven, has been laid up with injuries and may not play today.

The game starts at 2:15 p.m., and ought to be well worth seeing.

Cochran Still Leading Hoppe

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Welker Cochran, the Hollywood (Cal.) challenger, increased his lead over Willie Hoppe, the title-holder, tonight by winning the tenth block of their match for the 18.1 balkline billiards championship, 300 to 279. Cochran now has a margin of 3000 to 2267.

For the ninth time in ten blocks, Cochran had a run of over 100 when he wound up tonight with an unfinished run of 157. It was the fourth time in the match he had passed the former record run of 140. Hoppe, running 154 in the ninth and final inning, beat the mark for the second time.

As in the afternoon block, which Hoppe won, 549 to 300, Cochran had difficulty reaching the form that had carried him through the early part of the match. But after Hoppe made his fine cluster, the challenger came back with an even better one and left the balls in good position for the start of tomorrow's play.

MENLO JAYSEES NAB TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP) Menlo Junior College won the 1930 football championship of the California Coast Conference today by defeating Marin Junior College, 27-0.

OXY, POMONA CLASH TODAY

an Orv Mohler, but he does evade tacklers quite creditably.

There isn't any "Poke" Hartman in the Pomona backfield this year, and therein lies Pomona's weakness. Nixon hasn't been able to fill that efficient young man's shoes. With somebody of the caliber of Hartman, or Merritt, or some of Pomona's other famous backs, the Sagehens would be a real threat.

LONG DROUGHT

Locally, the Pomona-Oxy game is as important to Southern California fans as the Yale-Harvard contest is to New England, or the Stanford-California tilt is to San Francisco. The boys have been meeting almost regularly since 1895. Pomona has won sixteen of the games; Occidental has taken thirteen, and one was tied. The Sagehens won in 1927, 14 to 7, which is the only victory Nixon's athletes have scored since the 31-21 epic of 1924. Line-ups for the two games:

OXY SCORES MORAL VICTORY OVER POMONA

Imagine the chagrin of thirty Pomona freshmen yesterday morning at 4:30 when a party of supposedly Oxy rooters upset their well laid plans for a big rally last night by setting fire to the Sagehen bonfire.

The Sagehen frosh were supposed to be guarding the huge pile of wood, but went to sleep on the job and their rivals scored a moral victory by burning it down and retiring without loss or injury.

Courtney Cops Nod in Slow Legion Bout

George Courtney, one of Jack Kearns's powder-puff boxers, took a decision over Joe Goedders last night in the ten-round main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium. The affair was pretty slow, Courtney not showing much, while Goedders proved to be green and clumsy.

Courtney was guilty of low punching on three occasions, Goedders going to the floor in the ninth round from a punch below the belt. Referee Larry McGrath almost stopped the melee in the seventh and called it no-contets but for some reason allowed it to continue.

Courtney, who is overrated and hailed as a star boxer, failed to impress, only exhibiting ability to use his elbows and to hold.

The semi-wind-up was the only saving feature of the card, both Mack and Hood standing toe to toe in a wild slugfest.

Ernie Hood outpointed Jimmy Mack in the six-round semi-windup to take the decision. Mack was on the floor twice, in the second for no count, and the bell saved him in the fourth after the referee had counted to four.

Johnny Previs knocked out Leo Lomelli in the third round of the special event. A wallop to the solar plexus did the trick.

Tony Ross defeated John Rogers in one of the four-round preliminaries, while Mickey Erno scored a technical knockout over Addie Benjuiao in the second round of the opener.

TWO MAIN EVENTS ON BOXING BILL TONIGHT

Tom Moore and Andy Casanova, light heavyweights, and Harry Wallinder and Manuel Trevino, 130-pounders, box the two six-round feature bouts on the Main-street Athletic Club boxing card tonight.

Three four-round bouts, all of which appear to be club fights, make up the rest of the card. They are: Santos Maniano vs. Jimmy Martinez, 112 pounds; Lucky Baldwin vs. Tony Gaitan, 135 pounds, and Melvin Bobo vs. Guillerno Gerola, 138 pounds. The card is well balanced from start to finish.

AGUIRRE IS KAYOED BY SAMMY JACKSON

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Sammy Jackson, Santa Monica Negro welterweight, knocked out Sammy Aguirre, Los Angeles, in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Jackson sent Aguirre to the canvas with a driving attack to the head and body.

DE GLANE HOPES TO BEAT LEWIS

Greco-Roman Champ Sure of Mat Victory

Henri De Glane, world's Greco-Roman mat king, believes he will make short work of Ed (Strangler) Lewis when they step into the ring at the Olympic Wednesday night for their one-fall, one-hour time limit battle.

Although this match is the special event on this card, preceding the finish battle between Dan Koloff and Don George, wrestling fans who have seen De Glane in action here against Everette Marshall, look for as sensational a bout as the feature event.

In the many years that Lewis has been wrestling he has met few Greco-Roman wrestlers of De Glane's ability. About nine years ago Lewis met Stanislaus Zbyszko, the great Pole, who came here as Greco-Roman champion in 1909, and was defeated in a title match. Zbyszko uncorked too many Greco-Roman holds for the headlock artist, and as a result, he lost the title that he had won from Joe Stecher the year before.

When De Glane first came to this country Lewis thought he would eliminate the Frenchman as a title contender before he learned too many of the catch-as-catch-can holds and became a serious threat to his title. De Glane, using only Greco-Roman holds, held Lewis to a draw in a two-hour match. Since then De Glane has improved and become stronger. He declared yesterday that he expects to pin Lewis's shoulders to the mat in about thirty minutes' time.

SHELL TIGERS IN HOCKEY CONTEST

MAJOR HOCKEY LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pts.
Shell V.D. Tigers	4	3	8
Sunfreze Bears	4	3	8
Gilmore Lions	3	3	6
Union Oil Pirates	3	5	6

"Doc" Claman and his husky Shell V and D Tigers have a chance to get undisputed possession of first place tonight at the Winter Garden, when they meet Ted Le Roy's Gilmore Lions in the seventeenth game of the Southern California Major Ice Hockey League. The clubs will line up promptly at 8:30 p.m. Play-by-play accounts of the game will be broadcast over KMTR.

With a chance to meet the northern champions here in a post-season series at the end of the schedule, the teams are getting down to serious business and faster hockey is certain to take place. Floyd Carleton, one of the owners of the Garden, announced that one of the fastest amateur hockey clubs in the country would be imported for a series of games with the local champions. Last season Carleton sent for the Vancouver Ballards and the venture was a successful one for the Garden.

Owing to the pro hockey game Monday night, the Sunfreze-Union battle scheduled for that night will be moved back to Thursday night.

FIREMEN AND MARINES BATTLE ON GRIDIRON

Fire department football players coached by Bill Blewett battle the San Diego Marines coached by Johnny Blewett tomorrow afternoon at the Rose Bowl. Jim Blewett, another brother, will referee. The game is expected to be a tough one with at least one of the Belewetts getting the best of it. Jim claims he will call his shots as he sees them and that if either Johnny or Bill do any squaking it will be just too bad for them. Between all of that the Firemen and the Leathernecks will settle their football war for the season.

Last year the Firemen won over the Marines. They are again favored to win this year because of their fine record to date. The Smoke-Eaters have one of the highest scoring teams in the country. They have rolled up 252 points to their opponents' 39. This is by far a better record than the Marines can boast this year.

The Marines invade the Rose Bowl tomorrow with thirty-five players.

The kik-off is scheduled for 2 p.m. E. O. Barnett, athletic director of the Fire Department, announced today that both the Fire Department and Marine bands will be on hand to entertain with music.

MARY PICKFORD PLANS COMEDY

Lasky Loans June Collyer to Tiffany Concern

Marie Prevost Wins Role in Gilbert Picture

Richard Arlen Film Called "The Westerner"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Just where Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks will spend Christmas remains in doubt.

MARY PICKFORD

There is a possibility that Miss Pickford may at once start work on another picture to follow "Kiki," but so far she has not definitely selected the story. She is quite sure, however, she said yesterday, that she will choose a comedy. And it will probably be from a stage play.

In case she does go to work at once, she will, of course, be unable to travel with Douglas. In any case, he is loth to go without her.

Again, Mary is a home-keeping body, who much prefers spending Christmas at home with relatives and friends. And there is the question of taking Gwynne, her niece, out of school for the necessary six or eight weeks, since she does not wish to go away without her at the holidays.

But Douglas is keen for a trip, and wants to go to St. Moritz, and from there up through Siberia. An alternative he is offering his wife by way of compromise, is a trip through the South Seas.

"I suppose it is good for a man occasionally to take a rough trip," said Mary, "but such travel is more complicated for a woman. Besides I feel that it is not good for me to remain off the screen too long, and I am all in the harness now and really eager to start work on another picture."

If Miss Pickford does decide to take the trip abroad, there is a possibility that Sam Taylor will go along and work on a story.

"But can't you see," Mary said yesterday, "all of us sliding down the toboggans in St. Moritz, and yelling as we whizz past each other. 'What do you think of that situation?'"

JUNE COLLYER GOES TO TIFFANY

An excellent acting opportunity is coming to June Collyer, who is to play the lead in one of Tiffany's specials, "Drums of Jeopardy," we learned yesterday.

JUNE COLLYER

Paramount is loaning Miss Collyer to Tiffany for the role, which is to be an exacting one. The young lady is, however, capable of a fine portrayal.

Warner Oland probably will play the leading male part, although I understand he is not yet signed. George B. Seitz will direct.

MARIE PREVOST SIGNED BY M.-G.-M.

When "Gentleman's Fate" goes into production at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios with Jack Gilbert starred, the picture will have in one of the leading feminine roles, that of a high-class society crook, that versatile and accomplished actress, Marie Prevost.

MARIE PREVOST

Miss Prevost was signed yesterday for the role, and her sister leads in the picture will be Anita Page and Leila Hyams, as heretofore announced.

The actress has shown herself quite as much at home in the talkers as she was on the silent screen, and has been working steadily.

Mervyn Leroy is directing.

Richard Arlen's Next

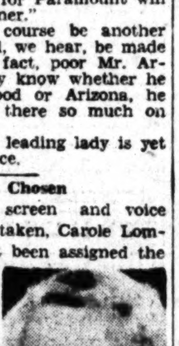
I was able to glean the news yesterday that Richard Arlen's next starring picture for Paramount will be "The Westerner."

This will, of course be another western, and will, we hear, be made in Arizona. In fact, poor Mr. Arlen doesn't really know whether he lives in Hollywood or Arizona, he has been down there so much on location of late.

No director or leading lady is yet ready to announce.

Carole Lombard Chosen

After several screen and voice tests have been taken, Carole Lombard has at last been assigned the important role of leading lady opposite William Powell in Powell's next Paramount starring vehicle, "Ladies' Man."



CAROL LOMBARD

Miss Lombard, who was appearing in silent pictures during three or four years, has been discovered as equally gifted in the talking pictures. She was signed on contract by Paramount, recently. Her latest role was in "Fast and Loose."

BANDITS HOLD UP LAWNDALE BANK

Between $1300 and $1500 Taken in Daylight

Manager, Clerk and Woman Customer Menaced

Third Man in Waiting Auto Assists in Escape

Holding the bank manager, a director, a clerk and a woman customer at bay, two of a trio of bandits early yesterday afternoon procured between $1300 and $1500 from the First Exchange State Bank of Lawndale and made good their escape in an automobile driven by a third man.

Highways and various other avenues of escape throughout the county were under close guard last night by a force of deputy sheriffs under Capt. Stensland of the Sheriff's burglary and robbery detail.

With drawn guns, the two men entered the bank shortly before 1 p.m., and backing Mrs. Gladys Cantopulos, 125 East Market street, Hawthorne, a customer, into a corner, forced R. Earl Miller, director, R. R. Hopkins, manager, and Clare Harrison, teller and book-keeper, to one side while they stuffed the money into their pockets, according to Deputy Sheriffs Wigginton and West. The money consisted principally of currency, approximately $250 in bills being overlooked by the bandits in their hurried departure.

While the men were perpetrating the hold-up inside the bank a third man sat in an automobile outside and waited after having backed the vehicle up close to another parked machine to conceal the rear license plate from Mrs. Mildred Jennings, 622 West Eighty-seventh street, who had accompanied Mrs. Cantopulos to the bank.

The men who entered the bank were described as being about 30 and 35 years of age, and about five feet six inches and six feet in height. The man in the automobile was described by witnesses as being about 38 and about five feet ten inches in height.

MEDBURY TO BROADCAST GALA EVENT

"Morocco" Premier Will Be Described Over Nine Radio Stations

The gala premiere of "Morocco" at the Chinese Theater Tuesday night will be reported over a radio chain of nine stations from the lobby by John P. Medbury, noted humorist. Medbury has been attracting attention of late, it is said, with his national broadcasts.

A sound-proof booth, with Celotex walls, is being constructed in the Chinese Theater lobby to insure perfect broadcasting, the theater management reports. Paul Finstein and his Bedouin orchestra of strings and reeds will furnish a musical background to the program.

Marlene Dietrich is starred in "Morocco," with Gary Cooper and Adolphe Menjou chief in support.

Raoul Walsh's "The Big Trail" will have its last performance at the Chinese tomorrow night.

Tower Screens 'Kitty Bellairs'

"Sweet Kitty Bellairs" is proving a popular attraction at the Tower Theater. It is a romantic and amusing story. Claudia Dell, Walter Pidgeon, Perry Askam and Ernest Torrence play leading roles.

The antics of Kitty Bellairs, notorious flirt of her day, are engagingly portrayed by Claudia Dell. June Collyer is her married sister. The film was adapted from the Belasco stage show.

'SUNNY' OPENING DOUBLE-HEADER

Marilyn Miller Film Shows at Two Theaters

Comedy Episodes Feature New Fun-Maker

Star Re-enacts Her Popular Stage Portrayal

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Celebrate the arrival of another comedian. Joe Donahue may be listed as just a supporting actor in the cast of Marilyn Miller's "Sunny," but he manages to steal the picture away from nearly everybody. Occasionally, too, he is ably aided and abetted by O. P. Heggie, who contrives also to be funny.

Donahue is an unctuously rather than a wildly amusing person, but he shines in the environment of the feature which is showing at both Warner's Hollywood and Warner's Downtown theaters, another double-header opening. I imagine he will be even more of a hit as he travels along. His material is not super-excellent on this occasion, though with the opportunities that are available he manifests a droll and easy humor. He is the brother, by the way, of Jack Donahue, noted stage player, who died only recently in the East.

"Sunny" is Miss Miller's second starring film, and of course her dancing, singing and personal charm are enticing, though the seeming addition of a few extra pounds of weight, (and the lack of color photography, I would say, too, is a slight handicap to the duplication of the dazzling impression she made in "Sally." I vote for Miss Miller anyway as a screen presence, because avoirdupois is after all a slight obstacle, what with Hollywood's expert methods of overcoming it. And the radiant sunshine of this star's individuality should be kept as an embellishment of the screen.

"Sunny" inclines to talk itself to death in the first reel or two, but once it gets moving with the sailing of the trans-Atlantic liner, the story travels rather lightly along. The sparkle of "Sally" is lacking, though there is a sufficiency of comedy and romance—enough probably to yield very fair enjoyment.

Miss Miller wears a varied set of costumes, including the circus-rider's a la ballet garb; the ragamuffin's outfit in which she runs away from her employer, and finally an elaborate bridal gown during the marriage ceremony aboard the ship. She also appears in several especial dance costumes.

Lawrence Gray appears as the vacillating hero of "Sunny," who can't make up his mind until the last minute whether he wants to wed the circus heroine, or the girl to whom he is engaged. Gray and Miss Miller sing the number "Who" together very pleasingly early in the picture. Incidentally, it is one of the few numbers from the original stage piece that are warbled from the screen.

Heggie, I have mentioned, as giving a most competent performance. Inez Courtney with her eccentric manner is also funny, both in her scenes with Donahue and McKenzie Ward. As if that were not enough comiques for one feature, there is Clyde Cook just doing a bit. Barbara Bedford and Judith Voselli are the seriously prominent.

William Seiter directed this feature, which was adapted by Humphrey Pearson and Henry McCarty, and the comedy episodes that they devised are often creditable.

Next in order of entertainment is a Looney Tune Carton, called "Big Man From the North." It is a clever take-off on the Northwest mounted police stories, well synchronized.

Judith Anderson appears in the dramatic, "Madam of the Jury," and a short film of a series, "Straight and Narrow," has fair punch.

German Film Now Showing at Filmarte

Tantalizing because it tells a story in another language, "The Tiger of Berlin" at once provokes one's interest and disappoints one's expectations.

This UFA mystery film which opened at the Filmarte last night has been heralded as the finest German talkie to reach this country. It is certainly shorter, more modern and more advanced than most.

Evidently, the suspense of "The Tiger of Berlin" rests more with its dialogue than it does with the action. Although through pantomime the plot becomes fairly clear, the real progress of the picture remains hidden to the person not understanding German.

In directing this realistic account of murder in a metropolis, Johannes Meyer has obtained no scene as original as that in which the screen remains perfectly dark for some seconds with the murderer's and captor's voices ringing out between shots from the blackness.

Meyer's professional skill, as well as the picture itself, can be only inadequately appreciated by the foreigner. It is a talkie with long stops for dialogue which must remain unintelligible. One can follow only the action; therefore, it seems neither fish nor fowl, nor good ready hearing.

A beautiful blond resembling Vilma Banky portrays the leading feminine role. Charlotte Sufa's ability as an actress is not to be doubted. Nor, in fact, is that of any other member of the cast. A characterization, smooth and deliberate, is given by Harry Frank, one of the suspected ones in the story. And, as is now expected of Germany's histrionic efforts, each character bit is chiseled to near perfection.

Carl Hoffman, whose work is alway remembered, is responsible for the photography.

ARTISTS TO APPEAR AT MUSICALE

Mme. Braslau, Mishel Piastro and Others Will Present Numbers

With final preparations completed, everything is reported in readiness for the autumn musicale at the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening.

Featuring Mme. Sophie Braslau, Metropolitan Opera contralto; Mishel Piastro, violinist and concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and Olga Steeb, noted local pianist, the recital is to be one of the most brilliant, both in program and personnel, presented in Los Angeles in many months, it is said. Mme. Braslau will sing three groups of numbers, and Miss Steeb and Piastro will each appear in two groups of classical and semi-classical offerings. Accompanists are Inna Rublova and Nino Herschel.

A large and representative audience is expected to greet the participating artists. Sponsored by a list of 100 local citizens, the autumn musicale is being presented under the auspices of the Los Angeles central committee of the Jewish National Fund.

'Her Man' Due on Orpheum Screen Today

"Her Man," vivid drama of adventure in a notorious foreign resort city, starts at the Orpheum Theater today.

Helen Twelvetrees, who appeared in "Swing High" and "The Grand Parade," has the leading feminine role; and Phillips Holmes, who appeared in "Devil's Holiday," plays the hero. Ricardo Cortez is seen as the villain. Marjorie Rambeau also has an important part.

The supporting cast also includes Jimmy Gleason and Harry Sweet, and others are Franklin Pangborn, Thelma Todd, Mathew Betz and Slim Summerville.

"Her Man" was written by Tay Garnett and Howard Higgin, who conceived it from the song, "Frankie and Johnnie." Garnett directed.

HAMILTON CHOSEN

As soon as Neil Hamilton finished his role in "The Spy" for Fox he was chosen for the leading male part in "The Command Performance" for the James Cruze studio. Una Merkle, Lawrence Grant, Albert Gran and others will compose the cast of the picture which Walter Lang will direct.

LATIN STAR WINS FAVOR IN PICTURE

Carmen Larrabeiti Gives Finished Performance in "Dona Mentiras"

BY SALVADOR BAGUEZ

Reminiscent of the finesse and charm of Claudette Colbert when she appeared opposite Walter Huston in "The Lady Lies," Carmen Larrabeiti, one of the few contemporary dramatic actresses of Spain, makes her initial appearance on the audible screen in "Dona Mentiras," Paramount's Spanish version of the story by John Meehan. The picture is on view at the California International Theater.

Picturegoers who viewed the original version will find that the direction and dialogue of Fernandez Ardavin, a playwright of some note in the Spanish-speaking countries, has slightly deviated from that of Hobart Henley, who directed the English version. However, the trend of the story is unfolded in a similar way.

It is very seldom that one is privileged to admire as fine a portrayal as that offered by Miss Larrabeiti. She depicts the lovely lady who forces herself to pass as a woman of the world, concealing all her sincere feelings in order to preserve the happiness of those she loves. Her reading of lines is so perfect that all local students of Spanish will do well to see this picture.

Felix De Pomes, appearing in the role created by Walter Huston, does very well, as do Carmen Moragas, Elena D'Algy and others. Miguel Ligero is an excellent understudy of the inebriated characterization presented by Charles Ruggles in the original version.

The remainder of the unusually interesting program is featured by the debut of Charles Chase in Spanish comedies, the comic appearing in "Una Cana al Aire." Carmen Guerrero and Alfonso Pedroza help Senor Chase keep the audience in an uproarious state. The customary newsreel is also on view.

WILL ROGERS PLAYS HOST TO VETERANS

Noted Humorist Appears on Orpheum Stage; Screen Bill Changes Today

Patrons of the Orpheum Theater last night were given an extra amount of entertainment when Will Rogers, inimitable wit, sauntered on to the stage and in his typical style commented on this and that.

Rogers acted as guest of honor of the County Council of the American Legion and was enthusiastically received by the crowded house. His remarks covered a wide field, running from Al Capone to the unemployment situation. Rogers doubled up the audience by definitely stating that he would not wise-crack about Capone.

Following the noted humorist's commentaries, the American Legion members viewed "Check and Double Check" on the screen.

FOOD MACHINE EARNINGS GAIN

Successor to John Bean in Annual Report

Net Income Exceeds $4 Per Share of Common

Sales Increase 34 Per Cent to Hit $7,400,000

Net profits of Food Machinery Corporation for the fiscal year ended September 30, amounted to $826,295 after all charges, including provision for Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $4.09 a share on 190,088 no-par common shares outstanding, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

These profits compare with $783,177 reported earned in the preceding fiscal year, equal after preferred dividends to $4.47 a share on 165,348 common shares then outstanding and represent an increase of $43,118. Preferred dividends this year amounted to $48,750 and last year, $44,764.

SALES UP SHARPLY

Net sales for the year aggregated $7,428,917 as against $5,553,490 in the preceding year, an increase of $1,875,427, or 34 per cent. Cost of sales and operating expenses, however, increased $1,713,003 from $4,487,131 in 1929 to $6,200,134 for the year just ended.

After larger charge-offs for depreciation and development costs, net operating income amounted to $841,806 as compared with $811,405 a year ago, a gain of $30,401.

Miscellaneous income was $33,000 higher at $185,488 and interest charges approximately $27,000 less at $94,380. Federal tax provision was increased from $60,000 in 1929 to $106,619 for the year just closed.

GROWTH OUTLINED

Food Machinery Corporation is the successor to John Bean Manufacturing Company, established in 1884. Within the past two years an extensive development program was initiated which since that time has brought into the company by purchase and consolidation, seven corporations, most of which are engaged in the manufacture of packing equipment and machinery for packing fruits, fish, milk, meats, etc.

The original company specialized in the manufacture of spray pumps, turbine pumps, fruit washers and automotive equipment.

Companies in which a controlling interest was acquired or purchased outright within the past two years include Anderson-Barngrover Manufacturing Company, Sprague Sells Corporation, Stebler Parker Company, Cutler Manufacturing Company, Florida Citrus Machinery Company, Roberts & Huntington and Vernon Elder Corporation. The last two are engaged primarily in distribution.

Record Citrus Crop Forecast for Next Year

With a California orange crop for the coming season estimated at only slightly smaller than the record of 1928-29, shippers in this State must put forward every effort to supply the maximum of jobbers and retailers with properly packed and graded citrus fruits at all times, Dana C. King, orange sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange who has just returned from his annual tour of United States markets and from a survey of Florida citrus areas, announced yesterday. Last year smaller carlot dealers and jobbers were forced to drop out of the marketing business due to the scarcity of supplies and high carlot values.

Florida citrus estimates are now given as more than 23,500,000 boxes for 1930-31, Mr. King said, adding that under favorable weather conditions and within five years Florida could produce around 40,000,000 boxes of oranges and grapefruit from the trees already planted.

"The greatest lesson that California growers can derive from the Florida situation is the fundamental value of co-operation and control," Mr. King said. "We must put up a good pack and grade our fruit properly so as to eliminate decay. California growers must realize that there is real competition from Florida and only by these means can we hold our position in all markets."

FIXED TRUST FIELD BUSY

Popularity of Shares Brings New Wrinkles That May Endanger Success; Supplies Increase

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Nearly every investment house these days has its own fixed trust or is a dealer for a trust sponsored by somebody else. While the idea is sound and investors are ready buyers of the fixed trust shares, there is the same danger to confront that contributed to the present unpopularity of the management trust.

Too many fixed trusts are coming on to the market. The supply of new trusts increases almost weekly, stimulated by the demands from bond dealers for something to sell and promoted by enthusiastic underwriters with idle hands and restless capital. These intensive efforts to manufacture and sell a popular product threaten to break down some of the fundamental principles of the fixed trust.

RIGIDITY LESSENED

Competition is resulting, for illustration, in instances where some of the newer trusts are less rigid, or give a measure of freedom to the management in shifting stocks in the portfolio. The theory is that stocks should satisfy further tests of desirability other than the passing of dividends for a certain period, but these departures may be the opening wedge for still greater latitude in management.

Sales pressure is also responsible for circulars and advertising that may mislead investors in respect to minimum annual dividends, capital distribution, etc.

In some instances the load or operating cost added to the price of the fixed trust share is excessive, chiefly because the organizers may be introducing a relatively small trust and are after a quick profit. On the whole, however, the testimony indicates the larger of the new trusts are reducing the load, and some are considering a scaling down of the overhead charge to conform with trends in market prices. As a fixed charge under the existing principle, the load is proportionately greater to the investor when market prices are low.

Rivalry to introduce new wrinkles in order to increase the selling appeal is also breaking down the line of demarcation between the capital distribution and accumulative types of fixed trusts. The accumulative type, theoretically the more desirable from the long pull point of view, normally pays only nominal dividends, but there are instances now where the indentures provide for the sale of extra distributions to the portfolio under certain circumstances.

PROBLEM HEIGHTENED

The objective is to meet the sales appeal of the distribution type of trust, which usually pays larger dividends because of the policy calling for the sale and distribution of all extra payments made on the shares in the trust. This trend toward elimination of the distinction between the two types increases the problem of the investor who requires one or the other for his particular investment program.

While fixed trust shares are selling readily now, there is a possibility that sales resistance may develop if the coming session of Congress initiates its promised hearings into the investment trust question. Rumblings have been heard of an inquiry in this connection into the centralization of voting power in the hands of fixed trust sponsors.

As a fine piece of merchandising, the investment dealers in this country deserve credit for putting the fixed trust over in a big way. In the face of unfavorable stock market sentiment, the dealers have developed and sold a product that has been a decided hit with investors.

Chain Stores in Stock Dividend

Declaration of an extra dividend of 1 per cent in stock on the common stock of F. & W. Grand Silver Stores, Inc., was announced yesterday by Harold F. Stone, president. The dividend is payable December 30 to stock of record December 4.

The earning power of the company has been increased by the acquisition of fifty-two Canadian units of Metropolitan Stores, Ltd., and the management expects the per share earnings for 1930 to establish a new high record, Mr. Stone said. Sales for the first ten months of this year were $28,490,627 while the total for the full year will exceed $38,000,000, he added.

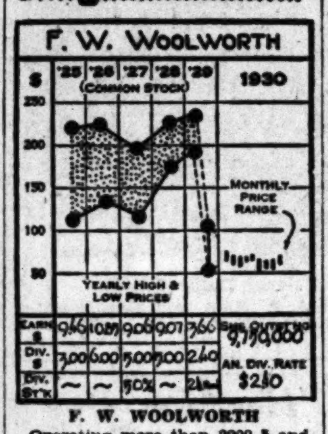
Volume of New Building Drops

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. — Contracts awarded for new construction of all types in thirty-seven States east of the Rocky Mountains totaled $62,198,900 for the week ended the 14th inst., F. W. Dodge Corporation reported today. This brought the November total to date to $129,312,000, a rate of $11,756,000 per business day, against a rate of $12,973,000 in October, and $15,641,000 in November, 1929. Construction undertaken for the year to date amounted to $4,151,336,900, against $5,211,357,900 a year ago.

HECLA MINING NET PROFITS SHADE OFF

Hecla Mining Company reported yesterday, September quarter net profits of $209,544.63 after expenses, depreciation and taxes, equal to practically 21 cents a share on 1,000,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, against $225,106.29 or 22½ cents a share in the June quarter. The fourth-quarter dividend of 25 cents a share has been declared, the same amount as was paid in the preceding quarters this year. Total payments last year amounted to 90 cents.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



F. W. WOOLWORTH

Operating more than 2200 5-and-10-cent stores in the United States, Canada and Europe, Woolworth continues to maintain its position as the leading enterprise of its kind in the world. For the past eighteen years the company has steadily increased the number of retail outlets in operation, and likewise the gross and net income from its expanding business. Rate of store expansion in the United States has slowed up in recent years—emphasis being placed on consolidation of present units rather than further expansion. In Europe, however, new stores are rapidly being added to reach the untapped markets on that continent.

After reporting a fair increase in per-share earnings in 1929 over 1928, Woolworth is expected to make a good showing in 1930 despite a 4 per cent decrease in sales for the first nine months. Offsetting this sales decline are the substantial savings effected in the operating program and in the purchasing of its merchandise.

CAPITALIZATION

Purchase money mortgages	$ 3,463,800
Common stock (par $10)	97,500,000

Current Data: It is reported that the increase of sales in September, 1930, over the same month of last year is being continued into October and that fourth-quarter sales may exceed last year's if the present trend is maintained.

Upward Mart Trend Bright Spot in Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"In trade distribution warm weather in the larger part of the week under review had a retarding effect upon sales both at wholesale and retail, which still show a considerable lack of resiliency, while there have been visible some setbacks in industry which seem fairly to balance what forward movements have developed. Standing out prominently in the week's picture, however, has been the continuance of the advancing trend in the securities market, the rally in wheat with sympathetic advances in other grains, these latter attributed to heavy farm-board buying.

In industry there has been a further slight shading off visible in steel-mill operations, alternate declines and rallies in steel scrap prices and a reaction in copper prices from the high price of 12 cents set late last week, which it is conceded was overdone but which was, it is nevertheless admitted, the outstanding feature in the facing about of this, one of the world's important industries.

Weekly bank clearings, $8,882,742,000, a decrease of 42.7 per cent from last year.

Standard Unit Cuts Gas Price

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has reduced the tank-wagon price of gasoline 1 cent a gallon in New Jersey, effective this morning. The reduction applies to dealers only.

The service-station prices through the company's territory were reduced 1 cent a gallon the 4th inst., at which time no change was made in the tank-wagon prices. This cut reduced the spread between the dealer and consumer quotations to 3 cents a gallon, but the company has been forced to meet the undercutting of prices in New Jersey through the restoration of the previous 4-cent spread including State tax.

Rail Line Drops Financing Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Missouri Pacific Railroad has withdrawn from the Interstate Commerce Commission its application filed October 23, 1929, asking authority to issue $38,659,900 of its common stock incident to the proposed plan to pay off accumulated dividends on the preferred stock.

Herbert Fitzpatrick, vice-president of the railroad, stated that because of changed business and financial conditions, the company has concluded it is impracticable to carry out the plan involved for the payment of unpaid accrued dividends on its preferred stock.

EASTERN OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Pacific Finance Official Reports Improvement in Business Sentiment

Commercial sentiment is beginning to veer around toward hopefulness, and leaders of the banking and business world in the East are beginning to see the first light of the dawn of a new day, B. F. Nysewander, Jr., executive vice-president of the Pacific Finance Corporation, declared yesterday on his return from a business trip to New York and Chicago.

"My impression from talking to many men in Chicago and New York, leaders in their respective fields, is that the water has been squeezed out of securities, commodities and everything else. Inventories are not large, in fact they are small," Mr. Nysewander said. "The margin of profit on most sales is low. In other words a solid foundation has been laid from which expansion may proceed and with expansion, of course, will come returning prosperity.

"It is not going to be a rapid process. There will be no overnight transformation from the condition of depression to one of prosperity but will be a slow, steady recovery. There are many sore spots but such a condition would be inevitable after a violent depression. Banking and industrial leaders repeated to me many times their opinion that the business of the country as a whole is fundamentally better than it was a year ago when it was honeycombed with speculative inflation."

Southern Californians have much to be thankful for in their climatic conditions, Mr. Nysewander added in commenting on the blizzards that have been sweeping other sections of the country and multiplying the hardships of the people.

COPPER BOOST PLAN FAILS

Price Settles Back to Old Level; Sherman Act Held Bar to Curtailment Pact

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The copper situation is still confused. Ten days ago, copper was "going begging" at 9 cents a pound. Then a tentative agreement to reduce the world's production next year by 15 per cent was announced and copper went up to 12 cents, accompanied by strong foreign buying.

But it was a flash in the pan. Demand fell off. Prices sagged to 11½ cents, then to 11 cents, and now sales are being made at 10½ and 10 cents.

All this occurred while the greatest pile of copper on hand in history stared the industry in the face.

One question still bothers copper men. The Sherman antitrust law remains in force. Can United States copper interests join hands with foreign copper producers to curtail production in the United States without violating this act? It is questionable.

"The current copper collapse presents what is perhaps the first outstanding catastrophe resulting from the exportation of vast amounts of American capital for the purpose of building up in foreign countries a basic industry, whose product has become a destroying competitor of one of the greatest and oldest of our home industries—the mining of copper," said a well-known copper man this week, and then he added this significant remark:

"Men or capital emigrating from our shores to foreign lands must take their chances, and they do so now in the face of plain warnings as to the perils of their enterprise. The Sherman Act was devised for the purpose of protecting home industries, and it is now functioning in the case of copper. Hence the outcry of its violators that it be disregarded."

The copper situation is a long ways from being cleared up yet.

While world copper leaders were meeting in New York to effect copper production curtailment manufacturers of cellulose in Germany, Finland, Sweden, Czecho-Slovakia and Lithuania put their heads together and agreed to reduce production from now to the end of 1932 on the basis of 85 per cent of the 1929 production.

Te powerful Kreuger & Toll match interests of Sweden are believed to be back of the arrangement. The German cellulose manufacturers, after experiencing a bad year, are enthusiastically for it; even the Zellstoff-Waldhof company, which has been operating at capacity this year, has agreed to the 15 per cent cut. Cellulose for rayon manufacture is not included.

The productive capacities of the world's factories are from 10 to 30 per cent, largely depending upon the industry, in excess of the ability of the people to consume the products.

It is to meet this problem that such an arrangement as the Stockholm agreement in cellulose is aimed to correct.

Great Britain is following the same plan in regard to coal production, which is far in excess of her present demand, domestic and foreign. So a coal merger, involving 140 collieries, affecting over 85,000 employees, and having an aggregate capitalization of $100,000,000, is about ready for announcement.

The merger will cover production and distribution of the product. Probably twenty-five collieries of the 140 will be shut down, while the rest will be worked to larger capacity.

Homer S. Fox, United States Department of Commerce representative in London, says this latest attempt at industrial rationalization is one of the most ambitious ever undertaken in the British Isles.

DEMAND ON WOOL MART RUNS LIGHT

Weekly Review Reports Trade Generally Quiet and Prices Softer

BOSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston tomorrow will say:

The wool market continues spotty, but generally quiet so far as actual sales are concerned, with rather more inquiry reported in some quarters. There have been some further sales of scoured supers to woolen mills on the basis of lower prices reported a week ago. Worsteds have been rather slow of sale with demand favoring the finer qualities at prices which would show little change for the week. Medium wool prices are little changed.

Foreign markets have changed little for the week. There has been a steady demand for merinos in Australia and South Africa at firm rates. Crossbed offerings from South America have changed little in price.

The manufacturing position seems to have changed little during the week. Developments are disappointingly slow. One wonders how much longer buyers can hold off. Meanwhile, mills are determined to keep inventories down.

Mohair is slow and hardly changed.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—A pronounced lower trend developed in foreign bonds today, as pressure was renewed against German bonds.

Nervous selling apparently inspired by the remarks of Foreign Minister Curtius concerning the provisions for a moratorium under the Young plan depressed the international 5½ per cent loan 2 points, and contributed to the unsettlement, which affected both European and Latin-American issues. While financiers have pointed out that neither principal nor interest of the bond issues offered last June would be in any way affected by a moratorium, the 5½s closed at the bottom price of 68½.

Some of the prominent issues of Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Peru and Uruguay showed sharp declines.

Trading in domestic bonds was desultory most of the day, and prices barely steady on narrow fluctuations. The final hour was the most active of the day, and influenced a firmer tone especially in railroad bonds.

United States governments were in strong demand. The Liberty 4¼s, First 4¼s, Fourth 4¼s and Treasury 3¾s all touched new high figures for the year. The Treasury issue, which is not one of the most active in the government list, sold 10-32nds higher.

A 9-point rise in Anglo-Chilean Nitrate 7s was a conspicuous feature of the irregular movement of industrials. Atchison 4½s and Pathe 7s gained. Warner Brothers 6s were weak.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Futures Unsettled at Higher Levels

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Rising prices for wheat went hand in hand today, with reports that the volume of domestic flour trade had broadened. Persistent rumors of a revolt in Russia, received more or less notice also, as well as talk of canceling of Black Sea grain vessel charters, suggesting curtailment of wheat shipments from Russia. A fresh advance of ⅛ cent in prices that United States government-sponsored agencies were bidding for some Chicago wheat future deliveries counted further as a market stimulus.

After an advance of nearly 6 cents above low prices current here the 10th inst., the Chicago wheat market closed unsettled, ⅝@1⅛ cents higher than yesterday's finish, but fractionally below today's best figures. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛ cents up, with oats showing 1⅛@1¼ cents advance, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents lower.

Estimates export purchases of Canadian wheat have reached a total of more than 2,500,000 bushels since Monday acted as an encouragement to friends of higher prices.

Corn values met with good buying support on all setbacks from upturns that paralleled the rise of the wheat market.

Increased commission house buying helped to lift prices of oats.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Two days of advancing prices in the outside crude rubber market were wiped out today as demand dried up somewhat. Dealings were on a smaller scale than in recent sessions, indicating that offerings tended to lessen in volume as prices weakened. Losses ranged from ⅛@⅜c, but at the close prices were at a higher level than they have been in months, with the exception of this week. London closed dull, 1-16d decline.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—The recovery in curb market shares was carried further today, along with operations for the advance on the big board. Trading dwindled, however, with a turnover of only 443,600 shares, a reduction of about 23 per cent from the previous session.

Advances were wide in a few of the industrials and specialties. Aluminum Company of America rose 12 points. H. C. Bohack advanced 7 points, in response to an extra dividend of $1. Crown Cork International, Mead Johnson and N. J. Zinc, gained 2 or more points. Johnson Motor recorded a new low at 8¾ and Axton Fisher lost nearly 5 points.

Utilities worked higher and these issues remained the center of activity, particularly Electric Bond and Share, which rose 2 points to get above 50 again. It closed at 50⅝.

Oils were mixed. Kentucky and Vacuum gained about a point. Indiana and Cities Service closed about steady, after sagging a little for a time. Gulf lost 2 points. Coppers were neglected. Goldman-Sachs closed up ¼.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Capper Favors Doling Wheat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, said today, he believed Congress would look favorably on a proposal that 60,000,000 bushels of the Farm Board's wheat holdings be used to feed the unemployed.

He said any legislation along this line necessarily would have to provide for reimbursement of the Farm Board and for some systematic methods on distribution of the wheat to the mills and then to unemployment centers.

AMENDING OF DIVORCE DATE ASKED

Muriel Window in Unique Request to Court After Finding Marriage Illegal

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—After living for ten years as the wife of Arthur S. Hanford, Jr., Mrs. Muriel Keane Hanford, former actress, has found the legality of their marriage questioned by her supposed husband and has filed suit to have her divorce from her first husband amended to an earlier date.

In her amendment petition, filed here, Mrs. Hanford, whose stage name was Muriel Window, stated she had married Hanford, millionaire son of a former owner of the Hanford packing mills of Sioux City, Iowa, on May 5, 1920. She thought, she said, she had been granted a divorce here on April 27, 1920, from Robert Emmet Keane, Hollywood cinema actor, but later discovered her divorce was not granted until May 27.

When Mrs. Hanford recently filed suit in Sioux City for separate maintenance from Hanford, the latter countered with a cross-bill asserting she was not his wife. Now Mrs. Hanford wants the courts to legally change the date of her divorce to prior to May 5, 1920.

Mrs. Hanford stated Hanford is worth more than $1,000,000 and her right to share in this fortune depends upon the granting of the requested amendment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Mayors of Northern and Central California cities today started work on the job of hunting employment for the needy.

They appointed a committee to confer with Gov. Young's unemployment committee for Northern California. They decided to take care only of their own unemployed, recommending the State look out for the "floaters" and the counties care for the jobless outside cities.

Barnes Opposes Federal Control

ATLANTA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, tonight said, the "only way to let economic forces work themselves out," is to allow "free play of prices without the injection of government control or influence."

Mr. Barnes was speaking at a banquet attended by directors of the organization.

GRANGE FAVORS TAX REFORMS

Ability-to-Pay Proposal Wins Indorsement

Deep-Sea Waterway From Lakes Advocated

Hoover Praised and Dry Law Defended

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Nov. 21. (AP) The National Grange in the concluding session of its sixty-fourth annual meeting today placed itself on record for taxation based on ability to pay and for a deep-sea waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

Other recommendations included public development and operation of water power when public regulation fails to accomplish its purpose, strengthening of the Federal farm loan system and enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and all legislation supporting it.

The grange commended President Hoover for his efforts to bring about world peace, approved of the International Court of Justice, and declared "now it is deflation which needs to be opposed." The latter statement is embodied in a report of a special committee, unanimously adopted, which said: "We believe the Federal Reserve system should oppose both inflation and deflation."

RESOLUTION

Sessions of the grange continued until evening in order to clear up all last-moment business. Included in the grist of resolutions adopted in the final hours were the following:

For a complete study of the tax situation by the National Grange.

For a study of the stabilization of the currency.

For continued effort in procuring Federal aid for farm-to-market roads.

For enactment of laws limiting length of trucks and trailers to forty-eight feet.

Opposing the use of oleomargarine as a substitute for butter in government institutions.

For legislation bringing collateral advertising of foods, drugs and narcotics within the scope of the pure foods and drugs acts.

Thanking the railroads for their timely assistance and co-operation with the farmers in the drought-stricken area.

FOR PROHIBITION

Two resolutions expressed the views of the National Grange on temperance and prohibition. One "expresses the conviction of the National Grange that the prohibition laws should not be tampered with until some better practical plan for control of the liquor traffic is brought forward, and that if any such plan is developed it be operative only in the manner provided by law."

The second resolution on the subject says:

"We vigorously oppose all efforts to nullify our existing laws. The National Grange reaffirms its stand in support of temperance and we demand strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and all laws supporting it."

In regard to public operation of water power, the resolution reaffirms the policy of the National Grange for control of water power resources," and "deplores the weakening of government regulation." The resolution further declares "that when public regulation fails to accomplish its purposes of assuring rates based upon reasonable return on actual necessary capital invested free from expansive holding company control, public development and operation of our water power resources are justifiable and proper."

Norman Lombard, executive vice-president of the Stable Money Association, placed responsibility for the current business depression at the door of the Federal Reserve bank and government banks in foreign countries, in an address today before the convention.

These institutions, said Lombard, "have the power to control the purchasing power of money and have failed to do so. Their power is sovereign."

Launching his address with the declaration that "our money mechanism is in the most chaotic state, and our civilization stands at the cross roads of history," he added.

"Unless we control the monetary system and regulate it for the benefit of society the gold standard is in danger and civilization itself may and can learn to control it so that it will be his servant and not his master."

Lombard denied overproduction had anything to do with business depression, saying prosperity and its opposite result from an oversupply or lack of money. He said: "Being subject to the law of supply and demand, when the money supply decreases prices go down and you can get more for your dollar. This results in a decrease in the equity in property and merchandise and banks are reluctant to lend money as a result. This brings depression."

Lombard deplored that the purbe imperiled. Man created money chasing power of money had not been made stable and exact like other commercial units. He depicted how measures of length and weight had been standardized to mathematical exactness, while the money unit was subject to rapid fluctuations. He said the American dollar had fluctuated 70 per cent between 1896 and 1920.

BORAH GIVES VIEWS ON SILVER QUESTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The only solution of the recently agitated silver question, in the opinion of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, is through some international agreement.

The Idaho Senator said today that while he is not proposing an international understanding at this time, he can see no other way to improve the price of silver and at the same time relieve what some financiers have described as a world gold shortage.

The question of a fixed ratio between silver and gold, as Senator Borah sees it, is not as important as steps looking to an agreement among the powers interested on some means of increasing the silver market.

YOUNGEST OF GENERALS HEADS ARMY

Gen. MacArthur Sworn in as Chief of Staff When Summerall Steps Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Douglas MacArthur, the youngest major-general in the Army, and one of the outstanding American combat officers in the World War, was sworn in as Chief of Staff of the United States Army today. He is 50 years of age, several years below the age attained by most of his predecessors when they took over the administration and training of the Army.

It transpired today that Gen. MacArthur assumed a full general's rank automatically upon taking the oath of office. He would not have become Chief of Staff until next year had Gen. Charles P. Summerall, his immediate predecessor, desired to remain in office until he normally retires for age on March 4. Secretary of War Hurley revealed today that he had invited Gen. Summerall to stay on until March 4 at the conclusion of his four-year term of office yesterday. Gen. Summerall declined, however, explaining that he did not desire himself to violate the four-year Washington detail rule which he had so rigidly enforced against other officers during his administration.

The regulation referred to by Gen. Summerall limits chiefs of branches and all officers serving in Washington to four-year details in order that a larger number of officers may have the opportunity of experience in the War Department. This rule was strengthened and enforced by Gen. Summerall.

CASH TALKS OF CASH AT HEALY TRIAL

New York's ex-Marshal Asserts He Gave $2000 to Tammany Leader

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Jacob Cash, former City Marshal, testified today he gave two $1000 bills to Martin J. Healy, Tammany leader and former city official, on April 29, 1927, the day Cash was reappointed Marshal and George F. Ewald was appointed as city magistrate.

Healy, with Thomas T. Tommaney, is on trial for accepting a $10,000 loan from Mrs. Bertha Ewald as the asserted price of his support for Ewald's appointment.

A week later, Cash said, he gave Mrs. Healy an $850 diamond and emerald bracelet.

Other witnesses during the day included several bank employees who identified bank accounts of Mr. and Mrs. Healy.

Labor Troubles Hinted as Peru Loses Cabinet

LIMA, Nov. 21. (AP)—The provisional military cabinet, formed August 27 by President Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, following upon a revolution which deposed Augusto B. Leguia, resigned tonight.

An official communique said the ministers quit because they merely desired to give the President a free hand in selecting new assistants, now the country is on the return to normalcy, but entirely different versions were heard outside.

One view is that much dissatisfaction has arisen because of the way in which the Minister of Government, Major Gustavo Jiminez, handled recent labor troubles.

Year in Jail for Teaching Boys to Steal

SAN JOSE, Nov. 21. (AP)—William Foley, 23 years of age, whom police charged with teaching boys to steal for him, pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors in police court today and was sentenced to a year in the county jail.

Described by police as a modern Fagin, Foley was taken into custody after a small boy arrested in the act of stealing from a parked automobile, told police he had been persuaded to steal by Foley, who paid him for it.

Reward Spurs Hunt for Colorado Woman

Scream and Shot Believed Clews in Mystery

Police in Theory Abductors in Ransom Plot

FORT MORGAN (Colo.) Nov. 21. (AP)—The scream of a woman, followed by a shot, heard about the time Miss Enid Marriott, 28-year-old school-teacher, disappeared from the Wiggins (Colo.) station Sunday night, constituted the latest clews today in the State-wide search for the missing girl.

Authorities directing the search said a woman resident of Wiggins volunteered the information she heard the shrill screams of a woman and Roy Young, who lives near the station previously had told investigators he heard what he believed was a revolver shot as the train from which Miss Marriott alighted, pulled out of the yards.

Officers engaged in the search expressed their opinion Miss Marriott was abducted and taken to some lonely shack in the Wiggins region. A search in this district has been handicapped by snow drifts, which have blocked highways.

Another development in the investigation disclosed a man was standing near a large sedan at the station and officers believe the girl got into the automobile under the impression the man was a friend.

George C. Carlson, the girl's brother-in-law, who has posted a $1000 reward for the location of Miss Marriott, dead or alive, left Grand Junction, Colo., today, for Colorado Springs to ask the aid of Chief of Police Harper of that city in finding the teacher. Carlson believes Miss Marriott has been kidnaped and will be held for ransom.

MAIL SACKS BRING GRIEF TO EINSTEIN

Cablegrams and Letters Swamp Scientist on Eve of Trip to America

BERLIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—Frau Elsa Einstein and her renowned husband appealed to the Associated Press today to relieve them of a problem which even the propounder of the theory of relativity cannot solve.

Pointing with a gesture of despair to stacks of unopened cablegrams and letters, Frau Einstein said: "I would appreciate it more than I can tell you if you would send a short message to the people of the United States from Albert and myself.

"Please tell our thousands of well wishers, most of whom we don't know, that they should not think us impolite if we don't reply to their messages."

Prof. Einstein has been flooded with invitations to functions in the United States during his impending visit to California. He has indicated he can accept none of them.

"We'd miss our boat if we were even to make a beginning of answering all these telegrams and letters," said Frau Einstein. "I think the best thing we can do is to extend our thanks through the Associated Press and assure our friends in America of our deep appreciation."

Quarter-Billion Road Fund Urge to Aid Jobless

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—A $250,000,000 Federal appropriation for highway construction to aid the jobless was urged before the President's emergency committee for employment by representatives of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

In addition, the delegation advocated a change in present law to permit the government to contribute to the States 50 per cent of the cost of road construction instead of a maximum of $15,000 a mile.

It urged also that Congress authorize advancement of funds to be used in lieu of State money for meeting government aid provided the money be repaid later. The States must match Federal appropriations.

National Farmers' Union Picks John Simpson in Place of C. E. Huff

ST. PAUL, Nov. 21. (AP)—Opponents of the Federal Farm Board policies scored an unexpected victory today by electing John A. Simpson, Oklahoma City, president of the National Farmers' Union, which is in convention here.

Simpson and his supporters from the Southwest, who were believed to have been in the minority against the governmental agency, succeeded in ousting C. E. Huff, Salina, Kan., as president.

Huff, also president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, is a supporter of the board's policies, including the Federal Marketing Act.

Resolutions adopted indorsed United States leadership in world peace by reduction of naval armaments and removal of military training from schools; urged a higher license fee for dealers in butter and cheese substitutes; indorsed independence for the Philippine Islands, and formation of a farmers' union regional wool marketing association to serve Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Un Diplomático Español Trató de Salvar a Edith Cavell

BRUSELAS, Noviembre 21.—Por extractos que se han publicado del diario del marqués de Villabora, embajador español en Bélgica el año de 1915, se ha venido en conocimiento de que este diplomático y Hugh S. Gibson, entonces primer secretario de la legación de los Estados Unidos en dicho reino, trataron de impedir la ejecución de la enfermera Edith Cavell por los Alemanes. Relata el marqués que, a solicitud de Gibson, fueron los dos a ver al barón von der Lancken, entonces director de Negocios Políticos en el territorio belga ocupado, e hicieron esfuerzos por conseguir que fuera indultada la señorita Cavell la víspera de su ejecución.

El marqués dijo estas palabras al barón Lancken: "Quizá haya enviado al frente la señorita Cavell centenares de hombres valiéndose de su ambulancia; pero si la fusiláis, enviará millones contra vosotros desde su tumba."

Lancken les contestó que no creía fuese inmediata la ejecución de la señorita Cavell; pero que el gobernador interino, general von Sauberweig, estaba resuelto a mandarla ejecutar.

El marqués relata que el ex-emperador se encolerizó mucho cuando lo de la ejecución. Se dice que dio una reprimenda a quienes la ordenaron, y decretó que no se ejecutaría una sola mujer en lo futuro.

Los concusión categórica del marqués es que el único responsable del atentado es el general von Sauberweig.

La señorita Cavell, directora de una escuela de enfermeras de Bruselas, fue fusilada por habérsele acusado de ayudar a la evasión de prisioneros británicos, franceses y belgas, presos en territorio ocupado.

Los Enemigos del Consejo Agrícola Federal Eligen a su Hombre

ST. PAUL, Noviembre 21.—Los adversarios de la política del Consejo Agrícola Federal lograron hoy inesperada victoria con la elección de John A. Simpson, de Oklahoma City, para presidente de la Unión Nacional de Agricultores, que está celebrado aquí su convención.

Simpson y sus partidarios del sudoeste, que se creía formaban minoría en relación con el grupo favorable a la administración, lograron hacer salir de presidente a C. E. Huff, de Salina (Kansas).

Huff, que es también presidente de la Farmers' National Grain Corporation, es simpatizador de la política del Consejo Agrícola, y aun apoya el Federal Marketing Act.

Se votaron mociones que aplauden la iniciativa de los Estados Unidos en pro de la paz mediante reducción de armamentos navales y supresión de la instrucción militar en las escuelas. Aprobóse asimismo una moción favorable a la independencia de las Filipinas.

California Solicita Contratos de Construcción de Barcos

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 21.—El diputado por California, señor Free, amenazó con desbaratar los programas de construcción de las compañías de vapores si no proporcionan éstas trabajo a los astilleros de la costa del Pacífico.

Dijo que ni uno solo de los buques recientemente construidos con la ayuda del gobierno, de acuerdo con la ley de Jones y White, había sido armado en la costa occidental. Todos los contratos han sido otorgados a los astilleros del Atlántico, principalmente a los de Fall River (Massachusetts), Nueva York y Newport News.

"California ocupa quinto lugar como contribuyente al impuesto sobre la renta, mientras que Virginia ocupa el quincuagésimo quinto, ¿no es así?", interrogó el diputado referido.

Dos Semi-asfixiados por el Gas Fueron Revividos por el Inhalador

Después de trabajar sin descanso por tres horas, los miembros de la Escuadra de Rescate No. 1, del departamento de Incendios, cuyos jefes son el capitán Blake y el doctor S. W. Luban, salvaron ayer, con la ayuda de un inhalador las vidas de un hombre y una mujer, que se habían intoxicado respirando óxido de carbono en una casa de huéspedes sita en el 1060 de la calle Treinta y Cuatro Oeste.

Las víctimas fueron la señora Mary Lowrey, de 60 años de edad, y S. W. Blake, de 62. Otros huéspedes los encontraron inconscientes en el piso de la cocina. Una estufa de gas y un calentador de agua tenían abiertas las llaves de gas y todas las puertas y ventanas estaban herméticamente cerradas.

Acudió la escuadra del capitán Blake, y después de tres horas de esfuerzos logró dejar fuera de peligro a las víctimas.

COUPLE MAKE REAL FLIGHT TO ALTAR

Mrs. William H. Neblett

PLANE TRIP UNITES PAIR IN ENSENADA

Los Angeles Attorney Flies Bridal Party to Mexico for Surprise Ceremony

An airplane trip that ended in a wedding was announced yesterday by friends of William H. Neblett, law partner of William G. McAdoo, who was married at Ensenada, Mex., to Miss Ruby Briner, 610 South Serrano street.

The party flew to the Mexican town in a plane owned by McAdoo, there being four in the wedding party besides Capt. Harry Ashe, the pilot. Miss Briner was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary Briner, and Neblett by Theodore Maben, his cousin. After a wek or ten days of travel Mr. and Mrs. Neblett will return to Los Angeles and will make their home at 223 South Serrano street.

Mrs. Neblett is a Los Angeles girl, a graduate of high school, and a niece of Mrs. F. P. Newport. She has been active in the younger society set.

Mr. Neblett comes from a Virginia family. He is a lieutenant-colonel in the Officers' Reserve Corps and was in command of a battery of field artillery at the front in France, where he was wounded and twice cited for distinguished gallantry under fire. He was with the American troops in the occupation of the Rhine territory after the close of the war, and then came to Los Angeles, where he resumed the practice of law and formed a partnership with McAdoo, the former Secretary of the Treasury in the Woodrow Wilson Cabinet.

McAdoo, completely surprised by the news of the wedding of his partner, sent a message of congratulation.

OIL WELL TAX PUT OFF

The City Council yesterday again continued action upon imposing a tax of 1 per cent of gross income upon oil wells within the city limits. Consideration of the ordinance was put over until next Wednesday.

GIFTS TO CHEST INCREASE PACE

Workers Forging Ahead of Records for 1929

Total of $2,525,712 for Campaign Reported

No Hint of Let-up in Drive Indicated by Groups

Despite the fact that Community Chest campaign figures are moving very deliberately toward the goal of $3,200,000, Campaign Chairman Kerr believes the people of Los Angeles do realize the conditions confronting the city and that they are coming through to meet the situation with more generous contributions. The indications of this, he said, are found in a comparison of the progress of this year's drive with that of last season over the same period of time. To date the present drive is $63,800 ahead of last year, or 2 per cent closer to the finish.

That there has been no diminution in effort on the part of the volunteer workers was evident from the large number who attended the report luncheon at the Biltmore yesterday and who gave no indication of "laying down on the job" but rather showed signs of renewed determination to see the task through to its proper conclusion.

The summary of returns since the last report brought the totals to date to $2,525,712, or 79 per cent of the goal, with $674,288 yet to be subscribed.

The Ballard division of the $1,000,000 committee reported 69 per cent of its goal yesterday and the Chandler team has reached 96.02 per cent of its quota. The entire central division has climbed to the 85 per cent mark; the residential district has attained 75 per cent of its goal, with 237 precinct chairmen already over the 100 per cent mark; the business division had increased its totals 17 per cent since the last reports bringing it to 76 per cent of its quota; the parochial schools reported 97 per cent and the industrial district reported 65 per cent of its goal.

COUNTY REPORTS

Division No. 16, which is composed of employees of departments of Los Angeles county, yesterday, through H. L. Bryam, county treasurer and chairman of the division, announced that the following departments have completed, and in most cases exceeded their quotas: The law library, free library, Patriotic Hall, public administrator, purchasing department, public welfare, superintendent of schools, county treasurer, weights and measures, mechanical department, juvenile hall, museum of history, science, etc., county clerk and county marshal. W. Wright, county Supervisor, is vice-chairman of the division.

The next report luncheon will be held on Wednesday, the 26th inst., in conference Room 1 at the Biltmore.

NERVY PILOT CHEATS DEATH

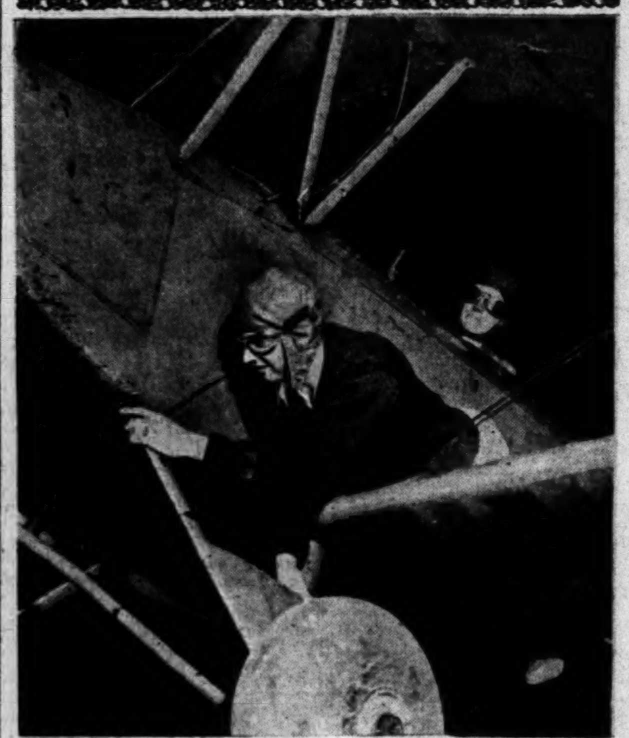
RIRIE ON WING REACHING FOR DISCONNECTED STRUT.



Belated Rehearsal

Floyd H. Ririe clinging to wing of open biplane showing how he reconnected landing strut with piece of wire in midair while Theodore P. Mark, student pilot, in cockpit of ship, kept craft on even keel. Sketch above, by Staff Artist Ewing shows how Marion McKeen and Slade Hulbert warned occupants of other plane of danger.

STRETCHED on the wing of an airplane in midair, clinging there with one hand without a parachute to save him if he slipped, Floyd H. Ririe, transport airplane pilot, late yesterday reached down and pulled back in place the plane's landing gear that had broken at the take-off, wired it together and then brought the ship to a safe landing on one wheel at Los Angeles Municipal Airport.

SLADE HULBERT

The remarkable demonstration of nerve and resourcefulness took place while a horrified group of watchers at the port stood for ten minutes wondering whether Ririe could successfully repair and bring the crippled plane back to earth without crashing.

Much credit, pilots at the field said, was due Theodore P. Mark, 26-year-old student pilot of 4158 Normal avenue, who kept the ship flying smoothly while his instructor went about the dangerous task.

MARION McKEEN

Pilots Slade Hulbert and Marion McKeen, who raced aloft in another plane in time to warn Ririe of the damaged landing gear and missing landing wheel, also were praised by Col. Richard Barnitz, airport director, for their quick action that averted a possible fatal accident.

As Ririe and Mark left the ground in a Continental open training biplane the left main support of the landing gear came loose from its socket. This allowed the gear to swing below the ship and resulted in the left wheel falling off.

AIR VICTIMS' ASHES TO BE SCATTERED

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted Today Prior to Sky Rites for Three

Over the same rolling hills bordering Antelope Valley, where they fell to their death in an airplane during a snowstorm last Tuesday morning, the ashes of Pilot F. A. Donaldson, Miss Katherine Schmidt, a passenger, and George A. Rogers, mechanic, will be tossed to the winds by a brother pilot of Donaldson, Johnnie Johnson.

The bodies of the three crash victims were returned from Bakersfield yesterday to the A. C. Fillbach mortuary, 152 Palm avenue, Burbank.

Services will be conducted at the mortuary at 10 a.m. today for Miss Schmidt. Private memorial rites will be conducted at the Burbank homes of Donaldson, 1043 North Alameda street, and Rogers, 839 North Frederick street. Rev. Thomas Stevens, pastor of the Burbank Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services this morning.

Following the three separate services the bodies will be cremated at Forest Lawn and the ashes will be turned over to Johnson for final disposal in the air.

A Coroner's jury at Bakersfield held the deaths of the three to have been accidental. Donaldson became lost in a terrific storm and either ice forced him down or he was circling to locate the emergency landing field in Antelope Valley, investigation indicated.

POLICE CONTROL TO BE RESTORED TO CHIEF

Commission Orders the Spy System Abolished; Steckel to Have Free Hand, Says Drake

Immediate action to abolish the City Hall "snooping squads" which have so long hampered the work of the police and to restore to the Chief of Police full administrative control of his department was promised yesterday by the Police Commission.

Under the new plan, according to President Drake of the Police Commission, Chief Steckel and his executive subordinates will be given a free hand to deal with the grave crime situation now existing in Los Angeles and will be held responsible for results. The Chief will have entire control of his men, according to Drake, and the Police Commission will concern itself only with matters of policy. Complaints by citizens against members of the police force may still be lodged with the commission but their investigation will be in the hands of Chief Steckel, his findings to be presented to the commission when completed.

This practically complete reversal of policy on the part of the commission was promulgated following a special meeting called to consider the recommendation of Mayor Porter that the spy system be discontinued. A resolution was adopted ordering the practice abolished and its text sent to Chief Steckel for publication in the Police Bulletin.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, a communication from the Mayor to the commission has been received from which it appears that the policy of 'snooping' does not meet his approval and he desires its discontinuance; and

"Whereas, the commission is pleased to have the definite declaration of the Mayor against 'snooping' which assures the commission of the entire backing of the Mayor and Chief of Police against the practice;

"Therefore, be it resolved, by the Board of Police Commissioners of the city of Los Angeles, that the policy of 'snooping' on or within the police department be discountenanced, and such orders as shall make impossible this pernicious practice be promulgated and enforced."

The resolution was on motion of Commissioner Walkup, seconded by Commissioner Wehn, and was adopted after a conference with the Mayor by Walkup and Wehn.

STATEMENT ISSUED

A formal statement was issued afterward by President Drake, as follows:

"This means that Chief Steckel is to have absolute control of the administration of the police force. Questions of policy will be determined by the Police Commission. No one will be allowed to interfere with the Chief in the administration of the affairs of the police department. The Chief will be held strictly accountable for the enforcement of the laws and for the efficient administration of police work.

"But this resolution, as I understand it, does not mean that any attempt will be made to refuse any citizen his undeniable right to lodge a complaint with the commission, in which event a fair and thorough investigation will be made through the office of the Chief and the findings presented by the Chief to the Police Commission."

ADOPTION EXPECTED

All five commissioners conferred yesterday on Chief Steckel's plans for reorganization of the police department and President Drake stated that Monday the commission will adopt its new policy along with police reorganization plans sent to Mayor Porter for consideration.

Drake said that the commission, in all probability, will announce Tuesday its policy and the plans for reorganization of the police department. As soon as possible thereafter the new police manual, which is in type, will be adopted to become effective on January 1, 1931.

Under the new plans, it is intimated, the intelligence bureau operated under Lieut. D. McD. Jones in connection with the Mayor's office, and members of which have been active in watching the actions of police officers and reporting them to the administration, will be absorbed into the department under Chief Steckel, with the probability that it will be abolished under the resolution against "snooping."

Chief of Police Steckel was not informed of the action of the Police Commission until late yesterday afternoon. He said the action of the commission will open the way for a more efficient department.

SEA YIELDS REMAINS OF THIRD SISTER

Body of Jessie Miller, Youngest of Suicide Pact Trio, Washed Ashore

Booming breakers yesterday washed ashore at Santa Monica the body of Miss Jessie Miller, 60-year-old "little sister" of Mrs. Ada McKeon, 80, and Miss Abbie Miller, 70. The three had walked to death by drowning some time Wednesday night in fulfillment of a suicide pact that had sprung from fancied financial travail.

The corpse was sighted by Jack Green and T. B. Warner, lifeguards, on the beach about 100 yards south of the spot where the bodies of the two elder women floated in Thursday. Like the others it was attired in shabby garments. It was taken to the Todd & Leslie mortuary, Santa Monica, and there identified by Roscoe H. Dow, a family friend.

Ralph D. Miller of 1221 North Vermont avenue, their brother, announced the three sisters, who preferred death to what seemed to be approaching destitution, will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Santa Monica, next Tuesday, following funeral services at 2 p.m. in the Todd & Leslie chapel.

It was to their brother that the despondent sisters confided, in a letter, that they had decided on suicide. Substantially the message stated they had "reached the end of our rope." They were "too old to work," they wrote, and were about to "let the sea take care of us."

Although the women were property poor, their brother told police yesterday their situation was not as precarious as they had imagined. A consultation with him or their attorney, he said, would have produced a solution of their problems. But their pride was too overpowering for that, so they just resolved to die.

After mailing the letter to the brother, the widow and her two spinster sisters went to Santa Monica under cover of darkness and waded into the chilling sea, hand-in-hand, probably, until the surf engulfed them.

Valley Estate Left by Stetson Widow to Kin

The California estate of the late Sarah Elizabeth Stetson de Queiroz Rebeiro de Sotto Maior d'Almedia e Vasconcellos, Countess of Santa Eulalia, is worth $733,312, according to an accounting on file in Probate Court yesterday.

The decedent was the mother of John B. Stetson, Jr., of Elkins Park, Pa., heir to the hat factory bearing his name. She was a legal resident of Pennsylvania, but owned a large estate in the San Fernando Valley, where she died.

All the estate except $10,000, which went to a Philadelphia hospitol, must be divided among relatives living in the East.

The will was filed for probate in Los Angeles courts in June, 1929. Following the death of John B. Stetson, her first husband, she married a Portuguese Count, hence her title.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

ALTHOUGH I can't find out what this City Hall scandal is all about, I have one consolation.

There is one who seems to know even less about it; that one is Mayor Porter.

We have had some strange, wild and peculiar Mayors during the history of Los Angeles. I doubt if there is one who had better intentions when he went into office—or who was so poorly adapted to the job.

LET'S STOP KIDDING

There's no use kidding ourselves about it. The system by which all American cities is governed is a tragic failure.

Pick one where you may, it would be impossible to find an executive in the world who could—even were he unhampered by politics—master all the problems that confront the Mayor of Los Angeles in the average Mayor's tenure of office.

These problems run all the way from city planning to hydraulic engineering, street paving, intricate financing, after-dinner speaking, diplomacy, social science and police work.

LEARNING THE ROPES

If a superexecutive could find the ropes and know what they meant during the course of four or five years, it would take him at least eight years to try out and select an efficient staff.

We take an amiable, well-meaning seller of second-hand automobiles, put him into the middle of problems that he can't even name in order; his staff is selected for him by the printers' union and preachers who like to gabble over the radio; then we are surprised that he doesn't make good.

A SWELL SHOW

The only right way is the way the Lord Mayor of London is selected. All he does is wear a sword, give a swell show with a lot of elephants and gold carriages, speak a couple of pieces at the banquets. And he never tries to find out what it is all about.

THE DAZZLING BEGUM

Among other things the matter with the world is that it is girl crazy.

The appearance of the Indian potentates at the "Round Table Conference" in London is the most serious crisis that the white man's world has faced for 500 years. And most of the newspaper space is given over to the confidential announcement, by cable, that the Begum Shah Nawaz is a pip and wore a pale blue shawl edged with silver embroidery.

WHITE MAN'S SUPREMACY

If England caves in to India it means that the white man as ruler of the world has definitely passed the peak and is sliding down the long slope.

This is bound to happen, anyhow—sooner or later. We may bluff along for another 500 years, but "those who sit in darkness" have learned too much from fighting in white men's wars. Sooner or later their overwhelming numbers will have to count.

CHURCH BENEFIT PLANNED

A concert and program for the benefit of the Russian-Greek Orthodox Church at 351 South State street, will be given at Hollywood Conservatory of Music on the evening of the 29th inst. The program will be directed by Mme. M. N. Zubin and A. Gramoff will be master of ceremonies. Among artists who will appear on the program are S. Rothberg, V. Nasegkin, Charlotte Bremmer and Horoschensky's Concert Orchestra.

TWO MEN KILLED BY TRAINS

Four Others Receive Probable Fatal Injuries in Traffic Accidents During Day

Two-persons are dead and five received probable fatal injuries in accidents in which automobiles, electric cars and a train figured yesterday. Failure to observe the approcah of trains resulted in the two deaths in different parts of the city at about the same hour.

Fred G. Lasher, 51 years of age, of 137 West Forty-seventh street, was killed almost instantly when his automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric limited train at Ramona Boulevard and Fremont avenue, Alhambra. He was crushed in the wreckage as the machine was dragged a hundred feet down the tracks, and died on the way to Alhambra Emergency Hospital.

EDISON SALESMAN

Witnesses told police Lasher made no effort to stop his car and that he apparently did not see the wig-wag signal in operation. The train, eastbound, was in charge of Motorman Edward Clark and Conductor H. K. Riordan. They were not held.

Lasher was in Alhambra on business as a salesman for the Southern California Edison Company. The body is at the mortuary of Turner, Stevens and Turner, Alhambra.

James Huff, 36, a truck driver, received fatal injuries when he drove his machine in front of a Pacific Electric train at Gage street and Long Beach avenue. Accompanying Huff was his helper, Leroy Moury. The truck with the two men was thrown fifty feet by the train. Huff died at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Moury's injuries are critical. Huff lived at 226 West Gage street.

POLICEMAN'S BRIBE FAILS SO HE CLIMBS FOR CAT

For three days and nights a cat with a mournful voice but a persistent disposition sat atop a telephone pole in front of 317 Keith street. It refused to come down; it and its voice grew more haggard daily; the kindly woman living in the Keith-street house finally asked Sergt. Gaski of the Lincoln Heights station by telephone couldn't the police do something.

Sergt. Gaski inquired by telephone of the fire department if it wouldn't send a man with a ladder but was told a policeman could climb a ladder as well as anybody. Finally it was decided to send L. C. Lyle.

Lyle is the tallest policeman in the Lincoln Heights division. And smart, too, as he soon proved. He borrowed a saucer of milk and put it at the botom of the pole. The neighbors wondered why they hadn't thought of it, it was so simple, and their admiration of Lyle became pronounced when the cat actually began to come down the pole.

Then, perhaps because the admiration of the neighbors had gone to his head, Lyle made a mistake. Lowering his voice to a cooing note he called, "Here, pretty pussy, here Alice," whereat, the neighbors swear, the cat retreated up the pole and yowled something fierce. Sighing deeply, Lyle saw there was nothing else to do, and finally climbed the pole and brought down the cat. It was then he learned from the owner of the cat the mistake he had made.

"If you must know, officer," said the woman owning the cat, in a cold voice, "its name is Tennyson, and not Alice."

She took the cat away and Lyle returned to the station.

OIL CHIEF TRUSTS SCIENCE

New York Standard's Head Declares Way Will Be Found to Meet Future Shortage

Look to the scientist! Charles F. Meyer, president of the Standard Oil Company of New York, made that answer yesterday when questioned about a possible oil shortage.

Long before the world's oil resources are exhausted, Meyer said at the Ambassador, the scientist will have discovered a new way to light and to lubricate the world. What the laboratory worker has done in the fields of electricity and chemistry, he said, gives him confidence that the scientist will solve the oil-shortage problem when the need arises.

ESTIMATES FALSE

But, Meyer declared, all prophecies of oil resources have been false and nobody knows just how much oil is stored beneath the earth's surface.

"People should not worry about what is going to happen," he said.

President Meyer is an enthusiastic admirer of California's oil conservation program, declaring this State's law is the soundest. The program, he said, is a lifesaver for the industry and will be of immense benefit to the entire country. At the same time, he observed, the country is still overproducing petroleum.

"There are about 600,000,000 barrels of petroleum products on top of the ground now," he said. "This amount will be increased by approximately 20,000,000 barrels of gasoline through the winter."

TREMENDOUS OUTPUT

The Mesopotamia field is likely to be a tremendous producer, Meyer said, pointing out that the first two wells brought in there flowed at the rate of 100,000 barrels a day. Those in charge of activities there, he said, calculate that the cost of the oil at the end of a 600-mile pipe line is about 70 cents a barrel.

As for the danger of Russia's flooding the world with oil and as GLENDALE, Nov. 21. (Exclusive) Police today were seeking to clear up the chain of events that sent J. K. Kidd, 76 years of age, retired capitalist of 428 Allen avenue, into the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital with a fractured skull, a lung punctured by a broken rib, and an asserted loss of $1500 which he had received a few days ago from a Canadian bank.

A valuable gold watch and important papers are also said to be missing from the injured man's possession. Detective - Lieutenant Charles P. Blake in charge of the case here, also has been advised that a strong box in which Kidd kept private documents in his home had been opened and emptied of its contents.

HURT IN CRASH

Blake, assisted by Detective Sergeant Warwick and Detective Freeman, discovered that Kidd was taken to the office of a Hollywood physician last Saturday by a motorist who said Kidd had been injured in an accident at Cahuenga Boulevard and Riverside Drive, North Hollywood. Kidd at that time was removed to the General Hospital, but friends here learning of his condition, insisted that he be brought to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hosptial in Glendale.

Dr. Riley Russell, who notified the police, said Kidd's condition is serious. The injured man, although he was able to recognize one of his friends here today, is unable to recall anything that transpired since last Friday, the day he is reported to have left home.

OIL DEAL INDICATED

Officers are also seeking to trace a man who is reported to have visited Kidd in the General Hospital and to have endeavored to obtain his signature on several blank checks, as they believe that this may have some connection with an oil deal in which Kidd is said to have planned investing some of the $1500 he received from Canada.

Lieut. Blake is co-operating with the homicide division of the Van Nuys police on the theory that Kidd may have been the victim of a plot.

the District Attorney's office, Sheriff's office and police department, were outlined at a conference in Dist.-Atty. Fitts's office yesterday.

The meeting, the second held within the last week, was called by Fitts. Others who attended were Police Chief Steckel, Chief of Detectives Taylor for the police department; Harry Wright, chief of the criminal department under Sheriff Traeger; Daniel Beecher, chief trial deputy of the District Attorney's office; Clyde Plummer, chief of the proposed detail, and Blayney Matthews, chief of the District Attorney's bureau of investigation.

At the close of the conference it was decided to hold another meeting Monday at 10 a.m., when three plans, each proposed by representatives of the three law-enforcement details, will be discussed. At that time, one of the plans, or a composite embracing salient features of the three suggested plans, will be adopted.

As soon as a definite organization scheme is accepted, steps will be taken to name the personnel of the new detail and the special organization will begin functioning forthwith.

OCCIDENTAL'S MEMORIAL DEDICATED

Building to E. S. Field, Pool and Additions Initiated

WITH appropriate ceremonies the new $60,000 Earl S. Field Memorial Building of Occidental College, including the Taylor swimming pool and the 1930 additions to the alumni gymnasium, was dedicated yesterday. Several hundred students, alumni and friends of the college attended the exercises, which were conducted by President Bird.

Among those participating in the dedication were Mrs. Murray Harris, daughter of E. S. Field, to whom the physical education buildings are a memorial; Miss Mary Barbara Taylor and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartley Taylor, who contributed $15,000 to the swimming pool; Myron Hunt, architect; R. Wescott, contractor; Fred F. McLain, college comptroller; Carl Trieb and Miss Caroline Hodgdon of the physical education department and Leonard Janofsky, president of the student body.

Following the dedication ceremony the pool itself was christened by a sprint one length of the pool between Boy McCord, rpresenting the student body, and Bill Henry, who captained Occidental's first swimming team twenty years ago. Both negotiated the distance without assistance from the lifeguards, Henry being named winner by a yard.

Capt. Leonard Johnson of the Occidental swimming team gave an exhibition, followed by three holders of national championships representing the Los Angeles Athletic Club. expenses than he admited in sworn affidavits after the election.

Among those said to have been subpoenaed for Tuesday are Charles W. Burke, Charles W. Burke, Jr., Mearl Allen and Joe Buchta, all of whom reputedly were close to Porter through his campaign for Mayor; F. J. Hart, executive of an oil company, and Mr. and Mrs S. A. Rosenberg.

In some cases, it was declared, witnesses were instructed to bring canceled checks and records of contributions to Porter's campaign funds.

ACCUSED PROMOTER RELEASED ON BAIL

J. Ward Cohen, promoter of the Gables, a Santa Monica beach club, appeared before United States Commissioner Head yesterday and furnished bail of $2500 for his appearance in court on a charge of failure to send the government the proper amount of income tax for memberships of the club. The case was continued until next week.

DUELIST KEEPS ROMANCE ALIVE FOR FORTY YEARS

When barely more than a pueblo, Los Angeles was the scene of a shooting affray that had an echo yesterday with the return here, after an absence of forty years, of Albert Rassmus, once a right smart blade of the old Main street but now a gnarled little man approaching the sunset of his adventurous life.

After twoscore years before the mast Rassmus has come back to the Southland in retirement, and while he did not say so in as many words he indicated that his return was inspired by an unceasing longing to meet again the once-glamorous girl over whose affections he took it on the chin in the form of hot lead. Her name at that time was Nettie Rosa; and Rassmuss is eager to know how Fate has dealt with her through the years.

Rassmus started life as a cabin boy aboard an old square-rigger. One night, while standing watch in the crow's nest atop a sixty-foot topsail yardarm as the vessel was rounding Cape Horn, he was shaken from his perch and plunged to the deck. He suffered a broken hip; and when discharged from a hospital at San Pedro he gave up the sea and came here to live. That was in the '80's; and a few months later Nettie came into his life.

All went well for a couple of years until another admirer came into Nettie's life. He begrudged Rassmus a share of Nettie's affections; and for a long time the feud waxed hot. One day the other man—his name was Charlie—ambushed him, Rassmus said, and shot him in the neck. Before he collapsed, Rassmus whipped out his own six-shooter and blazed away at Charlie.

Both duelists recovered in short order; then, one day Rassmus heeded the call of the sea. He shipped aboard a schooner and sailed the seven seas, trying to forget. But over the years—even when his vessel was the prey of U-boats during the war—the memory of Nettie Rosa lingered; and now that he is here he wonders if she will see this and send him an invitation to call.

For the time being Rassmus is making his home with friends at 1830½ South Main street, Beverly Hills.

PRINTERS INK GIVEN PRAISE

Present Year Greatest in History of Company, Says Head of Advertising Concern

Newspapers were praised as advertising media yesterday by Albert D. Lasker, of Chicago, chairman of the board of Lord & Thomas and Logan, advertising agency, and former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, who left for the Middle West last night in company with John D. Hertz, head of the Yellow Cab Company and famous breeder of fine horses.

"In times such as these, when prices are big news," said Lasker, "there is no medium like the newspaper."

Lasker said that his own company, which is enjoying its greatest year, reports an increase over last year in the amount of newspaper advertising business. Dealers marketing objects which are quickly used up, such as soap and cigarettes and similar articles, are finding newspaper columns of particular value, he commented.

The business readjustment is accomplisihng a good purpose in influencing business heads to inventory their stocks, reduce waste and increase the efficiency of their establishments. In short, he said, they are placing their business on a sounder foundation, which will lead to sound prosperity later.

Lasker expressed himself as enthusiastic over Southern California, saying that the eyes of the country are turned on the State as a leader in getting things done by modern methods. He spoke in praise of California's co-operative organizations, describing them as models for the rest of the country.

"You have cast off outworn traditions where they didn't fit," he observed, "and have built your successes with truly American courage and determination."

So great are the changes that have taken place since he was here four years ago, he said, that he believes this section has only fairly embarked on its course.

Lasker stayed at the Biltmore.

COMPLAINT IN DAM ROW REWRITTEN

Taxpayers Charge Plot to Cheat, Wrong and Defraud in San Gabriel Controversy

Charging the four living members of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors that contracted to build the $25,000,000 San Gabriel Dam on a site later condemned with conspiracy to "cheat, wrong and defraud" the taxpayers of the Los Angeles Flood Control District, an amended complaint in the previous taxpayers' suit against the dam contractors was filed yesterday by Carl A. Shorb. Besides Supervisors Wright, Graves, Shaw and Beatty, the complaint named as defendant the Security-First National Bank, executor of the estate of R. F. McClelland, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who died May 3, last, and E. C. Eaton, engineer of the county flood-control district. The contractors, C. R. Ross, Alan McDonald, Felix Kahn and Claude Fisher, and their company were named in the original complaint.

The amended complaint, filed by Attorney E. D. Martindale, asks damages of $2,661,255.70, asserting that this amount was the total sum paid or authorized paid by the county for the work done by the contractors in excavating for the foundation of the dam. This work was stopped by order of Engineer Eaton, after a landslide had disclosed what an investigation of a board of engineers later termed "rotten" rock conditions along a fault directly beneath the site of the proposed 475-foot dam, planned to be the highest in the world. The original suit, filed August 5, last, merely demanded that the contractors return to the county $737,986.90 that had been paid for excavation only. Service is not recorded on defendants in this suit, and no answer is on file:

In the amended complaint, it is asserted the contractors submitted their bid for construction of the dam, knowing that completion of the work was improbable, because their private engineer's report showed the foundation of the proposed dam was faulty. Then, it is asserted, the contractors made a low bid for concrete work, and a high bid for excavation, in the hope of making a large profit on the excavation, without having to do the concrete work on which their low bid enabled them to be awarded the contract.

In this connection it was pointed out that a board of engineers appointed by the grand jury recently found the measurements of E. C. Eaton, flood-control engineer, and his staff, to be approximately correct, thus discrediting the same newspaper campaign against the flood-control district and Engineer Eaton, which opened with charges that the county had paid out too much money because its engineering data were erroneous.

City Planners Deny Oil Permit

The petition of I. H. Preston to drill for oil at Camino Real and Thorpe street, Mt. Washington district, was denied yesterday by the City Planning Commission following a hearing at which interested property owners jammed the board's session room.

The application was denied on motion of Commissioner Bicknell, who declared that region shows great possibilities for future residential development.

POISON LIQUOR DEATHS MOUNT

Fourteenth Victim During November Reported

Possible Fifteenth Case Now in Hospital

Cool Weather Blamed for Gain in Casualties

One more death yesterday increased the total number of fatalities due to poison liquor and denatured alcohol to fourteen since the first of the month, according to Coroner's office records.

The latest victim was Dan Gans, 38 years of age, colored. He died at the General Hospital after being found in an unconscious condition at Macy and Avilla streets. A possible fifteenth death may be that of Chris Villa, 37, of the American Hotel, found lying in the Plaza yesterday forenoon. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where his condition was pronounced critical.

On Thursday three deaths from the same source were recorded by Police, Rinaldo Ropeza, 30, of 109 Marchessault street; Mike Gonzales, 46, of 1015 1-2 Temple street, found at 340 North Main street, and P. M. Dyer of the St. Charles Hotel, found at 314 North Main street.

Captain of Detectives Davidson, head of the police homicide squad, attributed the unusual number of deaths to the present cold weather to some extent.

"Nearly all the victims," he pointed out, "are persons of poor financial circumstances. Unable to pay the high price for liquor sold by bootleggers, these men procure denatured alcohol, canned heat and other dangerous substitues and in the end pay the usual extreme penalty. Their motive, apparently, is to obtain the supposedly stimulating warmth of alcoholic substances while forced to walk the streets in the present chilly weather."

sult of having been struck by a Southern Pacific train at the intersection of the tracks at Worth street. Apparently the crew of the train did not witness the accident as no stop was made. Janota was found beside the tracks by workers from a near-by mill.

TWO WOMEN HURT

Mrs. Anna Gooch, 75, of 343 Oxford street, is not expected to recover from injuries she received when attempting to board a street car at Fifth and Broadway. She had not regained consciousness at a late hour at the Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Mary E. Daniels, 65, received probable fatal injuries when struck by a car driven by John Knoble at Third and Alvarado streets. Knoble was not held by the police.

Louis W. Baker, 53, an insurance man, of 1201 West Seventy-third street, probably was fatally injured when struck by an automobile at Twenty-fourth street and Vermont avenue. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital suffering from a fractured shoulder, crushed chest and possible internal injuries.

The automobile was driven by Howard Tyler of 224 North Woodward avenue, Sunland.

George Williams, 71 years of age, of 1118 West Sixty-ninth street, was probably fatally injured last night when he was struck by a car driven by Victory Stukey, of 3815 Towne avenue, as he was walking to the curb at 5960 South Vermont avenue after having alighted from a street car. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where it was announced that he suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO CRASH ON ROAD

UPLAND, Nov. 21. (AP)—Two persons were killed in a head-on automobile collision, believed to have been caused by a blinding sandstorm near here tonight.

The dead are Richard W. Lyans, 30 years of age, of 9220 South Madison street, Huntington Park, and Mrs. Polly Morrison, 56, of Nuevo, a Riverside suburb.

Merritt Rhodda, 30, of San Bernardino, riding with Lyans, was injured, not critically, and J. W. Morrison, driving the car in which Mrs. Morrison was riding, sustained severe bruises.

STREET OPENING ADVANCES

Another task in connection with the opening of Spring street from Temple to Sunset Boulevard, will be finished today when workmen under the direction of William Davidson, county mechanical engineer, will have completed removing gasoline tanks and equipment from that portion of the county's garage affected by the improvement. A diagonal strip, nineteen feet wide at the southwest corner and seven feet at the northwest end of the structure will be cut off in making the new roadway.

OWENS VALLEY BUY SPEEDED

Water Board Urges Haste in Preliminaries to Purchase of Five Towns

Indicating its desire to expedite the proposed purchase of properties in five towns in Owens Valley, the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday requested the City Attorney and the right-of-way and land agent of the water department to prepare plans of procedure for making such purchase.

Request was also made that the City Attorney assign Special Counsel Cosgrove to assist in preparing the plans. The opinion of the Supreme Court clearing away the last legal obstacle to such purchase has not been received officially by the city, but is expected within a few days.

Discussion at the board meeting yesterday indicated that any possible legal difficulties as to titles and procedure in the purchase of the towns should be gone into immediately so that no further delay in carrying out the plans will be encountered.

The board also ordered departmental managers not to do anything further in the matter of classification of civil service ratings until the schedules could be studied by the board. It was reported that the ratings had been sent over to the Civil Service Commission without referring the matter to the board.

AIR-MAIL DRIVE WILL BE WAGED

Junior Chamber Sponsors Prosperity Move

Postmaster Co-operates in Supplying Statistics

Addresses and Radio Talks to Mark Campaign

The Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday arranged to start a movement to conform with the request recently made by President Hoover in which he asked all organizations and individuals to speed up business. The local body elected to sponsor a series of addresses, radio speeches and other activities in connection with air-mail use.

Postmaster O'Brien is co-operating. He is advancing facts and figures which are the basis of the chamber's decision to advance air mail, it being shown that as air mail has prospered in the Southwest, so have general business conditions.

"Air mail has reduced the travel time of correspondence to and from Los Angeles to considerably less than half of what it used to be in days when mails were handled exclusively by railroads," said O'Brien. "This brings New York as near as Denver used to be, and business men now familiar with the advantages of air mail declare it has much to do with general business."

O'Brien also said the great period of prosperity in the entire Southwest developed just after the coming of air mail and was at its height during a campaign to increase the service. The campaign of several years ago is known to have been highly instrumental in many instances, and the present development is expected again to add materially to the local business volume.

Under the direction of the junior chamber many addresses are planned before civic bodies, service clubs and social organizations. Radio talks by air-mail experts, famous pilots and others are being arranged. All will culminate in a luncheon at the Biltmore Thursday noon, December 4.

AGENTS RAID BREWERY ON EGG RANCH

Plant Worth $10,000 With 4000 Bottles of Beer and Two Operators Captured

To the casual observer it appeared that Dash B. Williamson, alias Harry Walker, and Leo Carson were collecting eggs from a thriving flock of chickens on a three-acre poultry ranch at 838 Vista street, San Gabriel.

But when Federal prohibition agents, led by Edwin D. Vaughn, opened the door of the spacious chicken house at the rear of the ranch residence late yesterday, instead of roosts they discovered one of the most complete breweries on record here, the agents reported.

Williamson and Carson could not explain why it was necessary to have four huge vats of 750-gallon capacity each to mix mash for the small chicken flock and they were booked in the County Jail on suspicion of violating the Federal prohibition act.

The former said he is 36 years of age and a machinist, while Carson told the agents he is 23 and an oil worker.

Residents in the neighborhood stated that Williamson and Carson rented the ranch recently. Since then, the agents reported, the chicken house has been turned into a $10,000 complete bottling and brewing works, with modern machinery, high-pressure steam tanks, bottling and capping devices.

Four thousand pint bottles of beer were confiscated, according to the raiding report, and 10,000 empty pint bottles stored at the ranch will be destroyed.

Carson was in the hen-house brewery when the raiding squad arrived and Williamson drove in with a load of empty bottles in an automobile, the officers stated.

FLYER IN AIR CHEATS DEATH

dent and Mark started a wide turn that would have brought him back quickly for a practice landing.

McKeen saw the airmen's plight, shouted to Hulbert, whose fleet training biplane was standing with its motor going, and the two raced down the runway in Hulbert's craft. They turned about sharply and succeeded in getting in front of the disabled craft just as Mark was shutting off the motor to land.

Zig-zagging across the plane's path they forced Mark to go up again. They flew alongside and by gestures informed Ririe of the mishap. The latter climbed out and inspected the damage, got back in and unwound a two-foot piece of steel safety wire from the Continental's rudder bar and pulled the landing gear back in place.

He wired it up and took the controls from Mark to attempt a landing on one wheel.

His ship settled earthward while the crowd of onlookers held their breath. The single wheel touched the ground, held up the weight of the plane as Ririe dexterously held it on an even keel. Just as it stopped rolling the plane settled on the axle and turned slowly in a complete circle, but the wire held the landing gear in place and the plane did not receive a scratch from the remarkable landing.

Ririe, 23 years of age, came here from Ogden, Utah, Thursday as a guest of Mark. His narrow escape came on his first trip aloft since leaving home.

PROTESTS TURNED DOWN

Protests against the improvement of streets in the Courtney avenue and Courtney Terrace District were denied yesterday by the City Council. The file was returned to the Public Works Committee for further consideration.

Inglewood Girl in Mysterious Disappearance

Juanita Ditty, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Ditty, 413 West Manchester avenue, Inglewood, was last night the object of a police search when her parents reported the girl had failed to return home after leaving at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning on her way to Los Angeles in search of employment.

The girl's father told police his daughter had been seen as she boarded a street car to go to Los Angeles, but he has heard nothing from her since.

He gave her description as 5 feet 8 inches in height; 160 pounds, brown eyes, brown curly hair; wore a black broadcloth coat, black slippers and gray hose; black velvet hat. The father added that his daughter was large for her age and could easily be taken for a 20-year-old girl.

Clara Bow on Witness Stand in Miss De Voe Affair

M STAR PAYS ISIT TO JURORS

Questioned About Former Secretary

Complaint Against -Aide Abandoned

Delay Vote to Hear Other Side

youth brightened the atmosphere of the Los Angeles grand jury room yesterday when Clara Bow, red-headed motion-picture actress, took the witness stand and for more than an hour detailed charges against her secretary, Miss Daisy I. De Voe, whose discharge ten days ago created a furore in Hollywood.

Bow's appearance before the grand jury came as the climax of a program extending over a week during which it was announced that Miss Bow would ask a complaint to be issued by the District Attorney, that she would appear before the grand jury and again that the matter would be taken care of by a complaint. Finally the question was settled when the actress appeared at the District Attorney's office and was taken before the grand jury as a witness.

COMPLAINT ABANDONED

Until the time Miss Bow arrived at the District Attorney's office she was expected to sign a complaint against Miss De Voe. For hours stenographers on the District Attorney's staff had the complaint and it only a few minutes before the actress arrived.

The complaint was abandoned and the case was put before the grand jury.

In the grand jury room Miss Bow was asked to identify more than a score of checks which are alleged to have been cashed by Miss De Voe while employed as secretary.

JURY ADJOURNS

The actress was followed to the stand by George Armstrong, investigator for the District Attorney, and Blayney Matthews, chief of the bureau of investigation for that office.

After hearing the testimony of the three witnesses, the grand jury adjourned until next Tuesday, to take a vote on the matter until Miss De Voe has appeared to give her version of the story.

The controversy between Miss Bow and Miss De Voe was precipitated shortly after her discharge from the actress's service ten days ago when Miss De Voe was taken into technical custody by the District Attorney's office and the contents of her safety deposit box seized.

At that time Miss Bow, Matthews, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and others connected with the arrest, asserted that the property belonged to Miss Bow. Miss De Voe charged that they had seized some of her personal property and brought suit for its return, also asking damages for the allegedly illegal seizure.

Since then the case has been tossed back and forth between the grand jury and District Attorney's office until it finally landed in the lap of the grand jury shortly before adjournment yesterday.

STATEMENT PROMISED

On leaving the grand-jury room Miss Bow, through her publicity agent, promised to issue a statement setting forth her side on the De Voe matter. The statement did not materialize, however.

Earlier in the week Miss De Voe, through her attorney, Nathan O. Freedman, appeared at the District Attorney's office and made an official demand for the return of the contents of her safety deposit vault. The request was refused with the statement that the property was being held as evidence.

MISS BOW ANSWERS MISS DE VOE'S SUIT

General denial of the charges made by Daisy De Voe, secretary of Clara Bow, motion-picture actress, was made in an answer to Miss De Voe's suit, filed jointly by Miss Bow and her friend and codefendant, Rex Bell, actor, yesterday.

Miss De Voe's suit, which originally asked $7200 damages, named besides Miss Bow, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, his assistants, Blayney Matthews, James Cline and Marjorie

Realty Dealer Held Guilty of Manslaughter

D. Hulme, Alhambra realty man, yesterday was convicted on a charge of manslaughter in the death of David R. Thomas, who was run down by an automobile and killed on the Seventh-street bridge 10, last, in Superior Judge court. The jury deliberated less than three hours.

Hulme was arrested and charged with the crime when his hat was found near the scene of the accident. He denied the charge, asserting that Thomas already had been struck down at the time he drove across the bridge and lost his hat.

NAVY MAN KILLED IN MANEUVER

Battle Fleet Returns to Port Following Gunnery Practice at Sea

With the return from manevuers yesterday of the battle fleet was disclosed the killing during gunnery practice of Michael Andray, 20 years of age, first-class seaman aboard the U.S.S. New Mexico.

Andray was struck by an electrically driven power rammer. The accident occurred in one of the turrets Wednesday night.

The New Mexico took the body to San Diego, whence it was shipped to 2142 Halstead avenue, Lakewood, O., where Andray lived.

The battle fleet was back at anchor last night.

Aerial attacks on the dreadnaught column featured the exercises, though the most spectacular event was a torpedo attack on the battleship division by the destroyer squadrons. The destroyers rushed out from behind a chemical smoke curtain laid by bombing planes, launched their torpedoes and then turned and attempted to disappear again with the screen before the battleship secondary guns could be brought into action.

The battleships will go to the drill grounds again next week to fire uncompleted gunnery practices and will anchor at Los Angeles Harbor next Wednesday evening to remain in port over the Thanksgiving holiday period. They will be at sea to complete delayed practices December 1 to 5 and on December 6 will anchor to remain in port for the Christmas period, going to sea again January 5 to prepare for long-range battle practice, to be fired during the week of January 19.

TWO-NATION WATER PACT PROPHESIED

Mexican Official Here on Commission Confident of Mutual Agreement

Belief that Mexico and the United States will reach a harmonious and mutually beneficial agreement in the solution of water problems along the international boundary westward from Yuma was expressed last night by J. J. VASQUEZ SCHIAFFINO

Schiaffino, who formerly was Mexican Ambassador to Japan, with other members of the Mexican section of the commissions of the two nations, is staying at the Rosslyn Hotel. The party plans to leave today to inspect the site of Boulder Dam and the Roosevelt and Coolidge dams in Arizona en route to Mexico City. Yesterday members of the group toured the beach districts and visited several motion-picture studios.

Others in the Mexican commission include Fortunato Dozal, engineer and chairman of the section; Amado Santa Cruz, Jr., consulting engineer of the Mexican Boundary Commission; Ignacio Lopez Bancalari, noted engineer of Mexico; Frederico Ramos, secretary of the section, and A. MRS. WILKE JURY GIVEN LIQUOR CASE

Deliberations on Guilt or Innocence of Deputy City Attorney's Wife Underway

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 21.—Deliberations by a jury on the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Zaida May Wilke, wife of Royal Wilke, Los Angeles Deputy City Attorney, charged with intoxication and reckless driving, was under way here tonight, following the hearing of evidence in the Police Court.

Mrs. Wilke and her husband, outstanding local World War hero, were arrested on drunk and reckless-driving charges on the 4th inst. Mrs. Wilke secured a change of venue to Los Angeles on the reckless-driving complaint but changed her mind when her case came to trial this morning and asked Police Judge Riccardi to hear both charges.

Mr. Wilke, who was critically injured during the World War when his United States Army plane was shot down by a German ace, also asked for a jury trial and his case is scheduled to be heard December 5. In addition to drunk and reckless - driving charges he faces a charge of possession and transportation of liquor.

Patrolmen C. B. Lay and H. B. Mallonee testified that after receiving a radio report that a drunken driver was headed south on Raymond avenue, they raced to the scene and saw a car answering the description parked at the curb.

Mallonee testified that Mrs. Wilke made an effort to prevent them from taking Wilke to jail. "She tried to run us down with the car while we were handcuffing her husband but stopped less than a foot from us when we shoved Wilke in front," Mallonee declared.

Mrs. Wilke contends that she and her husband were roughly treated and that the arresting officers became doubly officious when they learned that Wilke "was somebody."

WIER DEDICATED

E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District, was one of the speakers yesterday at the dedication of the Tri Counties Wier, largest spreading ground in the world for the conservation of water, just completed in Santa Ana Canyon, near Highland. The project was financed by San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties. Luncheon was served on the grounds.

ONE-MAN RIOT EXPLODES IN CHAMBER OF COUNCIL

What started out to be a routine hearing of appeals before the City Council against the assessments for the paving of Avenue 45 between Frontenac avenue and Glenalbyn Drive, swiftly turned into a one-man riot yesterday when Hugh Hoffman of 6754 De Longpre avenue, a protesting property owner, roared defiance right and left before he was ejected.

During the course of his outburst, Hoffman said he would prefer Al Capone as the governing force of Los Angeles, because, he said, Capone fights out in the open with guns. Hoffman termed the levying of assessments a "racket," which can be beaten only by carrying an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Hoffman shouted that he did not ask for the improvement and had been given no opportunity to protest. The city government, he said, is arranging matters so the property owners can have a large bundle of tax receipts to carry to the poorhouse.

The amplifying system was tested to its utmost by Hoffman, who clearly had an advantage over Council President Sanborn, who attempted to restore order, and Councilmen who tried to make themselves heard.

Hoffman espied Sergeant-at-Arms Daniels in the chamber and, pointing him out, declared he expected that minion of the law to throw him out. His prophecy was good, because Daniels did rush him out into the rotunda.

TERROR BANDIT SHOT BY POLICE

Second Robber Believed to Have Been Wounded

Reign of Oil Station Hold-ups Has Speedy Ending

Mother Waiting for Son Hit on Head by Thief

A blast of buckshot from a shotgun in the hands of a policeman dropped an asserted bandit with a leaden slug in his throat last night, brought to an end a reign of terror inaugurated by two hold-up men in a stolen car in the southwestern part of the city where, within an hour, four filling stations had been robbed by the pair, the police declare. In other parts of the city fifteen citizens were held up and fourteen robberies took place during the twenty-four-hour period.

The wounded man was identified as Casey Jones by Detective-Lieutenant Ellis at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, who declares he arrested him eight months ago for possessing a stolen car. He admitted his identity.

The shooting was done by Police Officer A. Solovan of the Georgia-street station who had been "staked" out across the street from the Richfield service station at Venice Boulevard and Oak street. He waited until he was sure that a hold-up was in progress and then darted across the street and shot the man at the wheel.

The second bandit had just taken $20 from Manager W. L. Nielson of the service station and was driving him across the yard at the point of a gun where he intended locking him up in a closet. Solovan fired at the second bandit who ran. The officer believes he hit him, he says. Jones slumped in his seat and offered no resistance. He refused to talk or give his address. His wound will not be fatal, it was said at the hospital.

The car had been reported stolen the 11th inst. from Frank Dillman, 3065 West Seventh street.

OTHER ROBBERIES

The first place visited by the pair, police say, was the Richfield station at 1703 West Ninth street, where they took $20 from Manager S. S. Bryant. The Winters service station, William Maloney, attendant, 2342 West Washington Boulevard, yielded $35. The next stop was made at the Sunset service station at Pico street and Arlington avenue, where the bandits took $12 and a radio from Howard Francis, manager.

Bandits entered "Dad's" lunchroom at 224 East Pico street last night, but when the proprietor, Charles E. Cuthbert, told them he lost his wife last month and did not have enough money to pay the rent, they walked out, he told police.

WOMAN SLUGGED

Mrs. Bonificia Diaz of 1519 Cardinal street was the victim of the brutal slugging, which necessitated medical treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. She was assaulted while she sat alone in her son's automobile at Macy and Date streets while he was absent at a near-by tire repair shop. A bandit, without warning, crept up behind her and struck her on the head with a piece of gas pipe, then as she fell half conscious against the steering wheel robbed her purse of $20. A few minutes later the son returned to find her head covered with blood and still in a dazed condition. She could give only an incoherent description of her assailant.

A second report of the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friedman and E. Kaufman of 364 North Gardner street, in front of the Friedman home at 808 South Hobart Boulevard, disclosed that Mrs. Friedman lost $3600 in diamond jewelry in addition to the $100 in cash as was at first reported. Kaufman also lost $40.

SLAPPED IN FACE

The robbery was perpetrated by one bandit who, after holding up the trio as they drove into the driveway of their home, got into the back seat with Mrs. Friedman and ordered her husband to drive to Ninth and Serrano streets. En route he slapped Mrs. Friedman brutally in the face when she turned to look at him.

"You keep your mush to the front," was his coarse warning, "or I'll use my fist the next time."

After pocketing the valuables from his victims the bandit ordered Friedman to drive off and made his escape in another direction on foot. Police believe he had a confederate waiting for him in an automobile near Ninth and Serrano streets.

As he walked by a dark alley near his home at 6051 Salem Place Robert R. Lewis was attacked by two bandits armed with leather saps filled with shot. One of the pair struck at him first and missed. Then as Lewis warded off a second blow with an upraised arm the second bandit closed in and struck at his head with another sap. This blow also missed and Lewis, sidestepping, and fighting blindly in the darkness, landed a lucky blow on the chin of one of the bandits. The bandit fell and Lewis made a quick escape.

OIL STATIONS HELD UP

Four service stations were the scenes of robberies. At 1201 South Western avenue E. S. Carter lost $30 to two bandits; at 1422 East Colorado Boulevard Joe Stiles was held up by a Negro and robbed of $15; Glenn Huddleston was robbed of $25 by two bandits at 3301 North Main street; and D. T. Hughes was robbed of $13 and locked in his office in the Richfield station at 5101 South Main street by another pair of bandits.

Currency amounting to $100 was obtained by two bandits who held up P. J. Andrews, manager, in the Union Square Grill at 1014 West Sixth street.

Compelling the cashier to lie down on the floor behind her cash register counter a lone bandit obtained $36 in the Modern Craft Laundry at 3283 West Pico Boulevard.

D. Price, a taxicab driver, was held up at Tenth and Francisco streets by a passenger and robbed of $7.

George Du Bain of 2733 South Figueroa reported he was robbed of $2 by a motorist bandit with whom he accepted a lift on his way home from work.

MRS. DE COO FILES REPLY TO HUSBAND

Divorce Suit Answer Says Plaintiff Struck Her and Dislodged Teeth

Charges that C. A. De Coo, former police commissioner, knocked out two of her gold teeth and called her a gold digger, are contained in a cross-complaint filed yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Katherine De Coo, in answer to her husband's suit for divorce accusing her of cruelty and desertion.

From the assertions contained in Mrs. De Coo's answer it is evident that she intends to contest the suit and refute the charges that she struck him on the nose and called him an old fool.

The De Coos were married in New York City on August 19, 1925, and separated in January, 1929.

Jury Foreman Refutes Plea of Romola Chief

In an affidavit filed yesterday in United States District Court by C. M. Staub, foreman of the Federal grand jury, denial was made that an unauthorized person was in the grand jury room during hearing of testimony in connection with the case of Alexander Hursh, formerly head of Romola, Inc., and twenty-nine other persons, all of whom were indicted for using the mails to defraud in the real-estate deals of the company.

It had been charged in a motion by the attorney for Hursh that Christie McDonald, a clerk in the United States Attorney's office, had conversed with Asst. U.S.-Atty Redwine regarding the case in the presence of the jury. The motion was made for an abatement of the proceedings. The case is scheduled to come up December 15 to be set for trial.

Oil Man Asks Wife Sought

M. D. Cavnar, for twenty years in the service of the Associated Oil Company at Fellows, has asked Los Angeles police, as well as the J. N. Pyles National Detective Service to search for his wife. Mrs. Blanche C. Cavnar, 45 years of age, who left her home last Friday to drive to a hair dresser's at Taft and failed to return.

Mr. Cavnar says his wife had long been ill and wrote she believed she would be better off dead than in such constant pain. It was learned that she came to Los Angeles from Taft.

She is described as five feet three inches in height, brown bobbed hair, a scar in her left eyebrow and brown eyes. She wore a brown dress with a white panel in front, brown oxfords and a dark-blue felt turban when she left home.

A test for mushrooms: Stir them, while cooking, with a silver spoon; any foreign substance in them will turn the silver. Do not wash mushrooms but clean them with a brush. Oysters and mushrooms are a delicious combination. Mushrooms dried in a slow oven until crisp and then rubbed through a sieve make a delicious addition to soups and gravies.

It is seldom that a large corporation is found taking a personal and unselfish interest in the public welfare, but there is such an institution right in our midst.

Taking advantage of the knowledge gained by thousands of dollars spent in determining the effect of coffee on the human system, the Ben-Hur Coffee Company have entered upon an educational campaign in order to change the habits of the nation in its coffee-drinking methods. When I tell you that over $200,000 has already been spent in this educational campaign, you will realize just what this company has done for the public.

It is now a known fact that coffee made by the drip filtration method whereby the release of the tannic acid is checked and the insoluble, indigestible resinous fats are filtered out by the use of the silk fiber filter paper which is employed by this method, the beverage is made much more healthful. The Ben-Hur Coffee Company spent nearly two years in developing a coffee specially adapted in every way for making the most healthful beverage by the drip filtration method. It is known as Ben-Hur Drip Coffee. This coffee undergoes a precuring process before being roasted that allows it to take on the most delicious and perfect flavor roast known to science. Nearly 150,000 families in Southern California and Arizona are now preparing their coffee by this method, and hundreds of letters have been received, telling of the marvelous changes that have taken place in the health and physical condition of individuals after changing from boiled or percolated coffee to drip filtered coffee. With many, changing from boiled or percolated coffee. With many, a few weeks' discontinuance of boiled coffee substituting filtered coffee, cleared the system completely of acid condition, biliousness and indigestion.

The irritation of accumulated tannic acid on the central nervous system can account for a great many distressing symptoms known to the category of human ills. The far-reaching results of drip coffee as shown by the hundreds of letters being received are a revelation even to the Ben-Hur Coffee Company themselves.

It has also been determined that coffee should never stand in a metal container, the acid of the coffee causing an erosion of the metal which not only spoils the flavor but might detract from its healthfulness.

Knowing that many people are unable to afford any great investment in china coffee pots, the company has had several hundred "seconds" in this line shipped from the factory which they are placing within reach of the public without profit, at bargain prices. In the manufacture of these high quality, nonporous china pots, they are fired at such a high temperature that nearly one-third of the entire number are termed as seconds. In many instances the only flaw is some little spot in the glazing, others being slightly warped, but all being just as serviceable as the first grade, which cost more than double what the "seconds" are being offered for.

To take advantage of this large selection of coffee utensils, you will have to go direct to the offices of the Ben-Hur Coffee Company, 800 Traction avenue. As Christmas time is nearly here why not use healthful coffee-making appliances as gifts. They will not only be appreciated from a gift standpoint but also from the physical benefit derived throughout coming years.

Board to Study Protests Filed on Car Routes

A group of protestants, mostly apartment owners who held that changes in car lines would be confusing to their patrons, spoke against the proposal to reroute Los Angeles Railway cars over new track constructed on Third street between Western avenue and Gramercy Place, at the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation hearing yesterday.

The board took the matter under advisement.

The rerouting would affect D line cars now terminating at First and Bonnie Brae, by turning them at Alvarado street to continue out West Sixth street to the company's right of way and on Third street west to La Brea; also routing I line cars over Bonnie Brae, Ocean View and Alvarado to take the place of the D line on Alvarado north to Sixth street.

FUNERAL CONDUCTED FOR B. F. STROHM

Funeral rites for B. Franklin Strohm, veteran Southern Pacific engineer, who died Wednesday of pneumonia, were conducted yesterday at the Bramble Funeral Home, 1816 South Toberman street. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Strohm, 74 years of age, had resided in California half a century. He came here from Pennsylvania in 1880. For many years he piloted an engine on the run between Mojave and Bakersfield, but was retired twenty years ago as a result of deafness incurred when his locomotive exploded. He leaves a nephew and two nieces.

MRS. KIRK TO GIVE EVIDENCE

Eighty-Year-Old Widow Will Make Deposition in Son's Suit for Guardianship

Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, wealthy widow whose disappearance was a five-day mystery, today will give her deposition at her present lodgings in South Pasadena, instead of going to Superior Judge Hazlett's court, where her son's petition for a guardianship is being heard. Mrs. Kirk, who is 80 years of age, inherited from her husband, John E. Kirk, harvester inventor, $250,000, which the son, Norman T. Kirk, asserts has shrunk to $65,000.

Attorney Earl Wakeman, for Kirk, and Attorneys John C. Stick and W. C. Snyder, for Mrs. Kirk, yesterday agreed in court to go today to the home of William A. Andrews, South Pasadena postmaster, where Mrs. Kirk has been lodging. She fell and broke her hip last January, making visits to court difficult. The deposition will be read to Judge Hazlett on Monday.

Postmaster Andrews yesterday testified that Mrs. Kirk is healthy, religious and has a good memory. Dr. Harry A. Williams, psychiatrist, testified that, in his opinion, she is as mentally sound as women of her age average.

Attorney Wakeman asked Dr. Williams if he considered it reasonable for a woman 80 years of age to try to give $45,000 for her total of $65,000 to an old people's home. Judge Hazlett sustained an objection blocking an answer.

Norman Kirk asserts that his mother is mentally incompetent to handle her estate. The mother retorted with suit to recover $25,000 which she said she entrusted to her son for investment, and which he contends was a gift.

DISTILLER ASKS PROBATION

Superior Judge Craig yesterday found Paul Cassella guilty of possession of a still. Hearing on Cassella's application for probation was set for December 8. Cassella was arrested September 16, last.

AWARD FOR INJURY WON BY WOMAN

Court Holds That Private Ambulance Cannot Ignore Traffic Signals

A private ambulance has no right to ignore traffic signals, Superior Judge Wilson ruled yesterday in giving judgment for $578 to Fred and Myrtle Schmelzle against Fred and Allen Bade, operators of an ambulance service. The Schmelzles sued for $10 078, complaining that a Bade ambulance ran through a traffic stop signal at Alvarado and Sixth streets, July 3, 1929, and hit Mrs. Schmelzle's automobile, causing her injuries.

"The law gives no right of way to an ambulance unless the same is a police or fire department vehicle," Judge Wilson ruled. "In that event, it would have right of way over all vehicles, but must be operated with due regard for the safety of all persons using the highways."

Attorneys Tanner, Odell & Taft represented the Schmelzles.

CAPONE'S "BIG HEART"

"Scarface Al" Capone is making a Robin Hood gesture in Chicago by giving unemployed persons "three squares a day." But the figures given out by his lieutenant are interesting. The aide claims that Capone is feeding 2000 persons for $300 a day. That means 6000 meals at a cost of 5 cents each. A lot of the big cities could tide the unemployed over a cold winter at that rate without feeling the pinch. "There's a little good in the worst of us."

KITCHEN CAREERS

The cycle is complete; we are back in the kitchen again. There was a time when culinary knowledge was absorbed. Learning to cook was a species of apprenticeship. The bread mother used to make was communicated from mother to daughter. The cherry pie was a key to matrimony.

Now cooking is a science and a business. It is a course in college. It is dignified by a degree in home economics. Young men as well as young women are aspiring to kitchen careers. The cook is now a chef and occupies a place in society. Youngsters are now in pursuit of vitamins and count calories, and the pantry is a research laboratory.

Business employs demonstrators to expound the values of its products and lectures are no longer confined to physics and astronomy. Eloquence is no longer confined to the pulpit; but weaves its spell around cakes and pies. Beans and bread become articles in magazines that hold place with the articles of religion. The kitchen sink has become a throne and the cook is king. He does not receive orders; he gives commands. His word is law around the house. His subjects bow to his will and he comes and goes at pleasure and leisure. There is little wonder that youth seeks this new-found place of power.

Eating has become an art and cooking has become a science. It is no longer a trap to catch a husband. Whether this will result in more healthful bodies remains to be tested. But we are in the grip of the scientist and might as well succumb cheerfully to his experiments.

If our livers outlast the regime and our intestinal fortitude withstands the onslaught, we may emerge. Having survived the hotdog and chili sauce, we feel hardened to anything and front the future with prayerful resignation.

THE WHITE SPOT

Three things are necessary to successful agriculture: a favorable soil and climate, including a plentiful water supply, tillers of intelligence, character and industry and a system of marketing which will assure the disposal of the crops to the best advantage.

Southern California is fortunate in the possession of these three absolute essentials. Here is an area of fertile soil equal to that of nine States on the Atlantic seaboard. Scientific cultivation has here reached its highest development. A system of marketing through co-operative associations has been perfected which delivers the crops to the most favorable market, prevents stagnation at any one point, and secures the maximum of efficiency with a minimum of overhead.

Southern California's irrigated area, scientifically cultivated, produces the highest average yield per acre known to agriculture. Wealth taken from the soil of five counties immediately adjacent to the city of Los Angeles is greater this year than any other since these counties were incorporated, according to the results of an exhaustive survey just completed and published by The Times. Figures from official sources place the gross cash returns for the 1930 soil crops of these counties at $212,060,594. This is $5,000,000 greater than that for the previous banner year, 1927.

In these five counties about 1,000,000 acres are under cultivation, giving an average return from the entire area of approximately $212 per acre.

While they have suffered less than others, the industrial districts of Southern California have not escaped the effects of a temporary world-wide depression. But the losses to industry here have been largely offset by the gains to agriculture. The purchasing power of the rural communities has never been so great; and they are taking advantage of lower prices for industrial products to purchase liberally.

Through co-operative marketing and co-operative educational advertising the consumption of citrus fruits and citrus by-products has been so popularized that the yield of the increased acreage is all consumed in the local and eastern markets, and at top prices.

Why oranges and lemons should be selling at top prices while the price of Midwest agricultural products is the lowest in a generation is a problem that is now engaging the attention of the members of the Federal Farm Board. President Hoover himself would like to know, as evidenced by his making C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a member of that board.

Whatever be the cause, the effect has been to make the Southern California agricultural area the white spot of the agricultural map of the United States.

While citrus-fruit culture brings substantial returns to the growers, it is not on citrus culture alone that the prosperity of the agricultural area of Southern California depends. There is a diversity of soil and climate, due to proximity to the sea and to varying altitudes, which insures that almost anything grown elsewhere can be cultivated here profitably. Twenty different crops grown here this year brought to the ranchers returns in excess of $125 an acre. The yield from some choice spots was in excess of $2000 an acre.

Before co-operative marketing was developed, there were seasons when even citrus fruits were cultivated at a loss by the growers. There was no co-ordinated shipping and markets were alternately in a state of glut or of famine. For thirty years co-operative marketing has been developing; and the value and the efficiency of the co-operative exchanges are demonstrated by the unprecedented result achieved in a year of general depression.

While the grain growers of the Middle West cannot hope, under any form of organization, to equal the gross returns per acre of the Southern California agricultural area—due to our own exceptional soil and climatic conditions—the success achieved here through scientific co-operative growing and marketing points the way to an improvement of agricultural conditions generally.

BUSINESS STABILIZATION

The California Manufacturers' Association is following up the business stabilization plans of the State Chamber of Commerce by urging members to use the present to prepare for increased business in the future—to renovate plants and equipment, to replan and redesign and generally modernize. In addition it is making several important suggestions for the maintenance of the fullest employment possible.

Nos. 1 and 2 in this list are particularly good advice. The first is, Hold actual layoffs to minimum by reduction of weekly hours; the second, In those industries and businesses where plan is applicable, consider rotation of workers in preference to curtailment of total working force.

These suggestions recognize that the best way to cure unemployment is to give employment. When there is not enough employment to go around, it should be spread to give everybody some gainful work rather than full time to a few employees. This is the plan commonly known as the "five-day week," which is advocated not because there is any magic about the words five-day, but because that is about the number of working days necessary to take care of the present unemployed, considering that it is not applicable to all industries. If the industries which can use the five-day week do so, it is believed the situation will be taken care of.

General adoption of these suggestions by the California Manufacturers' Association will result in an immediate improvement in conditions and speed the return of normal times.

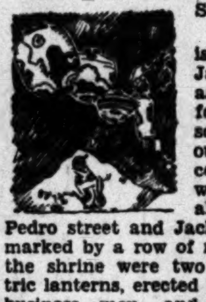
The LEE SIDE O' L·A·
BY Lee Shippey

THERE is no business depression in our Little Nippon. It was driven out by Shinto rites at the Ineri shrine on Jackson street last Saturday and Sunday.



The celebration is known to our Japanese colony as the autumn festival and is something like our harvest-home celebrations. The way to the shrine, along North San Pedro street and Jackson street, was marked by a row of red lanterns. At the shrine were two elaborate electric lanterns, erected by the Japanese business men, and there were two enormous paper lanterns sent overseas by the Tokio fish market, while the Tokio vegetable market at Kanda sent two gorgeous Chinese lions.

The ceremony was designed to chase away the evil spirit of gloom and to bring good luck to the business men. Following the religious ceremonies, which began at 2 p.m., the whole evening was spent in merrymaking and entertainment.

The Whole World Kin

How similar the general plan of such a celebration is to that of a Mexican fiesta.

And it is not so different from the seasons of religious celebration in the Russian colony on our East Side. There are seven Russian churches there, the largest being on Gless street, near Fourth, and all the others in that neighborhood between First and Fourth streets. To their churches the Russians go in native costume, carrying their polished and shining samovars, and after the services they have a big communal feast and do not forget to drink a little tea. We dropped in on one of those gatherings at which there were about 130 people, and counted twenty-four big samovars, each of which looked to us as if it would hold a couple of gallons of tea.

Honor Where Honor Is Due

Yes, brethren, many strange sects meet here to worship in their own ways. But when it comes to freakishness none of them can match our own innumerable cults.

Theatrical Capital Moving

More evidence that Los Angeles is becoming the theatrical capital of America is found in the fact that Hollywood may take the lead in a movement to save the Little Church Around the Corner, in New York, which actors of all creeds look on as "their church."

When news reached Hollywood recently that the so-called march of progress threatened the demolition of the little church, Joseph Cawthorn, George Fawcett and other veteran actors brought up the subject at the Masquers, and feeling rose so high that players deserted the bridge tables to take part in the discussion. Fawcett recalled attending a wedding there in company with DeWolf Hopper. "DeWolf was so touched by the atmosphere of the little church," says Fawcett, "that he vowed that, if possible, he was going to have all his future weddings there."

The church was given its name by a haughty clergyman who did not approve of the theatrical profession. Joseph Jefferson had gone to him to arrange for the funeral of a friend. The disapproving minister said his schedule was too full to permit of any engagements just then. "But the little church around the corner will do it," he suggested. Since that day the church has been known as the Little Church Around the Corner and the theatrical profession has made it famous. If it should pass another tie which made actors love New York will be removed.

But the interest in it here reminds us how many of the leading actors, managers, agents and playwrights of America are here and most of them here to stay.

The Emphasis of Understatement

From an advertisement of the General Electric Company:

"Most mothers know that the sun which shines on a winter day—even the clearest and brightest—contains only 2 per cent of the vital health-maintaining ultraviolet rays found in summer sunlight."

We wonder if "most mothers" really know so much as all that.

Joshua Little Says

It is surprising how many columnists suffer nervous breakdowns. It is not written that a column a day keeps the doctor away.

Yes, it's surprising how many columnists break down—and how few get shot.

Friend Bill, who has a weak heart, prefers to go to see football games instead of getting them by radio because it's so much less exciting to see them.

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man wise because he gets a chance to read the paper before the children grab it for the funnies.

We can make this a real, old-fashioned Thanksgiving. The first thanksgivers, you know, were thankful for very little.

ROYALISM IN JAPAN

In most instances where assassins attempt the lives of government heads the would-be slayer is usually found to be an anarchist, the enemy of a royal house or the president of a republic. But with the young man who recently attempted to assassinate Premier Hamaguchi the case is wholly different, if cabled accounts are correct. His act appears to have been a demonstration of fanatical loyalty to the Emperor and the state.

As leader of the Liberal party in Japan Premier Hamaguchi stands for democratic ideals. There are many Japanese who believe that the old royal order should be superseded by the establishment of a firm democracy. Evidently Hamaguchi's assailant does not belong to that class, but to the order which lives politically in the past and is strongly opposed to innovation, particularly that smacking of occidentalism.

Hamaguchi scored a great victory at the last general election in Japan, and in the Parliament he has a substantial majority over the other parties. For this reason he has been hated by the Tory element and his life has been repeatedly threatened.

It would seem that the position of a democratic leader in Japan is by no means a safe one in a physical sense and that it may be a long time before it becomes so.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The annual sale of Christmas seals, to aid the constant fight humanity is waging against the great "white plague," has again started in Los Angeles. A good way to open the holiday season is to lay in a store of the little double red-cross stamps to be affixed to every envelope and parcel through which Christmas cheer is spread between families and friends. The individual cost is small; the collective good is large. It starts our Christmas giving in the true Christmas spirit.

Every recipient of a package embellished with the little Christmas seals knows in a general way what they stand for, that they are the sign manual of a crusade against sickness, beacons of hope to thousands suffering from the cruelest of maladies.

The Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association assists many projects here as a network of health and protection; a division of tuberculosis in the City Health Department, free tuberculosis clinics throughout the city, nutrition classes in the public schools, a model open-air preventorium for children, vocational training in hospitals, training for medical students and nurses. It has fought for legislation resulting in better housing and sanitation. It has helped to enlarge social service facilities, emergency relief, free examinations of under-par adults and other projects, now accepted as essential parts of the city's health machinery.

In Southern California are many former residents of other States who have found here that restoration to health of which they almost despaired in their old environment. There are many others who are battling back to normal health thanks to the help afforded them by the pure air and clear sunshine of these hills and deserts. Others have friends and relatives to whom they would extend the advantages enjoyed by those who live in and around Los Angeles. All of these are directly interested in the fight with this ravaging sickness. How better could they show their gratitude for themselves and their desires to share their benefits with others than by affixing to every one of the letters and packages they send out this Christmas season one or more of the little Christmas seals?

A PRIVATE PREFERENCE

By James J. Montague

Only cowards will flinch at the nip and the pinch
Of poverty's punishing claw,
The man of strong nerve will not tremble or swerve
When he faces real life in the raw.
Although hardships run rife in the battle of life,
And its gruelling stresses and strains,
You will find in the test that they bring out the best
One can muster in body and brains.
But if I had my choice I believe I could bear
A life without trouble or care.

Only cravens take flight at the blizzard's shrewd bite,
Or shudder like sheep in a fold
When to town they must wade through the snowdrifts, upgrade,
And the weather is bitterly cold.
In our grandfathers' day, he-men never gave way
To the hardships they met with the while,
But struggled along, eager-hearted and strong,
And met all their cares with a smile.
But if I had my way, in the winter I'd be Lounging 'round by some tropical sea.

Only weaklings confess that the road to success
Is a long, dreary climb up the hill,
And prefer to recline 'neath a murmuring pine
By the side of a silvery rill.
All the good and the great have accepted their fate
And have never lain down in the race,
But have toiled every day on their glorious way
To the gateway of power and place.
But I'd vastly prefer to hold these things in thrall
Without any trouble at all.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Appreciation

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Cline's article, "Forward the Amateur," was thrilling. His appreciation of the production was, of course, most welcome.

Especially pleasing to me was the fact that he caught the real idea back of this amateur effort. Of course, you have no way of knowing what a stir is created in an organization like ours when a representative of a responsible and intelligent paper of the character of The Times recognizes and praises the spirit behind an amateur production. It was the talk of the building from top to bottom Saturday morning.

Allow me to speak for the whole organization and tell you that we sincerely appreciate your encouragement of the efforts of our people to find a means of expressing themselves in clean, wholesome ways.

F. N. RUSH,
Vice-President and General Manager Southern California Telephone Company.

Teacher Tenure

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I noticed in The Times issue of Monday morning, November 17, under a Glendale date line some statements made by the president of the Board of Education of that city.

In the first place, may I remark in passing that teachers who are employed by city and county cannot be placed on the same footing as employees of any large private corporation.

In the next place, he is glaringly mistaken in one statement, namely, that no other class of employees has tenure.

The president of a city board of education has undoubtedly overlooked the fact that about 600,000 civil service employees of the United States have tenure. Also several thousand State, county and city employees have tenure under civil service.

Principal of One Hundred and Eleventh-Street School, 1610 East One Hundred and Eleventh street, Los Angeles.

Maligned

SAN FERNANDO, Nov. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This morning's Times gives Aimee Semple McPherson's opinion of Cristobal, Panana, and their newspapers and reporters.

Several years ago it was my great pleasure and privilege to spend some years in Panama within a short distance of Cristobal.

We were stationed there in the Army, but while she calls Cristobal a sailor city and the long streets of saloons and cabarets were for the amusement of the service people—I beg to tell the lady she is very much misinformed. The rigid rules governing our service men do not allow them to frequent saloons and cabarets (ask some of the boys who have been disciplined for it) besides in the service we found enough good, clean amusement without these resorts. Her accusations are an insult to all the men in the government service.

Cheery Cartoons

PASADENA, Nov. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times: If some one is doing a good thing in this world I believe in telling them about it.

The cartoon on the front page of The Times by Gale each day is one of the best things in your paper.

Take this morning's paper, November 18, the first thing that greets your eye is a cartoon of prosperity, which to every reader means so much and starts one out for the day feeling fine. If one will read his cartoon first thing every morning he can't help but have a different feeling on life. Gale's talent is certainly a great gift.

School Vacations

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In one of Harry Carr's recent articles he made a suggestion which I have been hoping would be discussed in your column, since it is a strictly down-to-date matter. I refer to the suggestion to keep the public schools open during all the year. Why should our entire population be compelled to take its vacation during the two months of July and August because that is the only time children can get away from school? Many people find it more convenient, for business reasons, to travel during the winter than the summer; and many of our resorts are more attractive in the months of September and October than during the summer, yet these places are practically closed just at the time when the owners are best equipped to serve their patrons and when their business should be at its best.

There are so many benefits that could come from having our schools open twelve months a year that one wonders if there could be any objection to it. We had a number of less reasonable things on our last ballot. Could we not have this matter put up to our voters at the next election?

HANDLING CRIMINALS

BY J. M. SCANLAND

According to authentic figures, recently published, there are more crimes committed in Los Angeles now than there were in San Francisco in the days that brought forth the Great Vigilance Committee. That is, in proportion to the population. In those pioneer days there was very little law and the city was filled with the worst people from every quarter of the globe. There were 135 murders committed during the year previous to the formation of the committee and two of these were committed by women. But, the robberies were very numerous. Neither life nor property was safe. There was an organization of criminals known as "Hounds," a name appropriately selected by themselves. They levied an assessment to be paid weekly, on every business house, under the guise of "protection." If this backmail was not paid, the store was robbed, or probably burned down. This was something like the racketeering system in Chicago, which seems to be getting a foothold in this city. Finally, this blackmailing, burglarizing and incendiarism became monotonous in the Bay City and the people rose and organized a vigilance committee, the largest in the world, it is believed. The "Hounds" were run to earth, several murderers were hanged and many criminals were driven out of the city with the threat that they would be hanged if they returned. Lawyers, judges, the police and other officials were corrupt and all city government officials were made to resign. The city was now "cleaned up" and the yearly expenses were reduced about 50 per cent. The other 50 per cent was pure graft. This "heroic" lesson was not forgotten for nearly half a century, when the Ruef gang got control. They, too, were ousted by a system of "dry cleaning." Los Angeles has two good precedents—the better one being that of the great upheaval of 1856.

After this "reformation" a protective law was passed by the Legislature prohibiting any convict of another State from entering California; also, a law prohibiting the Governor from restoring citizenship to any pardoned convict. The officers claimed that it was impossible to enforce the first law, as criminals came in under assumed names, though the migration to this State was not very large at that time. And as for the second law, the governors ignored it and restored the burglar, highwayman and murderer to full citizenship, equal rights with the best men in the State.

There was a futile movement to make a trial jury consist of an odd number and giving a majority the right to return a verdict. It was held that the majority ruled in almost every deliberative body; also, that this would reduce the number of trials and expenses, as there would never be a "hung" jury, and no doubt more murderers would be hung. It was also held that it would reduce "jury fixing" to a minimum, as it would be more difficult and expensive to bribe several jurors than one. But the measure was defeated by the lawyer members of the Legislature.

The second trial of a case usually costs about half as much as the first trial. For example: Say a murder trial costs $10,000. There is a "hung" jury, a lone juror standing out for acquittal. The result is another trial, at a cost of about $5000. Another "hung" jury," and another trial, and another $5000 gone. Had there been a majority-verdict law the defendant would have been convicted at the first trial and the other two trials would have been avoided and $10,000 saved. Our legislators might do a little deep thinking and so amend this antiquated law and thus decrease crime, for with increased chances of conviction the criminal would no doubt hesitate before committing the crime.

In the first half of the last century some of the Southern States made banditry a capital crime. Telegraph lines were few and the bandit could travel as fast as the officer. So, it was decided that when the bandit was overtaken his career would be cut short. In some Southern States the housebreaker was put in the stocks and flogged and sometimes branded, after the manner of England in the good old days and the so-called "Blue Laws" of some of the New England colonies. These are good examples and such good laws would soon put an end to the Al Capones and their followers and imitators.

JUDGE ELIAS V. ROSENKRANZ

We long in vain to drink our fill
Of a voice that is forever still,
We shed our deep regretful tears—
How short, how sweet his numbered years.

The trail is ended—he is gone,
But memory shall carry on,
Imprinted deep—an open page,
No finer life if thrice his age.

Thus God in all His wisdom gives
To you, to me, to him who lives,
A lesson that today is mine
To build a monument as fine.

So when He beckons through the door
To close my eyes forevermore,
I'll leave for those who know me true
A book like his whose work is through.

Pair Overcome by Gas Saved by Inhaltor's Use

Working for three hours without pause members of Rescue Squad No. 1 of the fire department in charge of Capt. Blake and Dr. S. W. Luban of 1205 West Jefferson street, with the aid of an inhalator, yesterday saved the lives of a man and woman overcome by deadly monoxide gas in a rooming-house at 1060 West Thirty-fourth street.

The victims were Mrs. Mary Lowrey, 60 years of age, and S. W. Blake, 62. They were found by other roomers lying unconscious in the kitchen. A gas range and water heater were turned on and all of the doors and windows were tightly closed.

Capt. Blake's squad responded, and at the end of the three hours the victims were reported out of danger.

Air-Minded, but Not Heir-Minded Brings Divorce

One birdman didn't want fledglings or a nest, complained his mate, Mrs. Dorothy E. Ash, yesterday when she asked Superior Judge Scott for a divorce from Harry P. Ash, pilot of William Gibbs McAdoo's private airplane. Mrs. Ash said her aviator didn't want to be tied down to any one spot on earth, and that he was not heir-minded.

Floronda Viosca, a stenographer for an oil company where Mrs. Ash works, testified that the wife cried in the office because she couldn't have children. Judge Scott granted Mrs. Ash a divorce and permission to resume her maiden name of Dorothy Elinor Miller.

DISCIPLE OF BARD WINS NEW TRIAL

Court Reverses Light's Conviction on Charges Brought by Actress

Prince Alexander Light, whose Shakespearean revival with local talent failed to be a box-office riot, yesterday was granted a new trial by the Appellate Department of the Superior Court, which reversed his conviction in the Municipal Court on charge of petty theft. He had been sentenced to serve ninety days in jail when convicted by a jury in Municipal Judge Bogue's court on the complaint of an aspiring actress that she paid him for a dramatic course and for costumes. She was to have been repaid from the play's profits.

Superior Judge Bishop wrote the opinion and Judges McLucas and Tappaan concurred. The opinion sets forth that the trial evidence fails to meet the requirements of the law defining petty theft.

Attorney Frank McCarthy represented Light and Deputy City Prosecutor Bland the city.

Clara Fogelsong accused Light of accepting $162.50. She was to fence in velveteen knickers. The show at a leading hotel was a flop.

TREE CUTTING SOUGHT

G. W. Smith yesterday filed a letter with the City Council asking that trees and brush in the river bed between Dayton avenue and Los Feliz Boulevard be cut down. The suggestion was referred by the City Council to the City Engineer.

BABY BOTTLES PLAN EXPLAINED

Plaintiffs Against Girnau Present Evidence

Catch-Penny Milk Fund Charity Defended

Mayor and Police Chief Will Testify

Operation of a "Baby Milk Fund," as promoted by Carlin G. Smith, former candidate for Mayor, and Charles W. Burke, private detective, was explained before a jury in the court of Municipal Judge Bogue yesterday, where Fredric H. Girnau, publisher of a political pamphlet, is on trial for criminal libel.

Smith and Burke charge that Girnau in his publication described their promotion as a "milk-fund racket," and that in the article he published false information regarding what they term a charity proposition seeking funds to purchase milk for poor children.

PASSES BOTTLES

Witnesses heard yesterday included the chief complainting witness Smith, who declared that he devised the plan and outlined the methods; Mrs. Josephine Ridgeway, who distributed a number of milk bottles and cans, and collected the cash as deposited by donors to the cause, and Charles W. Burke, Jr., son of the detective.

Young Burke, who testified that he is now a private detective, but was formerly employed by Mayor Porter as a special investigator, told the jury that he was the first distributor of the bottles and cans and that they were placed to "catch a few pennies to buy milk for poor children." He testified that some 1000 to 1200 of the penny receptacles were distributed at advantageous stores and business houses on the principal business streets, avenues and boulevards, and that he also acted as collector. Burke made it plain to the jury that he did none of this work while he was employed as an investigator for the Mayor, which included a period from January 15 to August 4, this year.

GETS SURPRISE

The witness caused comment from the court and amusement to the spectators when he testified that he didn't know that he himself was and is a director in the corporation. He was shown the articles of incorporation of the Carlin G. Smith Community and Recreation Center Corporation, under which the milk fund scheme operated, and appeared surprised that his name was listed as one of the directors. He admitted that he had signed "some paper," and it turned out that this paper was the corporation agreement.

Presentation of the contentions of the prosecution will be completed Monday when the court reconvenes, according to Deputy City Prosecutor Lindley, and the defense has under subpoena Mayor Porter, Chief of Police Steckel, members of the Police Commission and Rev. R. P. Shuler. These witnesses, according to Girnau's attorney, Paul Hornaday, will be used to substantiate the charges as published in the article under question.

Evangelist Fails to Reveal Plans

Officials at Angelus Temple yesterday were uninformed as to the destination of Aimee Semple McPherson and party, following their checking out of a New York hotel without leaving a forwarding address. At the office of F. C. Winters, Angelus Temple business manager and a member of the McPherson party, it was stated no message has been received either from Mr. Winters or Mrs. McPherson as to the date of arrival in Los Angeles.

Mrs. McPherson recently returned to New York from a voyage in the Caribbean Sea, following several weeks sojourn in the New Hampshire mountains. It was announced by Winters that the party would leave for the Pacific Coast as soon as Mrs. McPherson felt able to travel.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DEPRIVATIONS ARE NATURAL AND EFFECTIVE PUNISHMENTS

From the frequent reiteration that I consider spanking and slapping ineffective punishments, some hasty readers have drawn the erroneous conclusion that I am opposed to punishments. Far from it. I do not think that the child should be allowed to follow his own sweet will. Children learn by their mistakes if their mistakes have a natural or artificial penalty. They learn nothing if their mistakes go unpunished. I take exception not to punishment but to its form.

DISCIPLINING BABY

In the adult world we have outgrown the whipping post as a means of punishment, and it is time we were progressing to the abolition of physically painful punishments in the home. We teach the baby in various ways that some of the things he does are undesirable and are not to be repeated. We do this by repeatedly taking him away from a situation until he understands that he cannot continue his acts in that situation. If we cannot remove the situation or the baby, we remove the object of his interest again and again until he has learned that the accomplishment of his aims is impossible.

PUNISHMENT BY DISAPPROVAL

Even the young baby is able to understand disapproval, and since approval is one of the motivations of human conduct, disapproval is a powerful deterrent of misbehavoir. Baby is heartbroken when his mother shows that she is hurt by his actions. If the child is old enough to be sent away from the room, he goes away howling dismally and is eager to come back and start being a good boy. By disapproval he learns that his behavior has been asocial and he endeavors to improve it.

If a child is unmoved by such a simple punishment, it is either because of more violent ones to which he has hardened himself, or because the mother is aiming for an impossible goal. A mother cannot expect a child to obey the commands which prevent his every act. There are homes in which the baby cannot move without being told, "Mustn't touch," "Go-away," "No, no!" resulting in a state of such absolute inactivity that the child is driven to disobedience in his effort to live and learn.

ACTIVITY IMPORTANT

The child has to touch and smell and handle and bite and climb and scream and do many things which annoy his elders. To refuse a child the right to all activity is to make him insensible to reasonable, necessary inhibitions. The answer is to give him as much activity as is possible, and then make him toe the mark when the taboo is one that must be enforced.

The older child is far more severely punished by deprivations than spankings. He suffers when refused permission to play for a day with his chum; he suffers when mother will not read to him from his favorite bedtime book; he suffers when father takes John to the woods but is compelled to leave him behind. These are honest, dignified and just punishments, because they are understood and not resented.

Health and Diet Advice

DO YOUR OWN FACE-LIFTING

A face-lifting operation is often resorted to by those who wish to conceal the effects of age. In this type of operation a portion of the skin or underlying tissue is removed near the eyes, forehead, ears or jaws, and the remaining skin is then drawn together, stretching it and smoothing out any near-by wrinkles. The results which can be achieved by beauty surgeons are sometimes astounding, at least, temporarily.

The chief defects in this face-lifting operation lie in the facts that all people's skin does not react the same; those who perform the operations are not always skillful; and since the skin is not given more life by the operation, the sagging and crows' feet often recur in time. Sometimes, also, the effect is to give the face a strained, drawn appearance, with the eyes slanting upward at the corners.

I do not say that a face-lifting operation should never be resorted to, but I do believe that it would be a better plan for those with wrinkles to try to tone up the skin and improve the appearance by natural methods which are much more permanent, and the effect is never strained, but natural.

Almost anyone past middle age can look much younger by applying a few simple methods for improving the tone of the skin, developing the underlying muscles, and removing the surplus fatty deposits. Wrinkles are formed because of regular creases where the skin folds and shuts off the local blood supply. The blood, too, with the advancing years, does not seem to be as nourishing to the skin, nor does it remove the toxins of the tissues as readily as they are formed. Often, toxic deposits actually form under the skin.

One who is trying to do his own face-lifting should first endeavor to cleanse the blood stream of accumulated impurities which may be clogging the circulation or poisoning the tissues. Nothing is quite as effective for this purpose as a short fruit juice fast accompanied by drinking large quantities of water to flush out the system. After about five days of this regime a well-balanced diet, rich in all of the nourishing elements required by the body, should be used. During this time it is a good plan to exercise the muscles of the face and neck, for there is no method of improving the circulation as well as by exercise. The muscles can also be built up to produce a smoother outline.

Another good method of improving circulation is to apply hot applications to the skin morning and evening after the exercises. This should then be followed with an ice rub or washing in very cold water. Wrinkles can then be rubbed lengthwise with a clean toothbrush which has been dipped in sweet almond oil.

Do your facial exercises in front of a mirror and you can undoubtedly discover just what muscles need to be exercised the most. Try to make your face expressive. Some people laugh only with their lips, others only with the eyes, but you should learn to laugh with both. Looking on the bright side of things is a constructive mental habit which will improve the appearance of the face. A person whose mind is upset, and who is gloomy and anxious, looks as though a smile would crack his face.

Watch how your cheeks become rounded out when you smile or laugh. Laughing is nature's way of giving you a face-lifting treatment. Laughing is a splendid tonic. It youthifies the face as well.

BLACKY THE CROW GUESSES THE TRUTH

Seek and you will find each day
Knowledge all along the way.
—Blacky the Crow.

Of all the people in the Green Forest none is smarter than Blacky the Crow. Indeed, few are as smart. Certainly among the feathered folk none is his equal. The reason is that Blacky is always ready to learn. He is smart enough to know that he doesn't know it all; that something is to be learned every day even by the wisest and the most clever.

Blacky had taken no part in the excited search for the unseen singer in the Green Forest. From the top of a pine tree he had watched all that went on. At first he had been quite as much puzzled as any one by that strange song. He noticed at once that Peter Rabbit didn't seem at all curious about it, but appeared to be enjoying the perplexity of the others.

"Peter was right when he said he had heard a strange song over here, and now he has found out who the singer is," thought Blacky. "He got us all over here so as to laugh at us. I notice that scamp, Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, disappears about the same time that song is heard and that it seems to come from near where he disappears. It seems to me that when I first started out in the Great World my mother told me something about Whitefoot's family. Let us think. Let me think."

Blacky didn't have to think long. It suddenly came to him that he had heard that a Wood Mouse sometimes sings. Never having heard one sing he had forgotten all about it until now. Blacky's eyes twinkled. He said nothing but kept his eyes on Whitefoot. Presently Whitefoot disappeared in the hollow top of the old stump when the others were looking elsewhere. At once that song was heard again and Blacky knew that it came from the top of that stump. The others thought so too, at first, but when they discovered no one there but Whitefoot they decided they were mistaken and began looking elsewhere.

Blacky flew over and alighted on the ground near Peter Rabbit. "You win, Peter, said he. "They say that he who laughs last laughs best, so I guess the best laugh is yours. You were right when you said you heard a song in the night, but you were wrong when you said the singer was one of the feathered folk. I know who your singer was that night and who your singer is this morning."

"Who?" demanded Sammy Jay, who came along just in time to overhear this last remark.

"Whitefoot the Wood Mouse," replied Blacky.

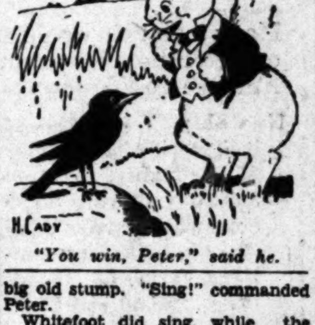
Sammy stared at Blacky for a moment. Then he began to laugh. "Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Sammy. "Whoever heard of a Mouse singing?"

"I have," replied Blacky. "I heard it a long time ago, when I was young, but never half-believed it."

"And I for one don't believe it now," interrupted Sammy Jay.

"Just the same Blacky is right," spoke up Peter Rabbit. "Whitefoot is the one who has been doing the mysterious singing. If you don't believe it he'll prove it to you."

Peter thumped. At once Whitefoot popped up on the edge of the big old stump. "Sing!" commanded Peter.



"You win, Peter," said he.

Whitefoot did sing, while the feathered folk gathered around and looked very much as if they still doubted what they heard and saw. "Why haven't we known before this that you can sing?" demanded Sammy Jay.

"Because I seldom do sing and you have never happened to be around when I have been singing," replied Whitefoot.

"We've all learned something," declared Blacky. "I've learned that it doesn't do to tease people unless you know you know all the facts. The rest of you have learned that it isn't necessary to wear feathers in order to be a singer. All of us have learned that much as we may know we can learn more each day. Now I'm going to get my breakfast."

THE DAILY SACRIFICE

It's an everlasting shame the way fine lingerie and stockings are often washed in scalding water. Usually the reason is that women think they can't get them clean any other way.

Change to White King! Made from fine vegetable and nut oils, White King Granulated Soap will form quick, creamy suds, will cleanse thoroughly, and will swiftly rinse away in the lukewarm water that preserves the life and color of delicate fabrics. White King is pure. That's the reason. And the same purity makes it effective for dishes and heavy washing too.

White King is economical. You'll only need a teaspoonful in the wash basin, a cupful in the washing machine, even in hard water. Try it—today. Recommended by your grocer.

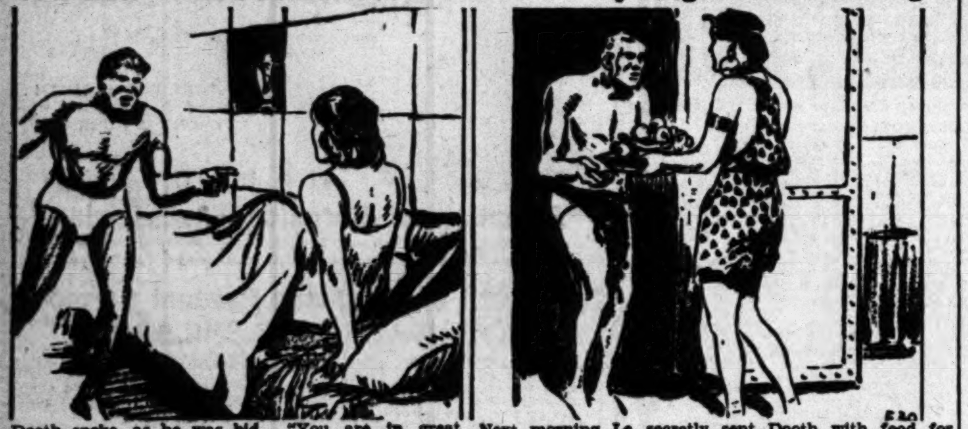
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Dooth spoke, as he was bid. "You are in great danger, O High One. Many of us know of your love for this strange ape-man, and there are those who plot against you. Even at this moment Cadj and Oah and others plan your undoing. Spies are set to watch you, knowing you would liberate the ape-man. In but one way may you save yourself, La of Opar!" "And what is that way?" she asked. "You must, with your own hands, upon the altar of our temple sacrifice the ape-man to the Flaming God!"

Next morning La secretly sent Dooth with food for Tarzan. After hearing the details of the plot against her, the High Priestess made her decision—and her plans. In line with Dooth's warning, there soon came to the apartments of the queen a young priestess who was the sister of Oah. Even before she had spoken, La knew she was an emissary of Cadj. And that the treachery of which Dooth had warned her was already under way. The girl was abashed in the presence of the High Priestess, and it was some time before she could speak her instructions.

Then, as she had been instructed to say by Cadj and Oah, the girl swore she had overheard these two declare they would be glad if the ape-man escaped. "I thought," she concluded, "that La, the queen, would be glad to know this, since it is plain to all of us that La does not wish to sacrifice the ape-man upon the altar." "My duty is clear," replied La in a haughty voice. "I need not Cadj or any priestess to describe it to me. No other hand than mine shall offer this man's blood to the Flaming God. Upon the third day he shall die. La has spoken! Go!"

The effect of these words upon the girl were just what La had anticipated. Disappointment and chagrin were written on the face of Cadj's messenger. When she had left the presence of the High Priestess, La could scarcely restrain a smile. She had no intention of sacrificing Tarzan, but this, of course, the sister of Oah did not know. So she returned to Cadj and repeated all that La had said. The High Priest in his turn was filled with angry disappointment. And Oah, who was present, raged up and down, furious at the failure of this plot to trap La.

SUING FATHER JUST ISN'T DONE

Court Declines to Consider Action Brought by Child to Collect Damages

Reaffirming his opinion that a minor child has no legal right to sue a parent for personal injury damages, Superior Judge Burnell yesterday denied a motion for a new trial in the suit of Mary Jeanne Lambert, 13 years of age, against Howard J. Lambert, her father, and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Zalabak.

The young girl sued through her mother as guardian, seeking $10,000 damages for injuries received in an automobile accident June 8, 1928. Trial brought out that Lambert swerved his car off the road and against a bank in avoiding Zalabak's automobile, which the father thought was going to collide with his.

The suit against Zalabak was won by the defendant in trial.

Narcotic Squad Rounds Up Two More Suspects

Two additional gang round-up arrests were made late yesterday, according to Detective Captain Chitwood of the police narcotic detail. The prisoners are asserted to be members of a "error band" of kidnapers who came to Los Angeles several weeks ago. Twelve men and a woman have been in custody since Thursday, last. All the prisoners have been booked at Central Police Station on charges of violating the State Narcotic Act.

Today at 11 a.m. the fifteen prisoners will be exhibited at a public showing at Central Station, Capt. Chitwood announced yesterday, adding that he is convinced victims of recent robberies can identity many of the prisoners.

COAST GUARD TO HAVE NEW CHIEF

Commander M. S. Hay Will Take Southern Base

Relieves R. C. Weightman of Duties in January

Old Craft Algonquin to Make Last Sail Tomorrow

BY WALDO DRAKE

Appointment of Commander Muller S. Hay, now commanding the cutter Algonquin, to command Coast Guard Section Base 17, at San Pedro, and all Coast Guard activities in Southern California, was announced yesterday. He will relieve Commander Roger C. Weightman in mid-January.

Commander Hay will tomorrow morning take the Algonquin out of Los Angeles Harbor on her farewell voyage, she being bound for Oakland, where she will be decommissioned after thirty-two years of duty, during which she saw active service in both the war with Spain and the World War. Until her transfer to the California station two years ago, the Algonquin had several years' adventurous service in the North Pacific and on the Bering Sea patrol.

It was indicated yesterday that the Algonquin will probably be replaced here by the new 250-foot turbo-electric cutter Shoshone, scheduled to be commissioned next month at the Oakland yards of the General Engineering and Dry Dock Company. Her captain will be Capt. Leon C. Covell, formerly commandant of the local base, and now commanding the U.S.S. Tahoe, on California coast patrol.

Yesterday the brand-new Coast Guard cutter Saranac, directly preceding the Shoshone in completion at the General yards, arrived from Oakland on her maiden voyage. In command of Commander L. T. Chalker, she will depart Los Angeles Harbor next Monday for a station at Galveston, Tex. Like the Shoshone, she is 250 feet in length and is powered with 3000-horsepower Westinghouse steam turbines, electric generators and motors, giving her a top cruising speed of nineteen knots.

NEW SUPPORT FOR BREAKWATER PLANS

Both Senator Shortridge and Representative Evans will support the campaign to include a $2,000,000 appropriation for immediate start on the local breakwater project in the $100,000,000 deficiency bill to come before Congress next month, it was announced yesterday by the Harbor Department following a conference between the two national legislators and Chairman Walter B. Allen of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and Harbor Engineer George F. Nicholson.

Senator Shortridge said he feels that the new $7,000,000 breakwater should have front rank among national rivers and harbors projects and that he will urge appropriation of $2,000,000 as the minimum amount necessary to put the work in full swing.

General Steamship Corporation terminals yesterday began a busy period with three offshore departures during the day. They included the French Line freighter Nevada, out last night with 1000 tons of Los Angeles products for Le Havre and Bordeaux; the Japanese "K" liner Bordeaux Maru, in with several hundred tons of local freight from Yokohama and out last night for Portland, and the British motorship Silvercedar, of the Kerr Line, out for the Dutch East Indies yesterday after loading 1000 tons of case-oil products.

Today, the Westfal-Larsen liner Villanger will sail for Buenos Aires and way ports with California cargo and passengers. Monday, the Italian liner Cellina of the Navigazione Libera Triestina, will sail for Mediterranean ports and the same evening the Swedish motorship Eknaren will come in from the north to load out 4000 tons of petroleum products for Australia.

Lassco-Matson Line's combined passenger schedule for Los Angeles-Honolulu service, published yesterday, provides for twenty-nine sailings during the next seven months. During the same period there will be forty-eight departures from San Francisco for the islands, some of which will be via this port.

The express liner Malolo, to make her first departure from this port on January 10, next, will sail again from Los Angeles Harbor on March 7, and thereafter on April 4, May 2, May 30, and June 27.

Storms developing off Pescadero Point frustrated Merritt, Chapman and Scott's efforts yesterday to refloat the Richfield tanker Tamiahua, ashore there since the 6th inst. Engine and fire rooms which had been cleared of water had to be reflooded when the storm came up to keep the ship from working on the rocks. Everything was in readiness for refloating the ship except the fixing of three beach gears, prevented by the weather.

As soon as the storm subsides eight air compressors will start forcing water from the tanks, which will be empty by high tide, ready for the pull into deep water by use of three wire cables fixed to anchors at sea. The tugs Peacock and Homer still are on the scene.

Kris Kringle will make a sally into the Antarctic this year to deliver good things to hardy Norwegians. Sixty-five bags of Christmas mail are aboard the new Norwegian tanker G. C. Brovig, due here today, to load 7000 tons of fuel oil for whaling vessels in Ross Sea. Ten more bags of mail arrived overland yesterday at the offices of Gunnar Sconhoft, agent, to be picked up by the tanker. Several other boxes are expected here before the vessel sails. The mail is for the whaling factory tankers N.T. Nielsen-Alonzo, the Sir James Clark Ross and the Kosmos, the latter two having visited here two months ago.

Seventy of the crew of the Coast Guard cutter Algonquin here in port, were quarantined a few hours and later released yesterday, following discovery of a case of spinal meningitis. The patient, Robert Watts of 416 Neptune avenue, Wilmington, a seaman on the cutter, was removed to the marine ward of the San Pedro General Hospital.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Rough seas again prevented salvagers from attempting to pull the grounded tanker Tamiahua from her rock-bottom bed near Pigeon Point at high tide today.

When the weather moderates they plan to pump the water out of the vessel by means of compressed air and, with the aid of several tugs, pull her out to deep water. If the attempt is successful the tanker will be towed to San Francisco for repairs. Pigeon Point is about fifty miles south of here.

Word was received at the local office of the United States Lines today that the keel of a 30,000-ton liner for North Atlantic service will be laid at Camden (N. J.) on December 4, next.

When completed, the vessel will run on a five-day passage between New York and London. She will be 705 feet long, with a capacity of 1300 passengers.

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—Carrying one of the largest cargoes lifted on Puget Sound for the east coast, including the unusual consignment of 21,000 cases of canned crab from Siberia, the American-Hawaiian carrier Mexican sailed today for New York, Philadelphia and Boston. The ship is carrying 8000 tons, stowed for the most part in Seattle and Tacoma.

Open rates on flour to Shanghai and North China were declared at a meeting of the Pacific Westbound Conference, just completed at Vancouver, B. C. Rates are expected to drop from $4.50 to $4.

The British ships Canonesa and Pacific Grove, the Italian ship Edda and German ships Bitterfeld and Schwaben, in port here today, will load a total of 441,000 boxes of apples and pears on the Pacific Coast.

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 21.—Samuel B. Howell, of the port facilities division of the United States Shipping Board, arrived here today to begin a survey of port facilities at Portland, Vancouver, Wash., Longview and Astoria.

Howell said the study actually will be a resurvey, because a similar survey was made and published in 1923-24 and the present survey will bring that report up to date. The work is conducted by the Shipping Board and the War Department.

This is the first time, however, the port of Longview will be included in the work. The primary reason for the survey, Howell said, is to furnish dependable information for shippers.

TACOMA, Nov. 21.—The lighthouse tender Heather put in at a pier here today with a disabled steering apparatus. The vessel was working on the installation of a new light at Point Evans when the breakdown occurred.

The McCormick liner West Notus, in the east coast of South America to Puget Sound service, arrived here today with 500 tons of Argentine corn. Other arrivals Friday included the coasters Santa Inez, Port Angeles and Cricket.

Here's news concerning future drilling operations of this giant oil company on properties of the

J. B. RANSOM CORPORATION

Developers of the new EAST SIDE of Los Angeles—the "white spot" of the country—where real estate history is being made.

Digest These Unvarnished Facts!

The Texas Company, after geological investigation, believes there are possibilities for an oil field extending under several of the Ransom properties. They are backing up their judgment with an immediate drilling program.

We are in the real estate business and intend to remain so.

Our prices for fully developed property are low—right in step with present times and conditions. THESE PRICES WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED.

BUT now we can offer our clients an opportunity to purchase real estate and PARTICIPATE LIBERALLY NOT ONLY IN ASSURED REAL ESTATE PROFITS, BUT IN ANY POTENTIAL OIL PRODUCTION.

Actual Drilling Scheduled To Start Within 30 Days!

STANDARD OIL COMPANY HAS A PRODUCING WELL WITHIN A FEW HUNDRED FEET FROM THE TEXACO LEASE.

Nothing like this has ever before been offered to the public. We sell nothing but real estate—NOT UNITS OR PERCENTS—BUT A TWO-WAY, SURE-FIRE PROFIT OPPORTUNITY

It offers today's outstanding opportunity to salespeople—real honest-to-goodness salespeople who will find that the truth is good enough.

Job Hunted for Man Who Tried to Dodge Crime

James C. Bryant, who last Thursday night asked to be locked up in the County Jail as a parole violator from Illinois, yesterday afternoon was free while the contact office of the Sheriff sought to find him a means of making a legitimate livelihood.

Bryant was placed in the County Jail after he had appeared at the office and stated he had violated his parole in Illinois and because of his lack of finances was afraid he would resort to some unlawful act, according to Capt. Heine of the fugitive detail. The man, who is 37 years of age, had not eaten a warm meal in twenty-four hours and was in possession of only 5 cents when taken in custody, the officer said.

Release of Bryant was ordered when word was received from the penitentiary at Menard, Ill., where he served a term for forgery, that authorities there would not send for him, Heine said.
